IDAHO/WASHINGTON FOREST OWNERS FIELD DAY

GOT TREES? Trees play a critical role in many ecological functions. This Forest Owners Field Day will focus on practices that maintain or add to the health of our Inland Northwest forests. You will learn how to plan and implement sound forest management practices. Whether you own a few acres or a large tract of land, this educational event is for you!

Join the hundreds of family forest landowners who have already attended this popular annual event and learned about:

- Wildfire safety
- Healthy trees
- Clean water
- Local jobs
- Rural beauty
- Bountiful wildlife
- Wise management of resources

Tell a friend! If you think forests are vital to the quality of life where you live, please pass this information along to your neighbor!

This brochure is also available online at:
