

I believed you
when you said we'd be friends forever

and I believe you
now

When my friend told me she had been sexually assaulted, I said the words I knew she most needed to hear: I Believe You, and it's not your fault. When she was ready, she connected with Alberta's ONE LINE for Sexual Violence. Their support helped her take the next step toward healing.

Alberta's ONE LINE for Sexual Violence is a toll-free phone, text, and chat service that's private and available throughout Alberta.
