Chapter 1:

What's Behind Crystal Healing

Synopsis

Crystal healing is a sort of healing that utilizes crystals or gemstones. The crystals are primarily placed on particular areas of the body named "chakras."

Chakra is a Hindu term implying spiritual energy. According to that teaching there are 7 general energy centers in the body, every one featuring a color affiliated with it.

A Little Beginning Info

A few crystal healers lay the same color crystals as the color of the chakras on the individual to heighten the flow of energy. Crystals are stated to guide the flow of energy to the individual in a certain part of the body and bring in balance to an individuals energy.

Ultimately, they're utilized to clean the individual from foul or damaging energy believed to induce a sickness. Driving out the defective spiritual energy eases the physical ailment. Crystals are utilized for physical, mental, emotional and spiritual healing.

Not only do individuals visit "crystal healers", in a few places, professional nurses are getting trained to utilize crystals for their patients. In addition, crystals may be worn, placed next to an individuals bed as they sleep, and in a few cases placed around an individuals bath.

The conceiver of crystal healing is nameless. All the same, this practice has been around for hundreds of years. Individuals have utilized amulets, magical stones, and gems all through history (although primarily in the eastern cultures). It's now making its way into the western culture, principally in the New Age and Occult causes.

Crystal healers contend that it really works; all the same, there's no concrete scientific evidence to establish that it really heals. Individuals state they've been healed and feel better, however these cases are broadly limited to personal testimonies.

A lot of the scientific world has brushed these testimonials off as a placebo effect, selective thinking, aspirant thinking, sympathetic magic, or communal reinforcement.

Crystal healers generally prefer clear quartz, because of its shape and color. All the same, as chakras have colors associated with every area, they might place the particular color crystal/gemstone on the same color chakras.

The crystals/gemstones are stated to have vibration frequencies that are shape stimulated, interconnecting the earth's and the persons energy field. The crystal is utilized to expand, or realign, human 'psychic' or cosmic energy by guiding vibration energy.

To maintain the crystal, it's laid in salt water or covered with table salt. Sustaining the crystal helps keeps it clean from "environmental unbalance." It's stated that it likewise needs to be recharged and actuated through assorted methods.

Chapter 2:

Ramping Up Your Energy

Synopsis

In the wake of extreme physical or emotional effort, the effects of weariness are certain to follow. Points of tiredness may last a couple of hours or, in extreme cases, a great deal longer.

And, in today's stressful times with tension pelting us from all sides – work (or deficiency thereof), loved ones, youngsters, physical sickness, finances – it might all feel overwhelming, and our bodies and minds will, sooner or later, come to the conclusion that they'll shut down!

Luckily, the battle over fatigue may be overcome.

More Power

There are a list of crystals that may help you and provide you that much-needed supercharge of energy. Broadly speaking, if faced with tiredness, pick out stones that are connected with the component of Fire. This component is energy personified. You'll discover, likewise, that stones ruled by fire are frequently ruled by the Sun or the planet Mars and are nearly always red in color.

Mars is frequently called the planet of warriors. If you wish to fight fatigue, you'll have to think like a warrior. That being stated, the crystals in that category are Ruby, Garnet, Red Jasper, and Amber. And as fatigue might likewise bring with it rounds of depression and/or insomnia, Amethyst and Green Aventurine are likewise on the list.

Ruby is a crimson crystal that's ruled by the component of Fire and the planet Mars. This potent energizer step-ups blood flow, heightens stamina, and presents you renewed energy. Utilize it on the sacral or root chakra. Raw, rough rubies are much less expensive and are perfect for this sort of healing. Reload rubies utilizing a soft cloth to wipe them down with and putting them on a windowsill at nighttime to be charged up by the stars.

Garnet is a burgundy-red stone that's likewise ruled by Fire and the planet Mars. Put on the root chakra, it may improve circulation as well and expand that sense of vitality you might be missing. This warming crystal may be worn or carried in a pocket (as with all of these crystals) and it may be recharged even on a mirky night.

Red Jasper is “the warrior rock”. This red rock is, like Ruby and Garnet, likewise ruled by Fire and Mars. It's indispensable if you have to step-up stamina, heighten circulation and give an awesome boost of energy to the system. It's affiliated with the root chakra and may be recharged by passing it through a red standard candle flame.

Amber, the fossilized leftovers of ancient tree resin, is affiliated with Fire and the Sun. This fiery, golden-orange “stone” reloads your energy levels by arousing a more favorable attitude. If your emotions are running rampant due to emotional overcharge, lay amber on the solar plexus or sacral chakra to counterbalance those emotional tensions. It may be reloaded by placing it on a sunny windowsill.

Amethyst is a quieting stone for those enduring fatigue ascribable to emotional overload. This purplish crystal is ruled by the component of Air and the planet Jupiter. It's thought of as an awesome healing stone for emotional weariness, insomnia and headaches. It likewise balances blood glucose levels and has been recognized to recharge other stones. Put it on your brow chakra or beneath your pillow at night. Naturally, it may be worn or carried. Reload amethyst by putting in moonlight, as this stone shouldn't be placed in direct sunlight.

Aventurine, while green, is a marvelous crystal for clearing off negativity, increasing optimism and affecting a more favorable outlook. It's a more gentle stimulating stone, but may still encourage a regenerated zest for life. It's an Earth stone and is ruled by Mercury. Aventurine is utilized on the heart chakra to quiet panic-attacks and nervousness affiliated with emotional fatigue. It may be recharged by placing it in amongst the leaves of a plant during the day.

A few of you might be wondering why the elements and planets are named with the crystal descriptions. Every element – Earth, Air, Fire and Water – and every planet – from the Sun to Pluto – correspond to assorted energies, emotions, attributes, colors, and so forth.

Fire, for instance, is affiliated with the color red and is utilized for physical strength, staying power, protection, energy and bravery. Water is blue and is utilized for healing, relaxation, rest, and psychic powers.

Earth is regulated by green and is utilized for grounding, peace, constancy, fertility, cash and gardening/agriculture. Air is yellow and is the component of communication, travel and all matters regarding the intellect.

Mentioned here were Mars, the Sun, Jupiter and Mercury. Mars is for bravery, passion, protection and strength and is governed likewise by red. The Sun deals with physical power, protection, healing and success and its color is golden or yellow. Jupiter is for meditation, spirituality, success and psychic cognizance and its color is purple. Mercury regulates communication, wiseness, self-reformation, study and travel, and its color is yellow.

A different area you might need a bit of a bracer is that afternoon burn out. You've ate lunch, its early afternoon and you're about prepared for a nap. This sort of afternoon slump may be alleviated with your crystals, instead of caffeinated drinks or sugary snacks.

Crystals that are going to hike up that afternoon slouch are Ruby, Amber and yes, Red Jasper. Ruby and Amber are reloading stones, and will jumpstart your system. A different one to try is Aventurine, which will add a little of optimism to the mix.

What if you're having difficulty catching some Z's? You're so wore down, you think you may sleep for a week, but your mind won't switch off. Cup of Chamomile Tea? Maybe some calming music and a little meditation? Go for it.

Rose Quartz and Amethyst will likewise bring a more relaxing sleep if placed beneath your pillow. These are quieting stones that will greatly help those with overtaxed brains and bouts of insomnia. A different stone to help you relax is Blue Lace Agate that, if held in your hand, will help your entire body relax.

It will likewise better the quality of your sleep, as will the crystal Iolite, which likewise helps with headaches, eyestrain and mental tension, by calming those overtaxed nerves.

So, whether you're a long-distance runner or simply running through the stress of day-after-day, I hope one or more of these crystals will help you to battle your fatigue and bring you serenity and energy.

Chapter 7:

Quartz

Synopsis

In the pecking order of crystals utilized in spiritual healing nothing stands higher up than Quartz. The healing energies of quartz have long been recognized. Since the time of the fabled Atlantis no stone has been more revered for its crystal healing attributes than Quartz.

The Main One

To the shaman and metaphysical healer quartz is the quintessential curative stone. Quartz crystals possess all of the attributes the practitioner of Crystal Healing looks for.

Whether that's the Reiki Master, the Shaman or the acupuncturist who utilizes needles that have been coated with quartz. Even science realizes the unparalleled and astonishing abilities of Quartz Crystals.

The crystalline structure of quartz carries electricity and radio frequencies. It's why Quartz is utilized in radios and additional electronic devices. And why men of science are experimenting with Quartz and additional crystals as sources of possibly unlimited alternative energy.

The "Dilithium" Crystals that powered the Starship Enterprise, and the nearly magical crystals that were the basis of Kryptonian science in the Superman flicks, are likely not as implausible as it might seem, and were more than probably inspired by the really true energy transmutation powers of quartz crystals.

There are a lot of different sorts of Quartz Crystals, and every one has their own unequalled healing powers and impact different parts of the body and help with different ailments.

For instance Rose Quartz is utilized by crystal healers for headaches, the handling of heart issues and kidney disease. Although Clear Quartz is utilized to draw out pain, bring back clarity of consciousness, and to broadly amplify all curative energies.

However all Quartz Crystals have the power to accord with and realign the vibrations of the body, bringing back balance. That's what makes quartz crystals so efficient in healing. Most disease states, but particularly mental disorders, and neurological issues may be linked to some sort of “chemical” or “Neurotransmitter” instability. The influence of quartz crystals may mend these imbalances.

The electro-magnetic attributes of quartz are mostly due to the base of its crystalline anatomical structure being made up of Silica. Silica is a natural occurring glass. Silica is detected in some level in nearly every healing crystal, Chakra stone, or ritualistic gem. Silica likewise shares its chemical and molecular construction with Silicon, likewise known for its electro-magnetic attributes (does the name Silicon Valley mean anything?).

That's correct the same basic component that we rely on to communicate and transmit all of this data worldwide; that's allowing you to study this very page; might likewise help us communicate with and tap into the fabric of the cardinal energies of the universe.

Once more science and spirituality are not so aloof after all. It was Einstein himself who stated “The more I come to comprehend the universe, the more I'm convinced of the presence of a superior reasoning energy. There are 2 ways to live: you are able to live as if nothing is a miracle; or you are able to live as if everything is a miracle.”

Chapter 8:

Blood Stone

Synopsis

Formerly, bloodstone crystal was called Heliotrope. The word heliotrope is compiled of the Greek word for "the sun", helios and the Greek word for "to turn", trepein. The beginning historical uses of the stone were to induce changes in the weather. It was thought you place a bloodstone in water and let the water and the stone suck up the rays of the sun, it would induce a storm.

During the Middle Ages, the red spots on the stones were thought to be the blood of Jesus and the early Christians believed the stone held all the powers of Jesus, including the power to make the wearer unseeable.

A few believe while Jesus was on the cross, his blood fell down on some jasper on the ground at the foot of the cross and this is how the bloodstone was produced. It was stated that the stones from that area held enormous power to cure almost anything and the gemstone was dedicated the nickname "The Martyr's Stone" because of this.

A hero's gemstone, frequently seen in armor breast plates and on swords for its power to arouse bravery in the most dangerous spots. Likewise considered to be a really strong healing stone allowing the wearer to remain impregnable in battle long after those around you have fallen down.

The Stone Of Blood

It advances creative thinking, self-expression, and artistry.

In the Middle Ages, bloodstone was ground into a powder, blended with honey and eggs and given to patients to heal tumors. A paste made of mashed bloodstone and honey was rubbed on cuts to stop surplus bleeding.

To help cure snakebite, affix a bloodstone to draw the poison out of the bite. Notice: This was an ancient utilization of the stone. I may do this while on my way to acquire medical help but to do this rather than getting medical help will be foolish.

The ancient Babylonians utilized engraved bloodstone in divinations. They utilized the way the assorted spots of red looked to tap into their psychic powers, producing an affect similar to a vision by following the array of the spots.

To purge your mind, body and soul, on the night of the full phase of the moon, find a place outdoor where you may lay under the moons light.

Put a stone on your forehead and as you lay there, visualize the moon's power entering your body, filling it with perfect white light, as your body fills, see all the negativism, illness and tension leaving from your body, leaving from the rear of your body and sinking into the ground under you.

Ancient Egyptians utilized bloodstone magic to assist them in battles. They utilized magical empowered stones as amulets for the warriors to expand their personal strength.

To turn "invisible" to your foes, wear or carry a bloodstone and visualize a cloak of power emanating from the stone and enfolding around you, making you un-seeable to those you don't want to see you.

Athletes may utilize a bloodstone amulet to help expand their strength and speed. Wear or carry a stone and visualize its power entering your body and inducing your muscles to become firmer (or faster).

This same magic may be utilized by anybody in need of bravery to get through a situation. Simply envision the powers entering the body and presenting you the aspects that you require.

If you know of somebody that tends to be a bit too "me" oriented, give them a gift of a heliotrope. It helps them to see how matters affect not just them but other people around them or even the whole world.

Hold a bloodstone in your hands with meditations designed to help you connect with your preceding lives. Once you've entered the meditative state, turn your thoughts backward to a time before your birth and let the images guide you to sights of your prior lives.

Keep one or more bloodstones on your desk or work table to help expand your business and riches. Even those that don't run their own business may benefit by letting the stone draw in additional sources of money into their lives.

As a healing stone, a bloodstone is utilized by healers to help with any sort of blood disorders. This includes but isn't limited to anemia, circulatory issues and Lupis.

Wearing of carrying a bloodstone helps to beef up the immune system, clean toxins from the liver and kidney and purify the bone marrow. Makes an awesome stone for women as it helps to alleviate both menstrual and menopausal symptoms.

Chapter 9:

Choosing The Right Crystals

Synopsis

Here is an easy procedure to identify which crystal will work best for your particular goal.

How To

- Distinctly identify your aim
- Seek a few crystal assortments that appear to support your goal (in a book, net, from a professional, and so forth.).
- Select a particular specimen that provides vibrational match to your frequency.

That final part is best achieved by holding the crystal in your hand or thinking about holding it (if you're purchasing online for instance) and say your purpose: "I wish to slim down." Always say the purpose in an affirmatory sentence (so do not say: "I wish to quit feeling angry").

Affirmative sentences allow the flow of energy (which is what you require), while damaging sentences trigger resistors. Shut your eyes while you say your purpose so you are able to center inward.

If you're more in-tuned with your emotions, seek a great feeling (light, tingly, happy, grinning, great memories spring to mind, laughing are all great).

If you're more in-tuned with your body, you are able to utilize muscle testing: balance yourself upright and let your body "hover" and let it fall in the way it wishes. If you fall frontwards, it means you have a great match. If you fall rearwards, you don't. There are a lot of different ways to utilize muscle testing for this intent, this is a simple one.

Once you've discovered the crystal, make a conscious conclusion to let yourself be open to its influence. In order to interact with the tangible world, we frequently have to shut down our receptivity to remote influences.

That may lead to a generalized shutdown where all influences are barricaded. You may discover yourself inadvertently fighting the crystal's influence.

One last thing you are able to do to facilitate the influence procedure is to place your crystal close to a little water fountain. Don't place them in the water, as the mineral deposits may damage them.

But anyplace near the fountain will do. This lets the really powerful chi of the water propagate the vibrational frequency of the crystal throughout your home or office.

Wrapping Up

When you look for the help of a crystal, you're enlisting a potent ally to "raise" your vibrational frequency. Regardless what the crystal is utilized for, its desired effect is always a gain in your vibrational frequency. We frequently crave particular crystals because we have a great "vibrational match" with them. This vibrational match implies that proximity to this crystal elevates our vibrational frequency, therefore making us feel "great."

Choosing a crystal for a particular purpose is an awesome way to help yourself without having to commit much energy to it. The proximity of the crystal is perpetually affecting your own frequency, maneuvering you upward towards your goal. Likewise, a crystal that doesn't have a great match is perpetually draining you by lowering your vibrational frequency. Therefore, picking out the right crystal is of essential importance.

There are a lot of books that depict crystals and their usage, yet most of them disagree on precise properties. This makes perfect sense if you think about that different crystals of the same family have assorted properties, and likewise that individuals will respond to them differently. But with the knowledge you have gotten here you should have a starting point.
