SHANTI PROJECT

Making Every Day Count

October 3, 1991
Every day, more and more people like Buddy are learning to live with HIV. People are finding ways to stay healthier, strengthen their immune systems, develop positive attitudes. They've found that proper diet, moderate exercise, even stress management can help. And now, early medical intervention could put time on your side. So, the sooner you take control, the better.

We urge you to call the number below... anonymously, if you wish.

Shanti Project 1991

Shanti Project is about people helping people in time of need. More than 750 volunteers and over 70 staff members provide many kinds of direct support for people with AIDS, disabling HIV disease and their loved ones in San Francisco.

Shanti was founded in 1974 by Dr. Charles Garfield to provide volunteer-based emotional support services for people facing life threatening illnesses. Volunteers began assisting people with AIDS in 1981. Since 1984, Shanti services have been exclusively AIDS focused and now include emotional support, practical support, residential services, recreation activities and the San Francisco General Hospital counseling program. Shanti volunteers currently provide 34 percent of the volunteer hours provided by all AIDS groups in San Francisco, more than twice that of any other group. Since 1981, more than 6,000 individuals have been trained by Shanti as volunteers to support people affected by AIDS.

Many exciting developments are taking place at Shanti Project. 1991 has seen the successful completion of Shanti’s two year planned transformation into an organization comprised of and serving a wide range of communities in San Francisco. Funding from the federal government has made it possible to launch several new exciting programs. Shanti’s new program serving homeless and indigent people--Crossings--has opened offices in the Tenderloin and Mission and provides targeted services to women and children as well as indigent people in the South of Market, Tenderloin, and Mission neighborhoods. Four new residences have opened: two facilities providing 24-hour care, a home for Latinos with AIDS, and a home for HIV-infected youth. Shanti’s HIV Housing Referral Network will soon offer a city-wide referral service for those in need of low-cost housing, and our van service now operates 4 vans daily, bringing people with AIDS to medical appointments throughout the City.

Shanti Project is a private non-profit agency dependent on the generosity of individual contributors for half of its annual budget. Significant financial support is also received through the City and County of San Francisco Department of Public Health, the United Way of the Bay Area, and a growing family of corporate and foundation contributors.
“I believe life would be rather an empty thing if we all passed through it without thought of the other fellow or without doing what we can for others.”

– A.P. Giannini
Bank of America founder

Bank of America salutes the work of the Shanti Project.
Your compassion and commitment set an example for us all.
Dear SHANTI Friends:

It hardly seems possible that it has been 10 years since SHANTI started caring for people with AIDS - and 17 years since its founding. So many hundreds of clients, volunteers, staff, board members and community friends have contributed to our work since the project's inception. Yet each year seems strangely unique, containing new challenges as well as ongoing struggles. Caring for women and children with AIDS. Building a diverse, multi-cultural agency. Neighborhood programs for the poor and disenfranchised, burdened by illness. Learning more effective ways to avoid burnout after years on the frontline.

These challenges are not specific to SHANTI or the San Francisco area, although each one concerns us deeply. I have spoken with community activists and healthcare workers from New York to Los Angeles and from Holland to Uganda about recent developments at SHANTI and at other agencies committed to exemplary community service. Frequently, I find compassion and concern and occasionally, the immensely creative altruism of a special few like those we honor here tonight.

For most of us, the pain of protracted grief has become a lasting wound in our souls. A wound that speaks to us of the transcendent and unifying bond of human suffering. A suffering that leads, if we are wise, to courage; to courage and then to love. This grief links us in a covenant of the wounded. A covenant that is a daily, living testimony to certain truths: We receive and we lose, and we must learn to embrace with whole hearts whatever of life remains after the losses. Let's offer our friends, clients - and ourselves - an hour's respite or a day's or a month's. And sometimes more than respite - sometimes joy. And always love.

With respect and admiration,
Charles Garfield

Guenoc Winery

Lillie Langtry was beloved by British royalty and theatergoers in both Europe and America during the late 19th and early 20th centuries. She was also the first vintner at Guenoc Winery, vowing to make the "world's greatest claret".

In 1888, Lillie saw the potential for growing superior wine grapes in Guenoc Valley. Nearly a century later, in 1981, the government confirmed Lillie's findings by establishing the Guenoc Valley appellation, a designation of unique growing conditions particular to a specific geographic region.

Though few changes have occurred since Lillie began making wines at Guenoc Winery, the goal of making the world's greatest wines has remained the same.

The 1992 Circle of Light
Of the Friends of Shanti Project

The Circle of Light is a campaign focused on encouraging people to make significant annual financial gifts to Shanti Project. It was established in 1990 by a group of major supporters of the Project to raise needed resources for the continuation of service provision to people affected by HIV in San Francisco.

The Circle of Light is spearheaded by a Campaign Cabinet of twelve. Individual members of the Circle of Light Campaign pledge a minimum of $500 annually to Shanti Project.

Shanti Project relies on individual gifts from the community to continue providing crucial emotional and practical support, housing assistance, hospital counseling, an activities program, and transportation services. The Project serves more than 85% of people with AIDS in San Francisco at some point in their diagnoses.

In the last year alone, the Circle of Light Campaign has raised $325,000. Funds from the campaign assisted in maintaining three of eighteen homes at the Residence Program and has funded two trainings for new emotional support volunteers.

Since its inception in 1990, the Circle of Light Campaign has raised more than $750,000 from 725 major donors. The goal of the 1992 Circle of Light Cabinet is $300,000.

Shanti Project has always used the logo of an eclipse over the San Francisco skyline. We believe that AIDS is a temporary cloud shrouding the community. We also believe that one day it will pass. In the meantime, the Circle of Light members provide that ray of hope for our friends and neighbors affected by HIV.

The 1992 Circle of Light Campaign Cabinet invites you to be part of the Shanti Project family. The 1992 campaign will be launched on November 21, 1991. For more information, call J. Robbie Fabian, Development Director at Shanti Project.

Shanti Project gratefully acknowledges the vital role played by the many individuals who

We also wish to acknowledge our many donors who wish to remain anonymous.
Nobody ever plans on getting AIDS. And that makes it all the more devastating. But if fighting the most tragic and least understood killer in the world today seems more than you can bear alone, remember, there's someone out there who wants to help.

AIDS Project Los Angeles.

We're confronting AIDS on every side. But our first and foremost concern is for those who have Human Immunodeficiency Virus. They're the reason we initially set up our AIDS Hotline in 1982, and soon followed up with a buddy program and counseling.

Of course, people with AIDS need more than just companionship. They need to understand the disease. That's why we offer guidance on living with AIDS. Updates on insurance issues. Advice on faith and spiritual matters. And counseling on chemical dependencies and other addictive behaviors that often complicate an AIDS diagnosis.

I've always said, "If I ever get AIDS, I don't know what I'd do."

I was right.

Now as if the mental and physical drain of AIDS isn't enough, there's also the financial drain. So we provide essentials like food, clothing, and dental services to those in critical need.

Of course, the fight against AIDS isn't only between the disease and those who have it. It's everyone's problem. That's why we promote public awareness. Try to educate those who feel they don't need it. And demand that the Government of the United States approach AIDS just as it does every other major disease.

At AIDS Project Los Angeles, people discover courage and strength they didn't know they had. But before we can help, they have to do one simple thing.

Call 213-962-1600 and talk to someone who cares.

Having AIDS can be a frightening experience, which is all the more reason it shouldn't be a lonely experience.

Please Join Us In Honoring

People with AIDS/HIV Disease

These individuals are honored for their contributions to education, advocacy or services to people with AIDS/HIV in San Francisco. We honor them as examples of people who exemplify values of service, commitment and caring and recognize that many other people with AIDS/HIV also embrace these values. While some of our honorees have contributed to Shanti Project's development, we look beyond our own organization to honor excellence in the broader system.

Gregory Adams for his tireless fundraising, educating and advocating for people of color communities through the Black Coalition on AIDS, National Task Force on AIDS Prevention, the EACH Program and other AIDS organizations. He has lead safe sex workshops for African-American gay men and has been a visible leader in the leather community. He is currently Mr. Pendulum Leather.

Mary Corwin for her leadership in advocating for increased services to women with HIV in San Francisco. She has been a member of the Mayor's Task Force on AIDS, Women's AIDS Network, and a leading national spokesperson. She has courageously addressed issues facing PWA like herself who are mothers and former addicts. She is featured in the movie "Absolutely Positive." (Mary Corwin with her daughter Sinead)

Community Friends

These organizations have helped Shanti Project continue to provide direct support services to people with AIDS/HIV and their loved ones in San Francisco.

S.F. AIDS Foundation for its tireless efforts in lobbying for the creation and approval of Ryan White AIDS CARE Funding.

Wells Fargo Bank

Wells Fargo Bank for their funding support and for encouraging employee involvement as volunteers, donors, and Board members.
Shanti Project

Intrepid Productions

For their generous contributions towards this evening’s videos.

A special thank you to
Carl Slater • Shirley Gutierrez • Bill Sorensen • Mary Sloup

Thank you to Scharffenberger Champagne Cellars for their generous donation to this evening’s reception.
BILL DAY for capturing the spirit of true commitment to AIDS prevention and volunteerism. His efforts as a group leader for STOP AIDS during the '80s were critical to limiting the spread of HIV among gay men in San Francisco. He was responsible for taking the STOP AIDS model on the road and assisting with the creation of similar projects throughout the nation. He served as an Emotional Support volunteer for Shanti Project and a volunteer for the Healing Alternatives Foundation.

SHANTI VOLUNTEERS

These individuals are honored because they exemplify the spirit of a Shanti volunteer: they are caring, consistent and committed to service to Shanti Project. Through them, we honor all volunteers in the Project.

1943-1991

JAY FEINSTEIN for his contributions to AIDS services through his role as founder of the HIV/AIDS Nightline at San Francisco Suicide Prevention and his work as a Shanti Emotional Support volunteer and Shanti Board member. He was a major spokesperson for PWA and used his experience as a PWA to assist newly-diagnosed Shanti clients.

1945-1991

HUGO MANZO for his work providing translation services for the staff of San Francisco General Hospital’s AIDS ward, and his ongoing support for hospitalized Latino PWA’s. He has consistently given of himself to helping other people through Vida Y Movimiento, a gay Latino Support Group.

1945-1991

NORMA BARSNESS for her commitment to being a Shanti office volunteer since 1988. She volunteers more than 10 hours a week at Shanti Projects’ Communications Department. She views volunteerism as a key responsibility of every San Franciscan: she also volunteers as a reader for the blind and serves lunches to seniors in Japantown.

1945-1991

JERRY TUCKER for exemplifying the highest degree of commitment, compassion and skill in being a Shanti Emotional Support volunteer for the past five years. He has worked with three individual clients, including one who was supported by Jerry for a very difficult year and a half. He has co-facilitated an Emotional Support volunteer group and has been co-facilitating a PWA support group for the last three years.
SHADOW CREEK BLANC de NOIRS
Shadow Creek Blanc de Noirs is a 100% Pinot Noir sparkling wine aged on the yeast over two years and hand riddled. The cuvée is dosaged with a Brut finish and exhibits fruitiness and subtle toastiness with a balanced acidity. Aromas are delightfully floral and strawberry-like, and the texture is creamy and rich with a long lingering finish.

HISTORY
Shadow Creek Cellars first released its Brut and Blanc de Noirs cuvées in 1980. Since then, Shadow Creek’s classic sparkling wines have enjoyed continuous growth and a national reputation for consistent high quality and outstanding value. Started as an independent operation based in Sonoma County, Shadow Creek Cellars has been owned and operated since 1988 by Domaine Chandon, in Napa Valley.

VINEYARDS
Shadow Creek cuvées are produced from Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Blanc grapes from the coolest growing regions of California’s coastal valleys. The complexity derived from the wide range of grape sources contributes to the high quality of the cuvées. The blends utilize fruit from our own 311 acres of vineyard in Potter Valley in Mendocino County, Bien Nacido vineyards in Santa Barbara County and vineyards in Sonoma County.

STYLISTIC INTENT
"The whole is greater than the sum of its parts": this axiom is the guiding philosophy for Shadow Creek cuvées. Utilizing fruit from diverse vineyards throughout California’s coolest growing regions gives breadth and depth to the wines. Shadow Creek products are made to be full, rich and flavorful, pleasing on the palate alone or with compatible foods.

Dishes such as grilled meats, rabbit, salmon, oysters and paté are a fine accompaniment to Shadow Creek Blanc de Noirs.

Grateful appreciation to Michael Feinstein for his narration.

"I'm working to demonstrate that it is possible to live well with HIV."
Gregory Adams

"What Shanti enables us to do is be a family in spite of AIDS. The reason that I speak for Shanti is that someday I hope to see the end of the epidemic, so that my daughter won't have to bury her friends."
Mary Corwin

"When the opportunities came up in '84 and '85 to work with Shanti and Stop AIDS, I just thought, this is where the hole in my life has been - getting out there and doing something for the people....and it provided the meaning for my life to a large extent."
Bill Day

"I just hope for the rest of the time that I'm around that I can continue to live up to the standards that Shanti has set and that I have set for myself to work for Shanti."
Jay Feinstein

"I like to volunteer because I love to help people, especially people with AIDS, because I also am an AIDS patient."
Hugo Manzo

"I volunteer at Shanti because I believe that next to war, AIDS is the most important problem facing the world today."
Norma Barsness

"I met some pretty wonderful people who were Emotional Support volunteers for Shanti when I first moved to The City. They told me about their experiences with their clients, and the emotion they told me about and the connection they had was real, and it drew me like a moth to a flame, and I knew I had to do that too."
Jerry Tucker

"I am extremely proud of our work on the Ryan White CARE legislation. It has resulted in a community involvement process which has provided millions of dollars to San Francisco and hundreds of thousands of dollars to Shanti Project for their desperately needed services."
Pat Christen
SFAF

"We think we can—and should—encourage our employees and other members of the corporate community to become involved with AIDS service providers, to strengthen their existing involvement, and to join those of us working in the AIDS communities. We're particularly proud of our long history with Shanti Project and are honored to be chosen as one of Shanti Project's community friends."

THE ECLIPSE
Shanti is a Sanskrit word meaning “inner peace.”
An eclipse is the passage from light to darkness to light.
For Shanti Project, it represents the process of change brought about by illness, grief, and the understanding and hope that people with HIV experience from the work of caregivers who bring their love and support.
AmFAR extends warm congratulations to the SHANTI PROJECT on ten years of service and support to people with AIDS/HIV and their loved ones. The contribution of Shanti’s staff and volunteers continues to inspire us, as does the courage of those that they serve.

The American Foundation for AIDS Research (AmFAR) is a private, not-for-profit organization dedicated to mobilizing the good will, energy and generosity of caring Americans and people throughout the world to end the AIDS/HIV epidemic. Since 1985, AmFAR has provided more than $34 million to 550 AIDS research, education and public policy projects.

Gay Men’s Health Crisis salutes Shanti Project for ten years of compassionate care for people with AIDS.

The San Francisco AIDS Foundation congratulates all the honorees who have shown such courage in facing the challenge of HIV.

We thank our colleagues at Shanti Project for acknowledging the AIDS Foundation’s role in making the Ryan White CARE Act a reality.
The National Task Force on AIDS Prevention of the National Association of Black and White Men Together

The National Task Force on AIDS Prevention is committed to providing safer sex and early intervention education led by gay men of color for the benefit of our brothers and their loved ones. Our work combines the energy, skill and compassion of gay men who are concerned about the health and survival of gay men of color and their greater communities. Gay and bisexual men have the highest rate of HIV infection in all communities and face multiple risk factors in a highly racist and homophobic society. Our communities desperately need a coordinated plan of attack against AIDS. As open, proud gay men of color, we are stepping forward to be involved and to work with each other. We operate national programs primarily through the efforts of members and 26 local chapters — both Black & White Men Together — located throughout the U.S. We are funded from the Public Health Service, Centers for Disease Control (CDC).
