Physician Recommended Nutraceuticals Receives U.S. Patent for its Unique 3:1 Omega 3 Composition

Irvine, Calif., November 10, 2015 – ALPHA EON Corporation and its subsidiary company PRN Physician Recommended Nutraceuticals, LLC (PRN), a leading provider of nutritional supplements, today announced that the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office issued to PRN U.S. Patent No. 9,115,078 “Compositions for Improving the Quality of the Meibum Composition of Inflamed or Dysfunctional Meibomian Glands.”

The patent is another major milestone for PRN. A recent study positively assessed the effect of the company’s oral re-esterified triglyceride omega-3 fatty acids for patients with occasional dry eye symptoms. Dry eye symptoms can include dryness, itching, burning, sensitivity to light and blurry vision. This new 3:1 patented composition delivers a total amount of 2668mg Omega-3 essential fatty acids¹.

Dr. Michael Gross, Chief Medical Officer for PRN, stated, “We believe in putting clinical data and scientific evidence behind our products and this patent is testament to that commitment. I could not be prouder of the hard work and dedication that went into this effort.”

Ken Krieg, PRN’s Chief Executive Officer added, “The granting of our patent further establishes our leadership position in providing high quality nutraceuticals. Our supplements can offer real relief and benefits to consumers with occasional dry eye symptoms, and we’re thrilled with the recognition.”
