

Choosing An Agent

The real estate agent of your choice will make a difference to the likely outcome of the selling process.

Always choose an agent in your local area. They have solid knowledge of local prices and will have potential buyers on hand who are looking to buy in the area.

Your agent will be able to advise you on the selling method best suited to your property and your needs, the type of buyer you are looking for and improvements that can increase the value of your property.

Be wary of agents providing top dollar estimates for your property, as they could be trying to buy your business with unrealistic price expectations.

A qualified agent can give you accurate advice on the real estate market.

Average property prices, sales activity, rental returns and population growth are just some of the types of information you can discuss with Molong Real Estate
