THE LEAGUE Of WOMEN VOTERS Of SUDBURY

Where it all began

On February 14, 1920 – six months before the 19th amendment to the Constitution was ratified – the League was formally organized in Chicago as the national League of Women Voters. Founder Carrie Chapman Catt described the purpose of the new organization:

“The League of Women Voters is not to dissolve any present organization but to unite all existing organizations of women who believe in its principles. It is not to lure women from partisanship but to combine them in an effort for legislation that will protect coming movements, which we cannot even foretell, from suffering the untoward conditions that have hindered for so long the coming of equal suffrage. Are the women of the United States big enough to see their opportunity?”

Three months after the national League was founded, the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts (LWVMA) was organized, on May 27, 1920. Right from the beginning, LWVMA studied issues and took action, trying to influence legislation and improve our community.

LWVMA has focused on many issues, including: election laws, natural resources, women’s health, children’s issues, civil rights, equal rights amendment, campaign finance reform, the open meeting law, state budget and finances, public education, gender equity, administration of justice, public safety, community preservation, casino gambling, redistricting, and many, many more.

The League of Women Voters is non-partisan and does not endorse political parties or candidates.

The League of Women Voters of Sudbury

The Sudbury League of Women Voters was established in 1957. For over 50 years the Sudbury League has worked to educate voters through a wide range of activities. The League studies current local issues, sponsors Candidates’ Nights, voter registration drives, issues forums, and voters guides. We take action on important issues such as education, domestic violence, gun control, the environment, campaign financing, health care, and good government.

And in addition to all that...we also have a lot of fun!
