Dear Ralph:-

Here is the paper. You and I have written it. it is a good paper. It will be illustrated with, 1- with balloons and catheters, inflated and ~~un~~ inflated: - 2 - With picture of the irrigation procedure - 3- With drawing of catheter in place in the trachea. + upper view of the larynx

Your job is to give me the bibliography of your stuff so that it can be properly incorporated. In as much as your new married secretary knows more about that than you do, it will be easy for you to get it back in a hurry. I have put off writing this now for a year and naturally I am in a great hurry now. Raspberries.

Also of course if you have any comments or corrections to make, I will be glad to give them my attention.

I am thinking of sending it to the AMA. However I am not certain that that is the proper journal. My idea is that, being an illustrated article, it would attract attention there, but there may be other journals which you in your academic position might prefer. Remember however that I am a commercial anesthetist and I care to cash in from now on, on my publications.

Say something about when you are coming out here and what your plans are. I will fall in with anything that will meet your convenience.

Art.
