Day 13

Transmission: 30:35

Music: The Space Between Spaces - Sean Maher

Celebrate! Remember that you are Source Energy manifesting in physicality. You can create anything your heart desires. Working within the void and merging your mind, body and spirit produce your reality.

This activation continues to cement this understanding into your awareness and energy patterns. The more you “practice”, the better you become. This is true of any endeavor.

As your thoughts and perceptions align with the understanding that you can and do create your reality, your ability to keep your focus expands. Working within the void is the first action step, if you will. As you ignite and pulse your desire from this space, the universe begins to bring forth opportunities and situations to enable your manifestation. Act upon the opportunities given.

Within our physical world, action is required. Although I rarely refer to religious stories, one in particular is very pertinent right now: The parable of the flood. You are probably familiar, and it goes like this:

A man was trapped in his house during a flood. He began praying to God to rescue him. He had a vision in his head of God’s hand reaching down from heaven and lifting him to safety. The water started to rise in his house. His neighbor urged him to leave and offered him a ride to safety. The man yelled back, “I am waiting for God to save me.” The neighbor drove off in his pick-up truck.

The man continued to pray and hold on to his vision. As the water began rising in his house, he had to climb up to the roof. A boat came by with some people heading for safe ground. They yelled at the man to grab a rope they were ready to throw and take him to safety. He told them that he was waiting for God to save him. They shook their heads and moved on.

The man continued to pray, believing with all his heart that he would be saved by God. The flood waters continued to rise. A helicopter flew by and a voice came over a loudspeaker offering to lower a ladder and take him off the roof. The man waved the helicopter away, shouting back that he was waiting for God to save him. The helicopter left. The flooding water came over the roof and caught him up and swept him away. He drowned.

When he reached heaven and asked, "God, why did you not save me? I believed in you with all my heart. Why did you let me drown?" God replied, "I sent you a pick-up truck, a boat and a helicopter and you refused all of them. What else could I possibly do for you?"

Manifestation is about creating the opportunity and taking action to bring it into physical reality.

Listen to your Higher Self, do what is necessary in the real world to create the changes you desire, be open to all the ways the universe conspires to align your outer world with what you want to experience and create.

Do not create on auto-pilot.

You are a master of Light and more powerful than you can image. Thank you for forging the path for yourself and humanity to step into this truth.
