Flourishing in Marriage

Seventh week in the series: FLOURISH

1 Peter 3:1-7

The United States experiences an exorbitant amount of turbulence in family life, not least because of rampant individualism. Peter's instructions regarding marriage come as a helpful tonic.

Discussion Questions:

1. How do you respond to Peter's instructions for wives to "be subject to" their husbands?
2. What do you make of the fact that although the apostles Peter and Paul instruct wives to be subject to their husbands multiple times, they never instruct husbands to lead their wives?
3. What do you think it means for husbands to honor their wives (Peter), love their wives (Paul), and give up themselves for their wives (Paul)?
4. What do you think it might look like for a woman to focus on "the hidden person of the heart" as opposed to external appearance?
5. How do you think a woman (or man) could win an unbelieving spouse to Christ "without a word"?
