CONFERENCE OF UNIVERSITIES. ORGANIZATION EFFECTED.	QUESTION FOR DEBATE.	CALLED TO WASHINGTON.	MR. MICHENER'S LECTURE.
President Wheeler Elected Vice-President. Representatives of the leading American universities effected a permanent organization in Chicago last Wednesday in pursuance of a plan to bring the various American universities into closer relations with each other. A motion of Dr. Conaty, rector of the Catholic University of America, that a vote of thanks be tendered the University of California for taking the initiative in bringing about the conference which has resulted in a permanent organization, brought forth remarks most complimentary to the University of California. President Harper of the University of Chicago said this was the most complete movement that had taken place in higher education in this country for the last fifty years. The new organization is to be called the "Association of American Universities." It is for the purpose of considering matters of common interest relating to graduate study. The initial membership consists of the following: Yale University, Catholic University of America, University of Chicago, Clark University, Columbia University, Cornell University, Harvard University, Johns Hopkins University, University of Michigan, Princeton University, University of Pennsylvania, Leland Stanford Jr. University, University of Wisconsin and University of California. The following executive committee was elected: President, Charles W. Eliot of Harvard; vice-president, Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California; secretary, William R. Harper of the University of Chicago. The remaining two members of the committee are President C. D. Gilman of Johns Hopkins University and President Seth Low of Columbia University. President Harper addressed the meeting on the subject of giving recognition to students who complete only two years of the undergraduate course. He gave many reasons why a title should be conferred upon students at the end of the sophomore year. One of the most important results could be that the small institutions would give up the work of the Junior and Senior years and would thereby be enabled to confine their efforts to bringing the work of the first two years to a high standard. President Harper announced that the authorities of the University of Chicago had unanimously voted to confer the title of "associate" on students who have completed the first two years of their college course. No less than ten institutions have already agreed to arrange their work in accordance with this action.	California-Stanford Committee to Meet Tomorrow. The meeting of the Conference Debating Committee of Stanford and California will take place tomorrow afternoon in San Francisco. It has been agreed already that this year we shall present the question for debate, and Stanford shall choose the side they prefer. For some time past there has been dispute concerning the place of holding the debate, Stanford contending that it should be held at Berkeley and Palo Alto in alternate years. As a just and fitting means of ending this controversy California's committee has decided to submit to Stanford the following question for the intercollegiate debate: "Resolved, That the intercollegiate debate should be held in San Francisco." If Stanford is willing to champion her cause by taking the negative of this proposition, the California committee asks that the decision of the judges be made binding on both universities.	Professor Moses to Be a Philippine Commissioner. Professor Bernard P. Moses of the Department of History and Political Science, left yesterday morning for Washington, D. C., whither he was summoned by President McKinley. On Wednesday evening Professor Moses received a letter from Senator George C. Perkins, notifying him that he was being favorably mentioned for a place on the Philippine Commission, and that President McKinley wanted to see him regarding the matter of his appointment. Upon this sudden notification Professor Moses prepared immediately to answer the call. Though the University thus loses for a time one of its most valued heads of departments, this probable appointment by the President confers a compliment at once upon Professor Moses and this University, and secures for the Philippine Commission a man whose qualifications for the place could not be excelled. Professor Moses is not only an authority upon matters of political economy and national policy, but has, moreover, traveled extensively in Oriental countries and has a large fund of information relative to the Philippine archipelago. He also speaks the Spanish language fluently, and is acquainted with a number of the mixed dialects spoken in some of the islands. Professor Moses states that he is not now prepared to express an opinion regarding the new colonial possessions of the United States, but that he has always been in thorough sympathy with the Asiatic policy of the administration.	Large and Appreciative Audience in Stiles Hall. A large number of college men were at Stiles Hall last night to hear the lecture of Mr. C. C. Michener on "Striking Characteristics and Peculiar Temptations of American Students." Dr. Babcock presided. Mr. Michener is a very forcible speaker; he had the closest attention from all the audience during his lecture. He began by saying that at a recent celebration in honor of the Emperor of Germany's birthday, the Emperor remarked of a body of German students: "Those men are rulers of the German Empire." If this statement is true of conservative Germany, how much truer it is of progressive America? There is no country of the world in which graduates of Universities take such positions of responsibility as in America. And where the students of this country go there will the country itself go. We can never rise one whit above the level of the lives of our men who are students. American students are the most independent of any students in the world. This is shown in two ways. They have not the reverence for their Professors which the students in England and the European countries have, and in no other country is there so large a percentage of students who are working their way through college. Our students are more practical than those of other countries and are more aggressive than the majority of other students. They accomplish more than their fellows of other lands. The enthusiasm of American students is a source of wonder to English or European students. The speaker said that a number of English students while visiting in this country, heard a college yell for the first time in their lives and were at a loss to account for such an outburst. But American students are much more superficial in thinking on deep subjects, especially those of a religious nature than most European students. The speaker then continued: "Most of us are in college with a desire to succeed. We expect to gain power here to do better our duties in life. But what we shall be outside of college depends upon what we are while students. That some students fail after graduation is no wonder. The lives of some men in college absolutely preclude any possibility of success in life; and no prophet is required to see this. 'Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for what a man soweth that shall he also reap' is as true in the life of a man as it is in nature." Of the temptations of American students the first the speaker mentioned was profanity. He said that of all, this is the least excusable. Any man will admit that it is wholly unnecessary. He who indulges in profanity, whatever his station in society may be, is no gentleman. The next temptation was gambling. No reputable business house will employ a man who is known to gamble. A great house in San Francisco employs a detective to watch the lives of its employees outside of business hours. The man who acquires the habit of gambling gets something which will absolutely unfit him for any business whatever. Continuing, Mr. Michener said that the habits of drinking and immorality were the worst temptations of American students. He said in regard to the first: "I always tremble for a man who begins this habit." The other, he said, destroys a man's self-respect and with that goes his good reputation.
	RECEPTION AND CONCERT. Lower Classes Will Be Guests at Hearst Hall. Mrs. Hearst will be at home to the Junior and Sophomore classes, and to members of the Faculty, at Hearst Hall tomorrow, from 3:00 to 6:00 p. m. This is the seventh in the series of receptions given by Mrs. Hearst to the various classes. On Sunday the Freshman class and Faculty members are invited to attend the seventh in the series of concerts at Hearst Hall. The following is the program and list of executants for this concert: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Fantasie—Muck, for Violin and Piano, op. 73. Schuman I. Zart und mit Ausdruck. II. Lebhaft, leicht. III. Rasch und mit Feuer. 2. Songs—(a) Excerpt (Brunhilde) from Siegfried. Wagner (b) Rastlose Liebe. Schubert Five Minutes Intermission. 3. Song—"The Bird and the Maiden," with violin obligato. Spohr 4. Kreutzer Sonata in A minor, op. 47. For piano and violin. Beethoven Adagio Lestante, Presto. Andante con Variazioni. Finale, Presto. Executants. Pianoforte. Miss Ernestine Goldman Violin. Mr. Henry Holmes Vocalist Madame Seminerio. Accompanist Mr. Fred Maurer.	Freshman Meeting. The Freshman class will hold a meeting today in Room 16, North Hall, at 11:15 a. m. An important part of the business will be the decision as to the nature of the celebration which the Class of 1903 will produce, in accordance with the Bourdon tradition. The general sentiment of the class seems to be in favor of a spectacular entertainment which shall be only a modification of the old-time Bourdon.	Blue and Gold Notice. Copy for the Blue and Gold will be received up to March 15th, at which date the forms will be closed. Only a few smaller contributions can be received after this date, and these must be presented before March 23rd.

THE intercollegiate debate seems already to have begun in the question submitted to Stanford. For a number of years she has been contending for the holding of debates alternately at the two Universities and we have as steadily adhered to holding them in San Francisco. Now we have an excellent opportunity for deciding the question purely upon its merits. Our committee have put forward an extremely good opening argument in placing Stanford in the dilemma of binding herself, by acceptance of the question, to abide by the decision of impartial judges; or of admitting by a refusal that her contentions are not just nor sincere as urged by her debating committee.

The question is novel in not following the tradition of debating some abstract question but the advantages of the innovation are obvious. Both sides will have the incentive of a real interest at stake, which ought to add all the needed fire to the respective speakers' arguments. It will have the unusual feature of throwing the teams on their own responsibility for arguments and the successful side will have to carry the weight of intellectual persuasion with it to win. There is no doubt that students, alumni and partisans of both sides will take an unprecedented interest in the debate. Stanford's reply is awaited with interest.

PRACTICE GAME YESTERDAY.
High School Team Defeated by a Large Score.

The Varsity won the game played yesterday afternoon with the Berkeley High School by the score of 16 to 3. The game was poor and without interest on account of its one-sidedness. Although there were not as many hits made as in the game with the Dentals on Thursday, yet the Californians hit Plumber, the High School pitcher, freely. Eddy pitched all but two of the innings, having relieved Kaarsberg during the third. The work of the Varsity was up to the average with Hunter leading in fielding. For the High School Roy Jones on third and R. Boettiger behind the bat showed up in the best form.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Varsity will play their game with the Fireman's Fund. California's chances for winning this game are favorable. In the two previous games the Fireman's Fund have come out ahead, but the improvement which has taken place in the Varsity during the past two weeks should more than offset the advantage the San Franciscans had earlier in the season. The make-up of the two contesting teams is as follows:

California.	Fireman's Fund.
Smith catcher	J. Hammond
Kaarsberg pitcher	Moskiman
Hamlin first base	Follansbee
Fuller second base	Webber
Braley third base	Dunn
Hunter short stop	Schmeer
Wolf left field	Krug
McKown c. field	W. Hammond
Mein right field	Butler
