

Day 3

Transmission: 27:50

Music - Daniel Schotsborg – Meta Level Red 1

This activation brings through an iridescent ribbon of Light. This Light is encoded with ancient symbols and codes, anchoring the first layer of the original template of Divine Language into your systems. Working with the energy of the Divine Mothers' pink ray, your fields are saturated with nurturing and support of this amazing process.

The architects of the original Divine Language once again infuse the blue frequency of Light through you.. This frequency of the Light does encompass the aspects of the blue ray - including intent, cause, and manifestation - and goes beyond what we currently know in this reality.

The re-activation and re-integration of the original template of Language is an ongoing process. Dormant in our systems for thousands of years, this template or matrix of Light is coming back online at this critical time in human history. This is just the first layer, but the reminder to be conscious of our words is paramount. Your ability to manifest is amplified by this process, so it is extremely important to make sure you are focusing and paying attention to your words. Habits are at times difficult to break. The clearing of your matrix continues from Day 1 and is assisting with releasing those habits with ease and grace.

Be the observer. Watch your words and make any adjustments necessary. You may be surprised at what you learn about yourself. Listen, watch, observe. What do you say unconsciously that you need to change, release or shift?

Your words are powerful. They are becoming even more powerful with this work, so pay attention and make the appropriate changes necessary.
