

How Many Genders Are There In 2019?

Timely and Inspiring Prophetic Analysis so you can Prepare.

- KEEP the FAITH - <https://ktfnews.com> -

Gender Identity has Become Absurd

Posted By Pastor Hal Mayer On September 22, 2016 @ 1:30 am In Briefings, Prophetic Intelligence Briefings |

In the midst of a second sexual revolution, in which anything goes, gender identity has become the latest mantra. It means that anyone and everyone uses whatever toilet or locker room you choose even if it is not designated as the same as your biological sex. So, how many gender identities are there? Tumblr, a social media site has listed 112 genders and 70 sexual orientations.

“This is an ongoing list of gender identities...” says Tumblr. “Feel free to mix and match your own prefixes and suffixes to create the identity that best describes you.”

1. Abimegender: a gender that is profound, deep, and infinite; meant to resemble when one mirror is reflecting into another mirror creating an infinite paradox
2. Adamasgender: a gender which refuses to be categorized
3. Aerogender: a gender that is influenced by your surroundings
4. Aesthetigender: a gender that is derived from an aesthetic; also known as videogender
5. Affectugender: a gender that is affected by mood swings
6. Agender: the feeling of no gender/absence of gender or neutral gender
7. Agenderflux: being mostly agender except having small shifts towards other genders making them demigenders (because of the constancy of being agender)
8. Alexigender: a gender that is fluid between more than one gender but the individual cannot tell what those genders are
9. Aliusgender: a gender which is removed from common gender descriptors and guidelines
10. Amaregender: a gender that changes depending on who you're in love with 11. Ambigender: defined as having the feeling of two genders simultaneously without fluctuation; meant to reflect the concept of being ambidextrous, only with gender
12. Ambonec: identifying as both man and woman, yet neither at the same time

13. Amicagender: a gender that changes depending on which friend you're with 14. Androgyne: sometimes used in the case of "androgynous presentation"; describes the feeling of being a mix of both masculine and feminine (and sometimes neutral) gender qualities
15. Anesigender: feeling like a certain gender yet being more comfortable identifying with another
16. Angenital: a desire to be without primary sexual characteristics, without necessarily being genderless; one may be both angenital and identify as any other gender alongside
17. Anogender: a gender that fades in and out but always comes back to the same feeling
18. Anongender: a gender that is unknown to both yourself and others
19. Antegender: a protean gender which has the potential to be anything, but is formless and motionless, and therefore, does not manifest as any particular gender
20. Anxigender: a gender that is affected by anxiety
21. Apagender: a feeling of apathy towards ones gender which leads to them not looking any further into it
22. Apconsugender: a gender where you know what it isn't, but not what it is; the gender is hiding itself from you
23. Astergender: a gender that feels bright and celestial
24. Astralgender: a gender that feels connected to space
25. Autigender: a gender that can only be understood in the context of being autistic (POSSIBLE TRIGGER WARNING)
26. Autogender: a gender experience that is deeply personal to oneself
27. Axigender: when a person experiences two genders that sit on opposite ends of an axis; one being agender and the other being any other gender; these genders are experienced one at a time with no overlapping and with very short transition time.
28. Bigender: the feeling of having two genders either at the same time or separately; usually used to describe feeling "traditionally male" and "traditionally female", but does not have to
29. Biogender: a gender that feels connected to nature in some wa
30. Blurgender: the feeling of having more than one gender that are somehow blurred together to the point of not being able to distinguish or identify individual genders; synonymous with genderfuzz
31. Boyflux: when one feels mostly or all male most of the time but experience fluctuating intensity of male identity
32. Burstgender: and gender that comes in intense bursts of feeling and quickly fades back to the original state
33. Caelgender: a gender which shares qualities with outer space or has the aesthetic of space, stars, nebulas, etc.
34. Cassgender: the feeling of gender is unimportant to you
35. Cassflux: when the level of indifference towards your gender fluctuates
36. Cavusgender: for people with depression; when you feel one gender when not depressed and another when depressed
37. Cendgender: when your gender changes between one and its opposite
38. Ceterofluid: when you are ceterogender and your feelings fluctuate between masculine, feminine, and neutral
39. Ceterogender: a nonbinary gender with specific masculine, feminine, or neutral feelings
40. Cisgender: the feeling of being the gender you were assigned at birth, all the time (assigned (fe)male/feeling (fe)male)
41. Cloudgender: a gender that cannot be fully realized or seen clearly due to depersonalization/derealization disorder
42. Collgender: the feeling of having too many genders simultaneously to describe each one
43. Colorgender: a gender associated with one or more colors and the feelings, hues, emotions, and/or objects associated with that color; may be used like pinkgender, bluegender, yellowgender

44. Commogender: when you know you aren't cisgender, but you settled with your assigned gender for the time being
45. Condigender: a gender that is only felt during certain circumstances
46. Deliciagender: from the Latin word delicia meaning "favorite", meaning the feeling of having more than one simultaneous gender yet preferring one that fits better
47. Demifluid: the feeling your gender being fluid throughout all the demigenders; the feeling of having multiple genders, some static and some fluid
48. Demiflux: the feeling of having multiple genders, some static and some fluctuating
49. Demigender: a gender that is partially one gender and partially another
50. Domgender: having more than one gender yet one being more dominant than the others
51. Duragender: from the Latin word dura meaning "long-lasting", meaning a subcategory of multigender in which one gender is more identifiable, long lasting, and prominent than the other genders
52. Egogender: a gender that is so personal to your experience that it can only be described as "you"
53. Epicene: sometimes used synonymously with the adjective "androgynous"; the feeling either having or not displaying characteristics of both or either binary gender; sometimes used to describe feminine male identifying individuals
54. Espigender: a gender that is related to being a spirit or exists on a higher or extradimensional plane
55. Exgender: the outright refusal to accept or identify in, on, or around the gender spectrum
56. Existigender: a gender that only exists or feels present when thought about or when a conscious effort is made to notice it
57. Femfluid: having fluctuating or fluid gender feelings that are limited to feminine genders
58. Femgender: a nonbinary gender which is feminine in nature
59. Fluidflux: the feeling of being fluid between two or more genders that also fluctuate in intensity; a combination of genderfluid and genderflux
60. Gemigender: having two opposite genders that work together, being fluid and flux together
61. Genderblank: a gender that can only be described as a blank space; when gender is called into question, all that comes to mind is a blank space
62. Genderflow: a gender that is fluid between infinite feelings
63. Genderfluid: the feeling of fluidity within your gender identity; feeling a different gender as time passes or as situations change; not restricted to any number of genders
64. Genderflux: the feeling of your gender fluctuating in intensity; like genderfluid but between one gender and agender
65. Genderfuzz: coined by lolzmelmel; the feeling of having more than one gender that are somehow blurred together to the point of not being able to distinguish or identify individual genders; synonymous with blurgender
66. Gender Neutral: the feeling of having a neutral gender, whether somewhere in between masculine and feminine or a third gender that is separate from the binary; often paired with neutrois
67. Genderpunk: a gender identity that actively resists gender norms
68. Genderqueer: originally used as an umbrella term for nonbinary individuals; may be used as an identity; describes a nonbinary gender regardless of whether the individual is masculine or feminine leaning
69. Genderwitched: a gender in which one is intrigued or entranced by the idea of a particular gender, but is not certain that they are actually feeling it
70. Girlflux: when one feels mostly or all female most of the time but experiences fluctuating intensities of female identity
71. Glassgender: a gender that is very sensitive and fragile
72. Glimragender: a faintly shining, wavering gender
73. Greygender: having a gender that is mostly outside of the binary but is weak and can barely be felt
74. Gyragender: having multiple genders but understanding none of them

75. Healgender: a gender that once realized, brings lots of peace, clarity, security, and creativity to the individual's mind
76. Heliogender: a gender that is warm and burning
77. Hemigender: a gender that is half one gender and half something else; one or both halves may be identifiable genders
78. Horogender: a gender that changes over time with the core feeling remaining the same
79. Hydrogender: a gender which shares qualities with water
80. Imperigender: a fluid gender that can be controlled by the individual
81. Intergender: the feeling of gender falling somewhere on the spectrum between masculine and feminine; note: do not confuse with intersex
82. Juxera: a feminine gender similar to girl, but on a separate plane and off to itself
83. Libragender: a gender that feels agender but has a strong connection to another gender
84. Magigender: a gender that is mostly gender and the rest is something else
85. Mascfluid: A gender that is fluid in nature, and restricted only to masculine genders
86. Mascgender: a non-binary gender which is masculine in nature.
87. Maverique: taken from the word maverick; the feeling of having a gender that is separate from masculinity, femininity, and neutrality, but is not agender; a form of third gender
88. Mirrorgender: a gender that changes to fit the people around you
89. Molligender: a gender that is soft, subtle, and subdued
90. Multigender: the feeling of having more than one simultaneous or fluctuating gender; simultaneous with multigender and omnigender
91. Nanogender: feeling a small part of one gender with the rest being something else
92. Neutrois: the feeling of having a neutral gender; sometimes a lack of gender that leads to feeling neutral
93. Nonbinary: originally an umbrella term for any gender outside the binary of cisgenders; may be used as an individual identity; occasionally used alongside of genderqueer
94. Omnigender: the feeling of having more than one simultaneous or fluctuating gender; simultaneous with multigender and polygender
95. Oneirogender: coined by anonymous, "being agender, but having recurring fantasies or daydreams of being a certain gender without the dysphoria or desire to actually be that gender day-to-day"
96. Pangender: the feeling of having every gender; this is considered problematic by some communities and thus has been used as the concept of relating in some way to all genders as opposed to containing every gender identity; only applies to genders within one's own culture
97. Paragender: the feeling very near one gender and partially something else which keeps you from feeling fully that gender
98. Perigender: identifying with a gender but not as a gender
99. Polygender: the feeling of having more than one simultaneous or fluctuating gender; simultaneous with multigender and omnigender
100. Proxvir: a masculine gender similar to boy, but on a separate plane and off to itself
101. Quoigender: feeling as if the concept of gender is inapplicable or nonsensical to one's self
102. Subgender: mostly agender with a bit of another gender
103. Surgender: having a gender that is 100% one gender but with more of another gender added on top of that
104. Systemgender: a gender that is the sum of all the genders within a multiple or median system
105. Tragender: a gender that stretches over the whole spectrum of genders
106. Transgender: any gender identity that transcends or does not align with your assigned gender or society's idea of gender; the feeling of being any gender that does not match your assigned gender
107. Trigender: the feeling of having three simultaneous or fluctuating genders
108. Vapogender: a gender that sort of feels like smoke; can be seen on a shallow level but once you go deeper, it disappears and you are left with no gender and only tiny wisps of what you thought it was

- 109. Venngender: when two genders overlap creating an entirely new gender; like a venn diagram
- 110. Verangender: a gender that seems to shift/change the moment it is identified
- 111. Vibragender: a gender that is usually one stable gender but will occasionally changes or fluctuate before stabilizing again.
- 112. Vocigender: a gender that is weak or hollow

And if that isn't confusing enough, try working through the list of orientations.

“All types of attractions may be used as suffixes along with ‘-fluid’ and ‘-flux,’” says Tumblr. “Feel free to mix and match your own prefixes and suffixes to create the orientation that best describes you.”

A- : lack of attraction

- 1. Abro- : having an orientation or feelings about it that constantly change and cannot be pinned down for this reason
- 2. Aceflux: similar to genderflux where the intensity of sexual attraction you feel fluctuates; asexual to demisexual to allosexual and back
- 3. Aego- : feeling attraction or desire only for situations that does not involve oneself; previously known as autochoris-
- 4. Akoi- : the feeling of attraction but not wanting it reciprocated or losing it when it is reciprocated; used as an alternative and potentially less problematic form of lithosexual/lithoromantic
- 5. Aliqua- : not normally feeling attraction, but feeling it on occasion under specific circumstances
- 6. Amicus- : when you're attracted to people you're platonically attracted to
- 7. Amorplatonc: experiencing romantic attraction but only wanting to be in queerplatonc/quasiplatonc relationships
- 8. Apothi- : being aromantic/asexual and not experiencing any romantic/sexual feelings in any shape or form; aromantic/asexual individuals who are romance/sex repulsed
- 9. Aromantic: feeling no romantic attraction regardless of gender or situation
- 10. Aroflux: similar to genderflux where the intensity or romantic attraction you feel fluctuates; aromantic to demiromantic to alloromantic and back
- 11. Arospike/Acespike: feeling no attraction except in occasional bursts of intense attraction and then plummeting back to no attraction
- 12. Asexual: feeling no sexual attraction regardless of gender or situation
- 13. Auto- : the feeling of attraction only towards oneself
- 14. Bellusromantic: having interest in conventionally romantic things yet not desiring a relationship; part of the aro spectrum
- 15. Bi- : the feeling of attraction towards two or more genders, generally your own gender and other(s)
- 16. Borea- : having an exception to your usual orientation
- 17. Burst- : having spikes in attraction that fade away after a while
- 18. Cass- : feeling utterly indifferent towards attraction and believing its not important
- 19. Cease- : usually beeing allo- yet occasionally feeling a sudden loss of attraction and then returning to normal
- 20. Cetero- : the feeling of attraction towards nonbinary people; replaces skolio- because “skolio” means bent or broken and implies that nonbinary people must be fixed; this is reserved for trans/nonbinary individuals because cis people were judging nonbinary people based off of presentation alone
- 21. Culparomantic: feeling romantic and platonic attraction at the same time

22. Cupio- : the feeling of having no attraction towards any gender yet still desiring a sexual or romantic relationship
23. Demi- : not feeling attraction towards someone until a certain closeness or bond has been formed
24. Desinoromantic: when one does not experience full-on romantic attraction, but experiences “liking” someone instead of loving them romantically, at which point the attraction goes no further
25. Duo- : having two or more well defined orientations that you switch between 26. Ficto- : only feeling a certain type of attraction towards fictional characters
27. Fin- : feeling attraction to fem(me) identifying people
28. Fray- : only experiencing attraction towards those you are less familiar with; the feeling is lost when they become closer or more familiar; the opposite of demi-
29. Grey- : the feeling of usually not having any attraction except occasionally depending on the situation; typically paired with asexual and aromantic
30. Heteroflexible: the feeling of having mostly hetero- attraction yet having an openness for other genders
31. Hetero- : the feeling of being attracted to a gender other than your own
32. Homoflexible: the feeling of having mostly homo- attraction yet having an openness for other genders
33. Homo- : the feeling of being attracted to your own gender
34. Iculasexual: being asexual but open to having sex
35. Idemromantic: being able to categorize others as having either a platonic or romantic attraction based on outside factors yet feeling no difference in the type of attraction
36. Kalossexual: the desire to have a sexual relationship yet never feeling sexual attraction; part of the ace spectrum
37. Lamvano- : feeling no desire to do sexual/romantic things to someone, but wanting to be on the receiving end; opposite of placio-
38. Lesbian: someone who identifies fully or partially as a woman who is attracted to other fully or partially identified women
39. Limno- : experiencing attraction towards depictions of attraction (writing or drawings) but not the physical acts
40. Ma- : feeling attraction to men
41. Min- : feeling attraction to masculine identifying people
42. Multi- : attraction to more than one gender
43. Neu- : feeling attraction towards people who are genderless
44. Nin- : feeling attraction towards androgynous identifying people
45. Nocisma- : feeling attraction to everyone except cis men because of associated oppression
46. Noma- : experiencing attraction to every gender except for self identifying men
47. Novi- : feeling complicated attraction or lack thereof in such a way that it is difficult or impossible to fit into one word or term
48. Novo- : when one’s orientation changes with gender
49. Nowo- : experiencing attraction to every gender except for self identifying women
50. Omni- : the feeling of a lack of preference in gender and may be attracted to all genders equally; similar to pan-
51. Pan- : the feeling of attraction towards any gender or all genders; similar to omni-
52. Penulti- : feeling attraction towards every gender except your own
53. Platonioromantic: feeling no difference between platonic and romantic attraction
54. Polar- : feeling either extreme attraction or intense repulsion
55. Poly- : the feeling of attraction towards most or several genders (but not all)
56. Pomo- : the feeling of having no orientation
57. Pre- : a placeholder term for someone who doesn’t think they’ve experienced enough attraction to know their orientation

58. Proqua- : feeling attracted to feminine people when you yourself are feminine
59. Proquu- : feeling attracted to masculine people when you yourself are masculine
60. Queer: the feeling of not being hetero- yet not wanting to further identify with any conventional sexuality
61. Quoiromantic: from the French word quoi meaning “what”; the feeling of not being able to distinguish romantic from platonic attraction and therefore being unsure if one has experienced it; used to replace wtfromantic because of vulgarity
62. Recip- : the feeling of only experiencing attraction once someone else has experienced it towards them first
63. Requies- : not feeling attraction when emotionally exhausted
64. Sans- : when there’s no trend line in the attraction one feels, it just does what it does
65. Senu- : an orientation that is based off of sensuality as opposed to romance, sexuality, etc; different from sensual orientation; when romantic or sexual type pleasure is derived from sensual acts or situations
66. Skolio- : the feeling of attraction towards nonbinary genders; replaced by cetero- because of problematic wording
67. Specio- : feeling attraction towards someone based off of specific traits, not gender
68. Thym- : feeling attraction which varies depending on emotional state
69. Volit- : feeling attraction that is not directed at anyone in particular
70. Woma- : feeling attraction to women

Whew, what a pair of lists!! Did you notice that so many of them are directly related to feelings? It is feelings, not principles that drive the gender identity craze. And when will all this gender-confusion end? Do you think Sodom had such a list in Lot’s day?

“Likewise also, as it was in the days of Lot...” Luke 17:28.