Accountable

Benefit of Accountability Groups

1

Having a support group can reduce your pain or heighten your pleasure.

2

Creating a new habit along side someone else provides a stronger motivation to do what you committed to doing.

3

Regularly meeting with a group provides a healthy rhythm and makes it easier to stay the new course.

What You Should Cover in Your Accountability Group

Meet Twice Per Month – Shortly After Allocation Days

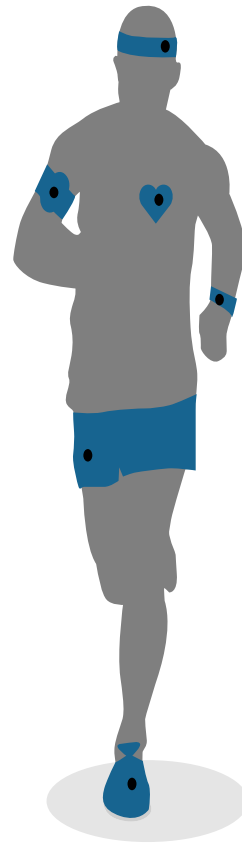

Each member provides an update about their business and how they handled action items

Gives update on small plate balances (the actual $ amounts)

Shares any struggles in allocating funds

Shares new successes and lessons learned (quarterly share what you do with your profit distribution)

Group asks questions about challenges and successes

Member commits to an action they will take
