

Embodying the COSMIC ELEMENTS AIR

13 Day Activation Series

Day 13

Transmission: 29:32

Music: Sean Maher - Lift-Off

Streams of Light dance as you are re-connected at a deeper level to what your heart desires to manifest in this lifetime.

Holding higher frequencies of Light and Love is our main job and objective as we serve as way showers for humanity to remember who they truly are.

However, each of us has individual desires and experiences we want to manifest during this sojourn. This activation re-establishes a stronger connection to those desires.

The energetic blueprints of what you came in to manifest, along with the added support to remember, connect with, and bring into fruition those desires, strengthens within your fields.

So much love and Light is pouring in, articulating it is difficult. My heart is dancing and exploding with joy, yet I have to stay composed to facilitate the energetic re-connection. The magnitude of the support is overwhelming.

Small, large, personal or planetary, your contributions to the world matter. Each act of conscious (or unconscious) co-creation is significant. Never forget that. Work with the frequency of the Cosmic Air to support your ability to manifest from the heart, with love and compassion, bringing into manifest reality the highest potential possible.

Thank you for being YOU.
