

Day 7

Articulating the energetics of this activation is challenging. With profound power, the frequency of the Cosmic Kunzite ignites within your matrix. A dance of Light and sound explodes, opening your fields to receive the influx of Divine Love.

Gentle, yet powerful, pulse waves of energy flow as your psyche/consciousness is expanded to embody more than ever before.

As a walking embodiment of this Cosmic frequency of Kunzite, your mere presence activates and, at times, triggers radical and profound shifts in those around you (when they are aligned with their higher self, of course).

The Divine Love and compassion, along with the self-confidence and strength you hold, enables you to be in service at this level.

Know that you are supported deeply, and are more equipped than ever before, to step into the unknown with confidence and grace.

As parts of your shadow continue to come to the surface, call forth the Cosmic Kunzite to gently support the surrender of these "false" energies so you can easily embody your true nature of Divine Light, confidence and power.

You ARE Divine Light.
