

Gardeners & Growers Alike will be Ticked Pink by our Surprising New Deciduous Azalea!

PINK-A-BOO!

Azalea 'Pink-A-Boo' is a brand new deciduous azalea, available exclusively at Briggs. Hybridized by Robertha Arneson in 1987, 'Pink-A-Boo's' parentage includes an F3 selection of Gallipoli x Cecile, among others. Large (4-inch), bright pink flowers with orange flares appear midseason, before the foliage emerges. Its flowers are broadly funnel shaped with frilly margins, born in clusters of 7-10. New leaves emerge with rust-red mottling, then expand to glossy, solid green.
