Extending Knowledge; Transforming Practice

Journal of Family Nursing (http://jfn.sagepub.com) is owned by SAGE Publications. The first issue of this quarterly journal began in February 1995. Janice M. Bell, RN, PhD, (University of Calgary) is the Founding Editor of this journal.

The Journal of Family Nursing (JFN) is a peer-reviewed journal that publishes scholarly work on research, practice, education, and policy issues related to families in health and illness. The mission of the journal is to extend understanding about the relationships between families, health, illness, and health care with a goal of transforming practice with families by nurses and other helping professionals. Papers will be selected for their scientific merit and creative treatment of significant issues in the field. A compelling argument for how the paper significantly extends knowledge about a particular population of families and/or the care offered to families is a central requirement. Priority will be given to papers that focus on family interventions and knowledge transfer or knowledge translation of family nursing theory to practice settings. Interprofessional perspectives are encouraged, as are international contributions.

The JFN received its first Impact Factor in the Thomson-Reuters Scientific Journal Citation Reports 2007. JFN has a 2015 Impact Factor of 1.775 and is now ranked 12/43 in Family Studies; 14/114 in Nursing (SSCI); 16/116 in Nursing (SCI). One of the objectives of the journal is to establish a forum in which practitioners, educators, and researchers in various clinical specialties and disciplines can extend the lively debate and begin a more critical dialogue to grow knowledge about the family in health and illness and transform family focused health care.

This Journal is a member of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE).

This Journal recommends that authors follow the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals formulated by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE)

There are no fees payable to submit or publish in this journal.

Checklist for your manuscript:

1. Manuscripts should be 15-25 typewritten (12-point Times New Roman font) double-spaced pages, (the page restriction does not include references or tables). Insure 2.54 cm margins on all pages and use 1.27 cm first line indentation for new paragraphs and 1.27 cm hanging indentation for all double-spaced references. Place Tables and Figures after the references or upload as separate files.

2. Abstract should be a maximum of 150 words, without headings.
3. Format the manuscript using the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition) and provide the full URL for the article (this should include the article DOI, if the article is hosted online. Otherwise, please provide the DOI, if available). This APA style blog post, discussing the DOI Display Guidelines Update (March 2017), provides some more helpful information around this initiative.

4. Please visit SAGE’s Journal Author Gateway for Artwork Guidelines.

5. Funding: JFN requires all authors to acknowledge their funding in a consistent fashion under a separate heading. Please visit the Funding Acknowledgements page on the SAGE Journal Author Gateway to confirm the format of the acknowledgment text in the event of funding, or state that: This research received no specific grant from any funding agency in the public, commercial, or not-for-profit sectors.

6. It is the policy of JFN to require a declaration of conflicting interests from all authors enabling a statement to be carried within the paginated pages of all published articles.

   Please ensure that a ‘Declaration of Conflicting Interests’ statement is included at the end of your manuscript, after any acknowledgements and prior to the references. If no conflict exists, please state that ‘The Author(s) declare(s) that there is no conflict of interest’.

   For guidance on conflict of interest statements, please see the ICMJE recommendations here.

7. Medical research involving human subjects must be conducted according to the World Medical Association Declaration of Helsinki.

   Submitted manuscripts should conform to the ICMJE Recommendations for the Conduct, Reporting, Editing, and Publication of Scholarly Work in Medical Journals, and all papers reporting animal and/or human studies must state in the methods section that the relevant Ethics Committee or Institutional Review Board provided (or waived) approval. Please ensure that you have provided the full name and institution of the review committee, in addition to the approval number.

   For research articles, authors are also required to state in the methods section whether participants provided informed consent and whether the consent was written or verbal.

   Information on informed consent to report individual cases or case series should be included in the manuscript text. A statement is required regarding whether written informed consent for patient information and images to be published was provided by the patient(s) or a legally authorized representative.

   Please also refer to the ICMJE Recommendations for the Protection of Research Participants.

8. Authorship: Papers should only be submitted for consideration once consent is given by all contributing authors. Those submitting papers should carefully check that all those whose work contributed to the paper are acknowledged as contributing authors.
The list of authors should include all those who can legitimately claim authorship. This is all those who:

(i) Made a substantial contribution to the concept or design of the work; or acquisition, analysis or interpretation of data,
(ii) Drafted the article or revised it critically for important intellectual content,
(iii) Approved the version to be published,
(iv) Each author should have participated sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for appropriate portions of the content.

Authors should meet the conditions of all of the points above. When a large, multicentre group has conducted the work, the group should identify the individuals who accept direct responsibility for the manuscript. These individuals should fully meet the criteria for authorship.

Acquisition of funding, collection of data, or general supervision of the research group alone does not constitute authorship, although all contributors who do not meet the criteria for authorship should be listed in the Acknowledgments section. Please refer to the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE) authorship guidelines for more information on authorship.

All contributors who do not meet the criteria for authorship should be listed in an Acknowledgements section. Examples of those who might be acknowledged include a person who provided purely technical help, or a department chair who provided only general support. Please supply any personal acknowledgements separately to the main text to facilitate anonymous peer review.

9. Blinding protocol for all references: Each journal uses its own blinding protocol. The Journal of Family Nursing adheres to a rigorous double-blind reviewing policy in which the identity of both the reviewer and author are always concealed from both parties. Please remove the name of the university/institution from which ethical approval was received and substitute a general statement instead. Remove the full citation information for all authors' previous publications. Instead, use the protocol of "Author Blinded and year of publication ONLY" in both the citations in text as well as the reference list. Remove all other identifying information about the publication. For example, the following reference would be identified only as “Author Blinded (2010)” in both the citation in text as well as the reference list:

If your manuscript is accepted for publication, this identifying information will be re-inserted into manuscript as your manuscript is prepared for publication.

Submission to JFN implies that the manuscript has not been published elsewhere, nor is it under consideration by another journal.

Submit all manuscripts electronically to: http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com:80/jfn

For more information see the journal website: http://journals.sagepub.com/home/jfn

If you or your funder wishes your article to be freely available online to nonsubscribers immediately upon publication (gold open access), you can opt for it to be included in SAGE Choice, subject to payment of a publication fee. The manuscript submission and peer review procedure is unchanged. On acceptance of your article, you will be asked to let SAGE know directly if you are choosing SAGE Choice. To check journal eligibility and the publication fee, please visit SAGE Choice. For more information on open access options and compliance at SAGE, including self author archiving deposits (green open access) visit SAGE Publishing Policies on our Journal Author Gateway.

APPENDIX A

SAGE Guidelines that govern the reprint of a published article:

- You may do whatever you wish with the version of the article you submitted to the journal (version 1).

- Once the article has been accepted for publication, you may post the accepted version (version 2) of the article on your own personal website, your department’s website or the repository of your institution without any restrictions.

- You may not post the accepted version (version 2) of the article in any repository other than those listed above (i.e. you may not deposit in the repository of another institution or a subject repository) until 12 months after publication of the article in the journal.

- You may use the published article (version 3) for your own teaching needs or to supply on an individual basis to research colleagues, provided that such supply is not for commercial purposes.

- You may use the article (version 3) in a book you write or edit any time after publication in the journal.

- You may not post the published article (version 3) on a website, e.g., ResearchGate, etc. or in an institutional repository without permission from SAGE. (Email: permissions@sagepub.com)

- When posting or re-using the article please provide a link to the appropriate DOI for the published version of the article on SAGE Journals (http://online.sagepub.com)

“Many of my editing projects are in the health care field, especially nursing, counseling, and medicine. In the past year, I have edited many theses and manuscripts for publication. I would say that I have a keen ability in editing and writing, and a broad knowledge of academic subject areas.”

*If you decide to use one of these resources, please share an evaluation of your experience with me (email: jmbell@ucalgary.ca) so that I continue to recommend great resources to prospective authors of the Journal of Family Nursing. Thank you!

SAGE has adopted Kudos as a system for measuring publication impact and is recommending Kudos to SAGE authors

Q. What is Kudos?
A. Kudos is a third party service for authors, which allows them to explain, enrich, share, and measure the impact of their article, with a view to increasing the usage and citations of their paper. For more information see: www.growkudos.com

Q. Why was Kudos developed?
A. As the volume of research output increases, it’s more important than ever for researchers to promote their own work. Many want to do this, but don’t know where to start. Kudos gives them the support and tools to guide them through the process. In the initial pilot study conducted in late 2013, authors using the Kudos sharing tools saw 19% higher downloads for their published work.

Q. How does Kudos work?
A. Authors register for an account on Kudos. They can then ‘claim’ their journal articles. Kudos provides tools which enables registered authors to:
1) Add a lay summary, impact statement and personal perspective to their Kudos publications page, to explain their article for a broader audience
2) Add supplementary data to their publications page on the Kudos site such as podcasts and videos to enrich their article
3) Share their paper directly on Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn and by email
4) Measure impact through seeing citations and Altmetric scores for their work
The service is free for authors to use.

Q. Where does Kudos link to?
A. Kudos directs users to the final, published version of the article on the SAGE site.

Q. How is SAGE working with Kudos?
A. Following a pilot program with 10 of our journals, SAGE has partnered with Kudos to include all of our journals in the service.
As a result, your authors will receive a personalized email inviting them to register on the Kudos site and start using the available tools upon publication of their article online.

Q. How will my journal benefit from this partnership?
A. Your journal will benefit from a highly compelling author care message and service, along with an effective means to drive overall usage and citations for your journal.
