DELTA LAND, RICH

The June, 1941, issue of the "New Settlement in the Mississippi Delta" circulated by the United States Dept. of Agriculture as Miscellaneous Publication No. 442 reveals the following information.

"Present settlers on the undeveloped Delta lands, like the farmers in the more established Delta areas, are almost entirely dependent upon cotton for their cash income.....At present, no other crop or combination of crops is known that can produce as large a net cash income in the Delta as cotton.....The growing of more feed and food crops for home use would aid new settlers very substantially in withstanding years of poor cotton crops or low prices for cotton. Recent studies of the new farms show that more emphasis could well be placed upon this type of production, for a great deal of Delta soil can produce abundant crops of corn,

ADVANCE CREW

Approximately 70 selectees will receive notice tomorrow to leave on September 14 with the advance crew for Desha County in southern Arkansas. With the shortage of men on the labor crew, drafting for workers was compulsory. All selectees will be notified by their respective block monitors tomorrow morning.

53 MORE NEEDED FOR VOLUNTEER

A late flash! Fifty-three more persons are needed for the volunteer crew leaving on the 14th. These may either be single men or families (with children over 7 years of age).

HEAVY RAINFALL

SAME TEMPERATURE

The following data concern the approximate weather conditions during the month of our relocation, October.

County	* Rainfall	* Temperature
Desha County	5 4.29	16 64.8
San Joaquin Co.	5 0.68	16 61.7

*Length of recorded years

The weather, as a whole, will have an extremely heavy rainfall in contrast to the San Joaquin County precipitation. The October rainfall of Desha County will be similar to that of this area in February and March. However, there will be very little difference, if any, in temperature.

2 WRA CENTERS IN ARK.

The latest exodus will soon relocate 20,000 Japanese including SAC-ites from the West Coast defense zone to two government centers in Desha County and Drew and Chicot Counties in Arkansas on Mark Twain's famed lazy Mississippi.

OCTOBER 3 SET FOR 1st REG. GROUP

(Continued from page 1) residents of the center will begin exodus on October 3, 500 persons leaving each trip on alternate days until evacuation is completed on around October 17.

"The new site was formerly owned by the Farm Security Administration. The tract is undeveloped and contains approximately 9000 acres of bottom land, covered with small timber and brush and require considerable developing. However, the rich alluvial soil deposited by the Mississippi, coupled with the ability of the Japanese to develop raw lands and bring these into fertile yields is expected to result in a permanent improvement of the tract which will multiply the present value of the lands.

The lands, federal reports declare, will produce a wide variety of crops." (Release No. 6-5)

RICH DELTA LAND, PROMISING

"The settlers usually have enough land and available time for growing ample supplies of truck crops, hogs, chickens and other products for home use. There is a need for greater production of crops for home consumption.

"The settlement problem as a whole concerns all the people of the lower Mississippi Valley and adjacent areas. It is a big problem and, to be dealt with properly, must be met with cooperative action by everyone concerned. The most effective type of action would undoubtedly flow from a coordinated program of planning and settler guidance and assistance, reaching all the way from the original home of the settler to his new home in the Delta."

FOOTBALL MEETING TOMORROW

The Center's football players will meet tomorrow night at the Study Hall at 8:00 p.m. to decide whether to launch the gridiron sport upon arrival in Arkansas.

Chairman Keiichi "Kobo" Ogasawara announced that everybody interested, whether they play or not, should attend without fail because the question on "football equipment pool" will be definitely settled at the meeting.
