Cam Crawford Announces Candidacy for Horry County Council District 6

(Socastee, SC) -- Cam Crawford filed the necessary paperwork today, making him eligible to seek the Republican nomination for Horry County Council District 6. Crawford was elected last August in a special election for the seat.

Crawford is a small business owner and an employee with Coastal Carolina University. Crawford is a graduate of CCU and holds a Master's Degree in business administration from Webster University and is also a licensed property manager. He serves on the County's Infrastructure & Regulation Committee and also serves on the Board of Directors for the Waccamaw Regional Council of Governments and is involved with the Socastee/Saint James Kiwanis Club.

Commenting about his candidacy, Crawford said, "We have some infrastructure challenges in District 6, and I hope to continue my efforts of effectively addressing these concerns on Council."

Commenting further, Crawford stated, "I'm also focused on public safety in District 6. As we move forward it's important that we work to hire additional public safety personnel, while enhancing our ability to compete long-term."

Crawford closed with the following: "Maintaining quality of life is essential to ensuring prosperity in our community; that's what I'll work towards and fight for on Council."

Crawford lives in Socastee with his wife, Heather.
