

Day 1

Transmission: 32:07

Music: Daniel Schotsborg – Meta Level Blue 1

Welcome! This transmission of Light begins a clearing process within the cellular and sub-atomic levels of your body and matrix to release energies currently embedded within your operating system (i.e. body) and distorting your ability to manifest through the spoken word.

The Divine Mothers are the first emissaries of Light to make their presence known. Pulsing forward a brilliant pink frequency of Light, moving from head to toe and back to flush your system. Breathe in their Light and Love and allow this frequency to do what it is intended to do.

The next frequency of Light flooding your system is blue - sapphire is the closest I can translate. However, it is not the sapphire ray. This frequency is accompanied by the Architects of Language. This council or group of Light will be overseeing this work from start to finish. It is an honor to have them present!

Remember to give your body what it needs to release, clear and upshift. This includes good nutrition, movement (exercise, stretching, etc.), rest and the willingness to surrender. This work goes deep within your physical body, and may produce some detoxifying experiences. Follow your own guidance as how to best support your body.

Relax and immerse into the music. Let it transport and support you in this amazing process of transformation. Breathe and remember that you are Light!
