Job Corps
A life-changing decision.

With hard work and dedication, Job Corps can help you learn skills that will put you on track for a good career and a better life.

In the following pages, you’ll find:
- How the Job Corps admissions process works.
- What it is like to LIVE at Job Corps.
- How you will LEARN the necessary academic skills for your chosen career path.
- What it is like to TRAIN for your career at Job Corps.
- How Job Corps helps you CONNECT with graduates and employers after you complete the program.
- And much more!

You will also see answers to lots of questions and tips throughout the booklet. All of the people featured on these pages are actual Job Corps students, graduates, or staff members.

The Job Corps basics:
- Offers hands-on career training and education to prepare you for a good job.
- Serves ages 16 through 24.
- Has 125 locations across the country.
- Takes pride in its diverse student population and welcomes all young people who qualify.
- Is a U.S. Department of Labor program.
- Offers free training and education to income-eligible young people.
- Helps you change your life!

So, what do I learn at Job Corps?
“My students learn more than just their trade here. They learn life skills: how to speak, how to get a job, and how to keep a job.”

Roy, Job Corps
Carpentry instructor

You’ve made up your mind. You’re ready for a change.

Take your first step: Apply for Job Corps.

You may be eligible for Job Corps if you:

- Are a legal U.S. resident; lawfully admitted permanent resident alien, refugee, asylee, or parolee, or other immigrant who has been authorized by the U.S. attorney general to work in the United States; or resident of a U.S. territory
- Meet low-income criteria
- Are in need of additional technical training, education, counseling, or related assistance to complete schoolwork or to find and keep a job
- Have a signed consent form from a parent or guardian if you are a minor
- Have a child care plan if you are a parent of a dependent child
- Do not exhibit behavioral problems that could keep you or others from experiencing Job Corps’ full benefits
- Do not require any face-to-face court or institutional supervision or court-imposed fines while enrolled in Job Corps
- Do not use drugs illegally

And don’t forget:
Enrolling in Job Corps will require you to provide certain documentation and forms. Your admissions counselor will be able to tell you what you need. Expect some paperwork and for the process to take time.

Good news! You are eligible.
Now you will work with your admissions counselor to determine your career interests and goals and to select a center (most often the one closest to you) that offers training in that field.

What is Job Corps really like?
“Job Corps is a place where you work hard; but at the end of the day, you have your friends and social life, too.”
— Selena, Job Corps student, Clinical Medical Assistant career area
You have been accepted!
There may be a waiting period before you can enroll. Stay in touch with your admissions counselor, and get in the right frame of mind for beginning your time at Job Corps. Focus on your goals and where you want to go in life. Remember: This process is part of making your goals a reality.

Get organized for your move.
Job Corps will give you the clothing you need for your training. It will also provide sheets, towels, food, and other necessities. More on that in the LIVE section of this booklet.

Here is what you should pack:
- Personal photos and inexpensive mementos. Having things with you that make you feel at home could help with your adjustment when you arrive.
- Your personal toiletries, like shampoo, conditioner, toothpaste, toothbrush, and deodorant.
- Books and magazines you enjoy reading.
- Your cellphone. (Landline phones are available if you don't have a cellphone.)
- Personal clothes for when you aren’t training in your career area or in class. Each center has a different dress code, so check with your admissions counselor about what you should and should not bring.

Here is what you should leave at home:
- Any clothing with inappropriate images or language.
- Expensive jewelry or electronics, such as televisions or laptops.

INDEPENDENT LIVING
In order to live on your own as a working adult, you’ll need to learn how to manage lots of responsibilities. Job Corps will help you learn real-world skills, including budgeting, paying bills, finding transportation to work, and securing child care.

Before you finish your training, you’ll be assigned a career transition counselor who will put you in touch with helpful community resources that provide these and many other services. Be sure to stay in contact with your counselor after you’ve graduated … you’ll be glad you did!

You’re here.
Now that you are at your Job Corps center, most of your daily activities can be broken down into these four categories:

• TRAIN in your career area.
• LIVE on center and make new friends.
• LEARN the necessary academic skills to be successful in your career training area.
• CONNECT with resources to help you before and after you graduate.

When you first arrive on center, you’ll spend time:
• Participating in a multiweek orientation and Career Preparation Period so you can learn how life at Job Corps will work.
• Working with instructors to determine where you are in terms of classroom learning.
• Studying to boost your academic skills or earn your high school diploma or the equivalent.
• Getting to know your roommates.

JC TIP:
“My advice to future students is stick to your goal, don’t give up, and keep pushing.”
– Rondale, Job Corps student, Welding career area

TRAIN

At Job Corps, you will receive hands-on training in the career area you select. That means you’ll be getting a lot of practical experience. If you want to pursue a career in painting, expect to have a paintbrush in your hand for much of your training. If your goal is a career in culinary arts, be prepared to spend a lot of time in the kitchen.

That said, you should also prepare to spend time with a textbook. Each training area, from computers to cars, from nursing to construction, requires you to learn about the ins and outs of your future career, including rules, regulations, and best practices that you will find only by hitting the books.

At Job Corps, work-based learning is part of every training area so you can learn from a real employer in your field. It’s an on-the-job experience designed to get you workforce-ready.

LIVE

At Job Corps, everything you need is provided for you right on center. That includes:

- Food
- Clothing for your career training and your center uniform
- A place to sleep
- Everything you need for your studies
- Recreational activities
- A place to work out
- Basic medical care
- Access to phones and computers

Life on Center

While you are at Job Corps, you will most likely live in a dorm on campus. You’ll have one to seven roommates and share a bathroom. Sometimes having roommates is a difficult adjustment; but over time, most Job Corps roommates become good friends.

You’ll be working hard during your time at Job Corps, but every center has activities available during your free time. Here’s more about what your Job Corps center will offer:

- Career Training and Education. The reason you came to Job Corps, right?
- Career Counseling. Find your path to a successful future with help along the way.
- Leadership Opportunities. Build your resume while being involved on campus.
- Community Service. Gain career skills while giving back to your community.
- Recreation. Find an activity that’s right for you, from sports to movies, from arts and crafts to healthy-living clubs.
- Friendships. Support your peers, and they’ll help you reach your goals.
- A Safe Environment. Job Corps has zero tolerance for drugs and violence.

Dorm Life

Your dorm is your home away from home and has all the amenities you need. Here’s what you will find in most dorms or on center:

- Lounges for watching TV and spending time with your friends
- Vending machines or student stores
- Laundry facilities
- Recreation programs including activities on and off center

Everyone is tasked with keeping the dorms neat and clean, so expect to have chores and responsibilities in your dorm.

LEARN

It’s a fact.

You won’t be successful in your career without basic education and knowledge.

Sure, spending time in your career training is usually more fun; but you’ll be more successful on the job with the right academic foundation.

For instance, how can you work in carpentry if you don’t understand the basics of math?

How can you be successful as a pharmacy technician without background knowledge about science?

You get our point.

While you are at Job Corps, you can earn your high school diploma or the equivalent if you don’t already have it. If there are subjects that may have seemed hard in the past, you can also take advantage of tutoring in several areas:

• English Language Learning
• Math
• Reading
• Science
• Writing

At Job Corps, we want to help you prepare for your career in every way, and that goes beyond the classroom and your training area.

Being successful in your career will require other skills, too. You’ll need to learn how to:

• Dress appropriately for your job.
• Be on time.
• Solve problems.
• Live independently.
• Resolve conflicts.
• Communicate with your boss and your co-workers.
• Make good decisions on the job.
• And much more.

Job Corps is designed to help you learn what life is going to be like outside of the program. That’s one reason the environment at Job Corps is very structured—there are also structure and rules in the workplace.

Do you see college in your future?

You’re in the right place.

Many Job Corps centers partner with community colleges, so you can take classes and earn college credit while you are in the Job Corps program.

CONNECT
With employers.
With instructors.
With Job Corps.
Even after graduation.

You've earned your credentials, tossed your graduation hat in the air, and left Job Corps. But the program is still there for you even as a graduate.

Job Corps will help you improve your resume and do what it takes to get you started on the right foot in your career.

That includes connecting you with:
• Career opportunities
• Housing and transportation options
• Child care services

Job Corps has put these support measures in place to help you make a smooth transition to independent living.

JC TIP:
“Job Corps is hard, emotionally and physically; but it’s worth it if you stick to it. It’s important to be 100 percent committed when you come here, because you’ll only get out of it what you put into it. If you come here with an open mind, ready to work and learn, it can change your life.”
– Hanalora, Job Corps student, Culinary Arts career area

Where is Job Corps?

Most Job Corps students live on campus at one of 125 Job Corps centers across the United States and in Puerto Rico. When you enroll in Job Corps, you will likely be assigned to the center closest to your home or one in your home state. In some instances, your Job Corps center may have a nonresidential option that would allow you to live at home during your training.

Take a look at the map below to learn more about where Job Corps centers are located across the country.

JC TIP:

“Be sure to get to know the Job Corps staff. My relationship with the staff and instructors here on center has been positive. They’ve had my back since I’ve been here, and I’ve shown them that I’m a hard worker, that I’m ready to do what it takes to succeed.”

– Riante, Job Corps student, Carpentry career area
How will Job Corps prepare me for the workforce?

“At Job Corps, I learned how to be the best employee I can be, how to work well with co-workers and managers, not to take anything for granted, and most importantly, to take pride in everything I do.”

– Zachary, Job Corps graduate, Cement Masonry career area
