

FSU Meets: Lauds Byrne, Makes Rules

Administrative by-laws and two substantive resolutions were the product of the first meeting of the assembly of the Free Student Union (FSU).

In the first of the two resolutions, the assembly dealt with the Byrnes Report saying, "This body wishes to commend the penetrating insight into the facts which the writers of the Byrne Report have exercised.

"While we are particularly pleased that the report establishes the atmosphere for large scale reform of the University structure, we regret that the recommendations in the Byrne Report did not make more explicit the major role that the students and the principle of freedom must necessarily play in the reconstitution in any government of any campus which hopes to be successful.

"We wish to commend the intellectual honesty Mr. Byrne demonstrated by presenting his employers with a report which so obviously violated their prejudices.

"We express our disgust that a small minority of the Regents should attempt to keep this report from the public, the governor, and even the remainder of the Regents. We are sorry that the Regents continue to act in an atmosphere of secrecy and suppression of the truth."

In a second resolution, the assembly called the proposals of the Meyer Committee "totally unacceptable to this body.

The Meyer Committee of the Board of Regents has recommended certain rules dealing with political activity on campus.

The following administrative procedures were also approved:

- Assembly meetings are open to all.
- 50% of assembly shall constitute a quorum.
- Individual locals may establish their own quorums.
- Validation of representatives from locals with under 30 members, with understanding that such locals will obtain the necessary members shortly.

Meetings of time locals will consider proposals on methods of voting on strikes and formation of committees Monday and Tuesday.

VW Flips, But Coed Rescued

A group of Bowles Hall residents pulled an injured coed from beneath her overturned car on Gayley Road at 1 a.m. yesterday morning.

The girl, identified only as "Miss Chapman," was trapped after her Volkswagen crossed over into the other lane and side-swiped a small sports car.

As her car swung back from the collision, it hit a pole on the roadside and turned on its side.

Miss Chapman was trapped "half-in and half-out" of the car, according to Jan Kucera, a Bowles Hall resident who was among the first to arrive at the scene.

Kucera said he had heard the noise of the crash and walked down to see what had happened when he "got the feeling someone might have been seriously hurt."

Kucera said Miss Chapman "was kinda yelling" for someone to get the car off her. He and (Continued on page 16)

Byrne Report

Kerr Huddles With VIP's

University President Clark Kerr summoned all nine campus chancellors to University House Wednesday night to distribute and discuss the controversial Byrne Report.

Most of the chancellors had not seen the report previous to the meeting and consequently could not comment on it, several chancellors said yesterday.

DIDN'T SEE IT

"I don't think even Kerr had seen it," said Davis Chancellor Emil Mark yesterday. "The press had the report before we did," he added.

Irvine Chancellor Daniel Aldrich, Jr., said he first saw the Byrne Report in the Los Angeles Times.

Next week the chancellors will reconvene at UCLA to discuss the Byrne Report and hear comments from President Kerr.

OTHER PLANS

Yesterday it was reported President Kerr will offer a plan—slightly different from the Byrne Report—giving the nine campuses more autonomy.

The plan calls for two citizens' boards for each campus, appointed by the Board of Regents. One board would handle construction projects and the other, gifts and endowments.

According to one source, Kerr will also recommend the Regents condense all committee meetings into a monthly, one-day meeting; and that the statewide University headquarters be moved from its present location opposite this campus.

NOTHING NEW

Chancellor Mark said the new Kerr proposals are "nothing new," but a presentation of issues which have been discussed for some time.

Bulletin

(AP)—Mario Savio, 22 year old former leader of the now defunct Free Speech Movement, said last night he expects to return to the University as a student next fall.

Savio said although he dropped out two months ago, he has been accepted for readmission. He was a philosophy major.

Byrne Report

Fourteen hundred copies of the Byrne Report calling for large-scale reform of the University will be distributed to students only at 2 p.m. today from the Information desk in the Student Union, according to a University spokesman.

Seven hundred other copies will be distributed by the Academic Senate to faculty members through their departments. Faculty are asked not to call at the Academic Senate office.

Regents' Terms Won't Be Cut

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation cutting the 16-year terms of University regents in half died in the Assembly Education Committee Thursday.

The committee sent to between-sessions study the measure by Assemblyman Charles Warren (D-Los Angeles).

The bill also would have provided for the terms of two regents to expire every year.

FSM Leader Testifies

Savio Recalls October Days

By TOM KNOX

Mario Savio relived the frantic October days of the police car sit-around yesterday, as he took the stand in the trial of himself and his fellow Sproul Hall sit-ins.

A noon rally had been planned the day non-student Jack Weinberg was arrested by campus police for soliciting funds against University regulations, Savio told the court, and consequently numerous students were in the area.

Savio described the student reaction to the arrest: "Some moved to sit in front of the police car, others behind it, and others to the sides."

Both he and ASUC President Charlie Powell spoke from the top of the auto, Savio remembered.

Following the speeches, "We went to the dean's office . . . and from there to see the Chancellor," the FSM leader recalled.

"Charlie Powell said he was trying to use the good offices of his presidency to bring the Chancellor and demonstrators together," Savio testified.

At the meeting with then Chancellor Strong, Savio told the court, "I then explained we wanted charges against suspended students dropped, we wanted Jack released, and we wanted to enter into negotiations on the subject of student political rights."

"What was Chancellor Strong's reaction," the defense counsel asked.

"No," replied Savio.

On Oct. 2, student leaders of the incipient FSM met with President Kerr and Chancellor Strong in the President's office at University Hall. At that time, Savio testified, Kerr proposed a four point plan.

● students cease the unlawful demonstration and free the automobile.

● a faculty-student-administration committee would be set up to consider the problem of political expression.

Acad. Sen. Discusses Freedom and Grads

The Academic Senate yesterday passed a series of recommendations dealing with incomplete grades, academic freedom, and a host of other topics.

The Senate dealt with problems of academic freedom raised in the Katz case and in the alleged suppression by the University of a graduate student's report because of its controversial topic.

In the first case, the Senate decided the administration did not handle the Katz case according to proper academic procedures.

In a more general statement, they recommended the adminis-

U. Helps Vietnam Teach-In

By ANDY MCGALL

A meeting ground for the Vietnam Days next week has been found, thanks to the University, but still unknown is who will speak for the State Department.

Stephen Smale, professor of mathematics, and Jerry Rubin, a former graduate student, co-chairmen for the "community meeting" on the Vietnam situation, announced yesterday the administration will allow the use of University facilities for the 30-hour meeting.

To accommodate the huge crowds expected to attend the University is going to combine the lower Student Union Plaza and the baseball field behind it by removing the fence between the two and constructing a passageway from the field to the plaza.

The University will also elevate the podium so the speakers and entertainers can be seen by the whole audience.

Rubin called the University's actions "a tremendous concession." "They're afraid of a confrontation," he said.

While most of the speakers for the meeting have been obtained, it is still unknown if Juan Bosch, past president of the Dominican Republic, and William Bundy, Assistant to the President on Asian Affairs, will attend.

A State Department spokesman said yesterday, "We're working on Bundy, but he's a very busy man." The spokesman said the speaker chosen would probably be announced Monday.

Smale and Rubin also told the Administration they would be unable to keep off-campus groups from setting up tables on campus during the meeting.

"A completely free atmosphere is needed for the success of this important meeting," they said.

Present University rules do not allow unrecognized off-campus groups to set up tables on campus.

The University, however, agreed to relax the time, place, and manner regulations "to the extent that various groups can have three or four tables each."

Other speakers at the "teach-in" will include Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska; Dr. Benjamin Spock, pediatrician; Norman Thomas, a noted Socialist speaker; Eugene Burdick, author of "Fail-safe"; and Bob Moses, a Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee leader.

Entertainers will include the Committee, and the San Francisco Mime Troupe. The Troupe will give a benefit performance in the Berkeley High School theater.

The Senate Committee on Academic Freedom reported it had found no basis for his claims.

Other motions adopted involved changes in the assigning of the incomplete grade, including substituting the designation "I" for incomplete for the present designation "E."

The Senate also dealt with various technical problems of the proposed quarter system, and considered a poll of faculty opinion which had been taken on the subject. The results of the poll showed 497 professors indicating disapproval of the quarter system, as opposed to the present system and 319 approving it.

Big Bird Here

Large Pelicans will descend on the campus in droves today . . . About 5000 of the little devils. This month's pelly sports 60 pages of ribald idiocy for a mere 40 cents. It rapidly becomes clear to any math major that the price thus comes to 1.5 pages per penny—a bargain indeed.

The issue dedicates itself to numerous nauseating parodies of the leading magazines of the nation (Playboy, Realist, et al) and in the process, leaves out such beloved features as "between classes" and Editor Dick Corten's seldom memorable editorials.

The lower left-hand corner of the cover, however, is particularly interesting.

The best part of the whole mag is the ad on page 18. That page is certainly worth the full .66 cents. (As is page 22 and a few others.)

The delightful parody on Spider entitled "Cockroach" is delightful (page 40). The drawing of the cockroach on the cover is nice also.

Anyway, the Pelly is considerably different from the run-of-the-mill Pelican you find walking around the student union, and is probably worth taking a look at. After all 40 cents doesn't even buy a good six box of bennies anymore so what else could you better spend your allowances on?

Enough said. Now go read the damn bird.

Cold Co-ed Moves Table

A co-ed came in from the cold yesterday.

Jo Freeman, the tablesitter who wants to be arrested, moved her table and controversial University Civil Liberties Committee (UCLC) sign to the warmer, protected area on the steps of the Student Union yesterday.

Since Monday Miss Freeman has manned a table at Sather Gate for UCLA with a sign affixed to the gate in violation of Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson's Interim Rules on Student Conduct.

Goldberg Sentence

Art Goldberg, former University student and FSM leader convicted for uttering obscene words at a campus rally, will be sentenced June 8.

Goldberg had originally asked to be sentenced yesterday. However Goldberg's attorneys contacted the district attorney's office Wednesday evening and asked the sentencing be put over until other defendants are also sentenced.

Goldberg was convicted on two counts of disturbing the peace and two obscenity charges.

Goldberg and his attorney were unavailable for comment on his reasons for wishing the sentencing to be postponed.

She hopes to be arrested and thus be a test case for the Interim Rules.

Miss Freeman charges the administration discriminates in enforcing the rules since there are, she claims, many violations by non-activist organizations which have not been prosecuted.

Wednesday a University policeman under orders from the Dean of Students' Office removed the sign. Miss Freeman quickly put up a duplicate. The officer, however, refused to arrest the co-ed, following his orders not to cite anyone.

A friend of Miss Freeman's said yesterday the co-ed would probably return to her Sather Gate site, sign and all, when the weather was warmer.

Miss Freeman could not be reached for comment.

More Room For Motorcycle Parking

Additional spaces for parking scooters and motorcycles will be available in two locations starting next Tuesday, according to Roy Oakes, City of Berkeley traffic engineer.

A space 30 feet long will be on the south side of Bancroft east of College Avenue and a 125 foot long space will be on Dana Street south of Harmon Gym.

Air Force ROTC has now been updated to fit into today's busy undergraduate schedule.

Here are the facts about the new two-year AFROTC Program.

Who is eligible for two-year AFROTC? Any male undergraduate who still has two years remaining in college. It's an especially good break for junior college students who plan to complete their baccalaureate requirements at a four-year institution.

What's the curriculum like? It's been thoroughly revamped. You won't find pat answers and traditional ritualized solutions to problems. New instructional methods teach the student to arrive at his own conclusions, and to test them against those of his classmates and instructors. Symbolic of the change is the new title—Department of Aerospace Studies.

How will students for the new program be chosen? First, you must pass the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test and have a medical examination. Then you meet with the interview board of senior Air Force officers, who will decide whether you are to be selected to attend the Field Training Course. This will be held during the summer before your junior year. Its purpose is two-fold; to let the Air Force judge you and to let you judge the Air Force. Only after you are both satisfied will you be enrolled in the program. So you see, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by applying now. But you must act fast—applications will be closing for next-year's juniors. Forms are available from the Professor of Aerospace Studies, or from Headquarters Air Force ROTC, Maxwell AFB, Alabama.

As an AFROTC cadet, will I receive pay? Yes, you will be paid for the Field Training Course which will amount to approximately $120. During the school year, you will be paid $40 a month, and you will also get free uniforms.

Will I have a chance to fly while I am in AFROTC? Senior graduates are eligible for the Flying Instructor Program. This involves 36½ hours of flight training and 35 hours of ground school. Successful completion earns you a civilian, private pilot's license.

'65 Gridders Debut Against Alums

Hunt at QB in Juggled Lineup

By JOHN RODGERS

Youth will be the key to victory this Saturday when Coach Ray Willsey's varsity Bears are challenged by Jim "Truck" Cullom's Alumni squad tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 in Memorial stadium.

Admission for this annual event is free to all athletic card holders and the rally committee suggests that everyone wear white.

Off hand, it would seem that the varsity should wail unmercifully on the Alumni as did Cal's next year opponent Notre Dame last week when the Irish beat their grads 74-0. But that will not be the case this Saturday.

Not only is Cullom's squad sprinkled generously with dashes of youth, but there is also a large spoonful of greatness among his charges.

The youth is in the form of such recent Bears as Jack Schraub and all-American Craig Morton, both on leave from the Dallas Cowboys, and Ron Calegari from the Kansas City Chiefs. All three of these individuals were outstanding for the Blue and Gold last season.

The greatness is in former All-Pro linebacker Les Richter and fullback Johnny Olszewski, both Cal All-Americans, as well as AFL standout Wayne Crow.

The varsity squad will be getting their first taste of competition this year. Mentor Willsey will have a chance to see how the Bears work their new slot-T offense and how the 14 players he switched around perform in their new positions. Eight changes were made on offense and six on defense.

By no means is the varsity hurting for youth, and after the game tomorrow some of next year's greats may begin to shine through.

Both the defense and the offense will get a good workout, as the Alums represent the best to face the Varsity in the seven year history of the game. The Alumni have won only one game and that was the first in 1959 when Joe Kapp passed for the victory.

The varsity pass defense, a sore spot on last year's squad, should receive quite a workout tomorrow afternoon. Veteran Ken Moulton, frosh Bobby Smith, and lettermen Tyrone Price and Jerry Mosher should have a full afternoon trying to bat away Alumni passes.

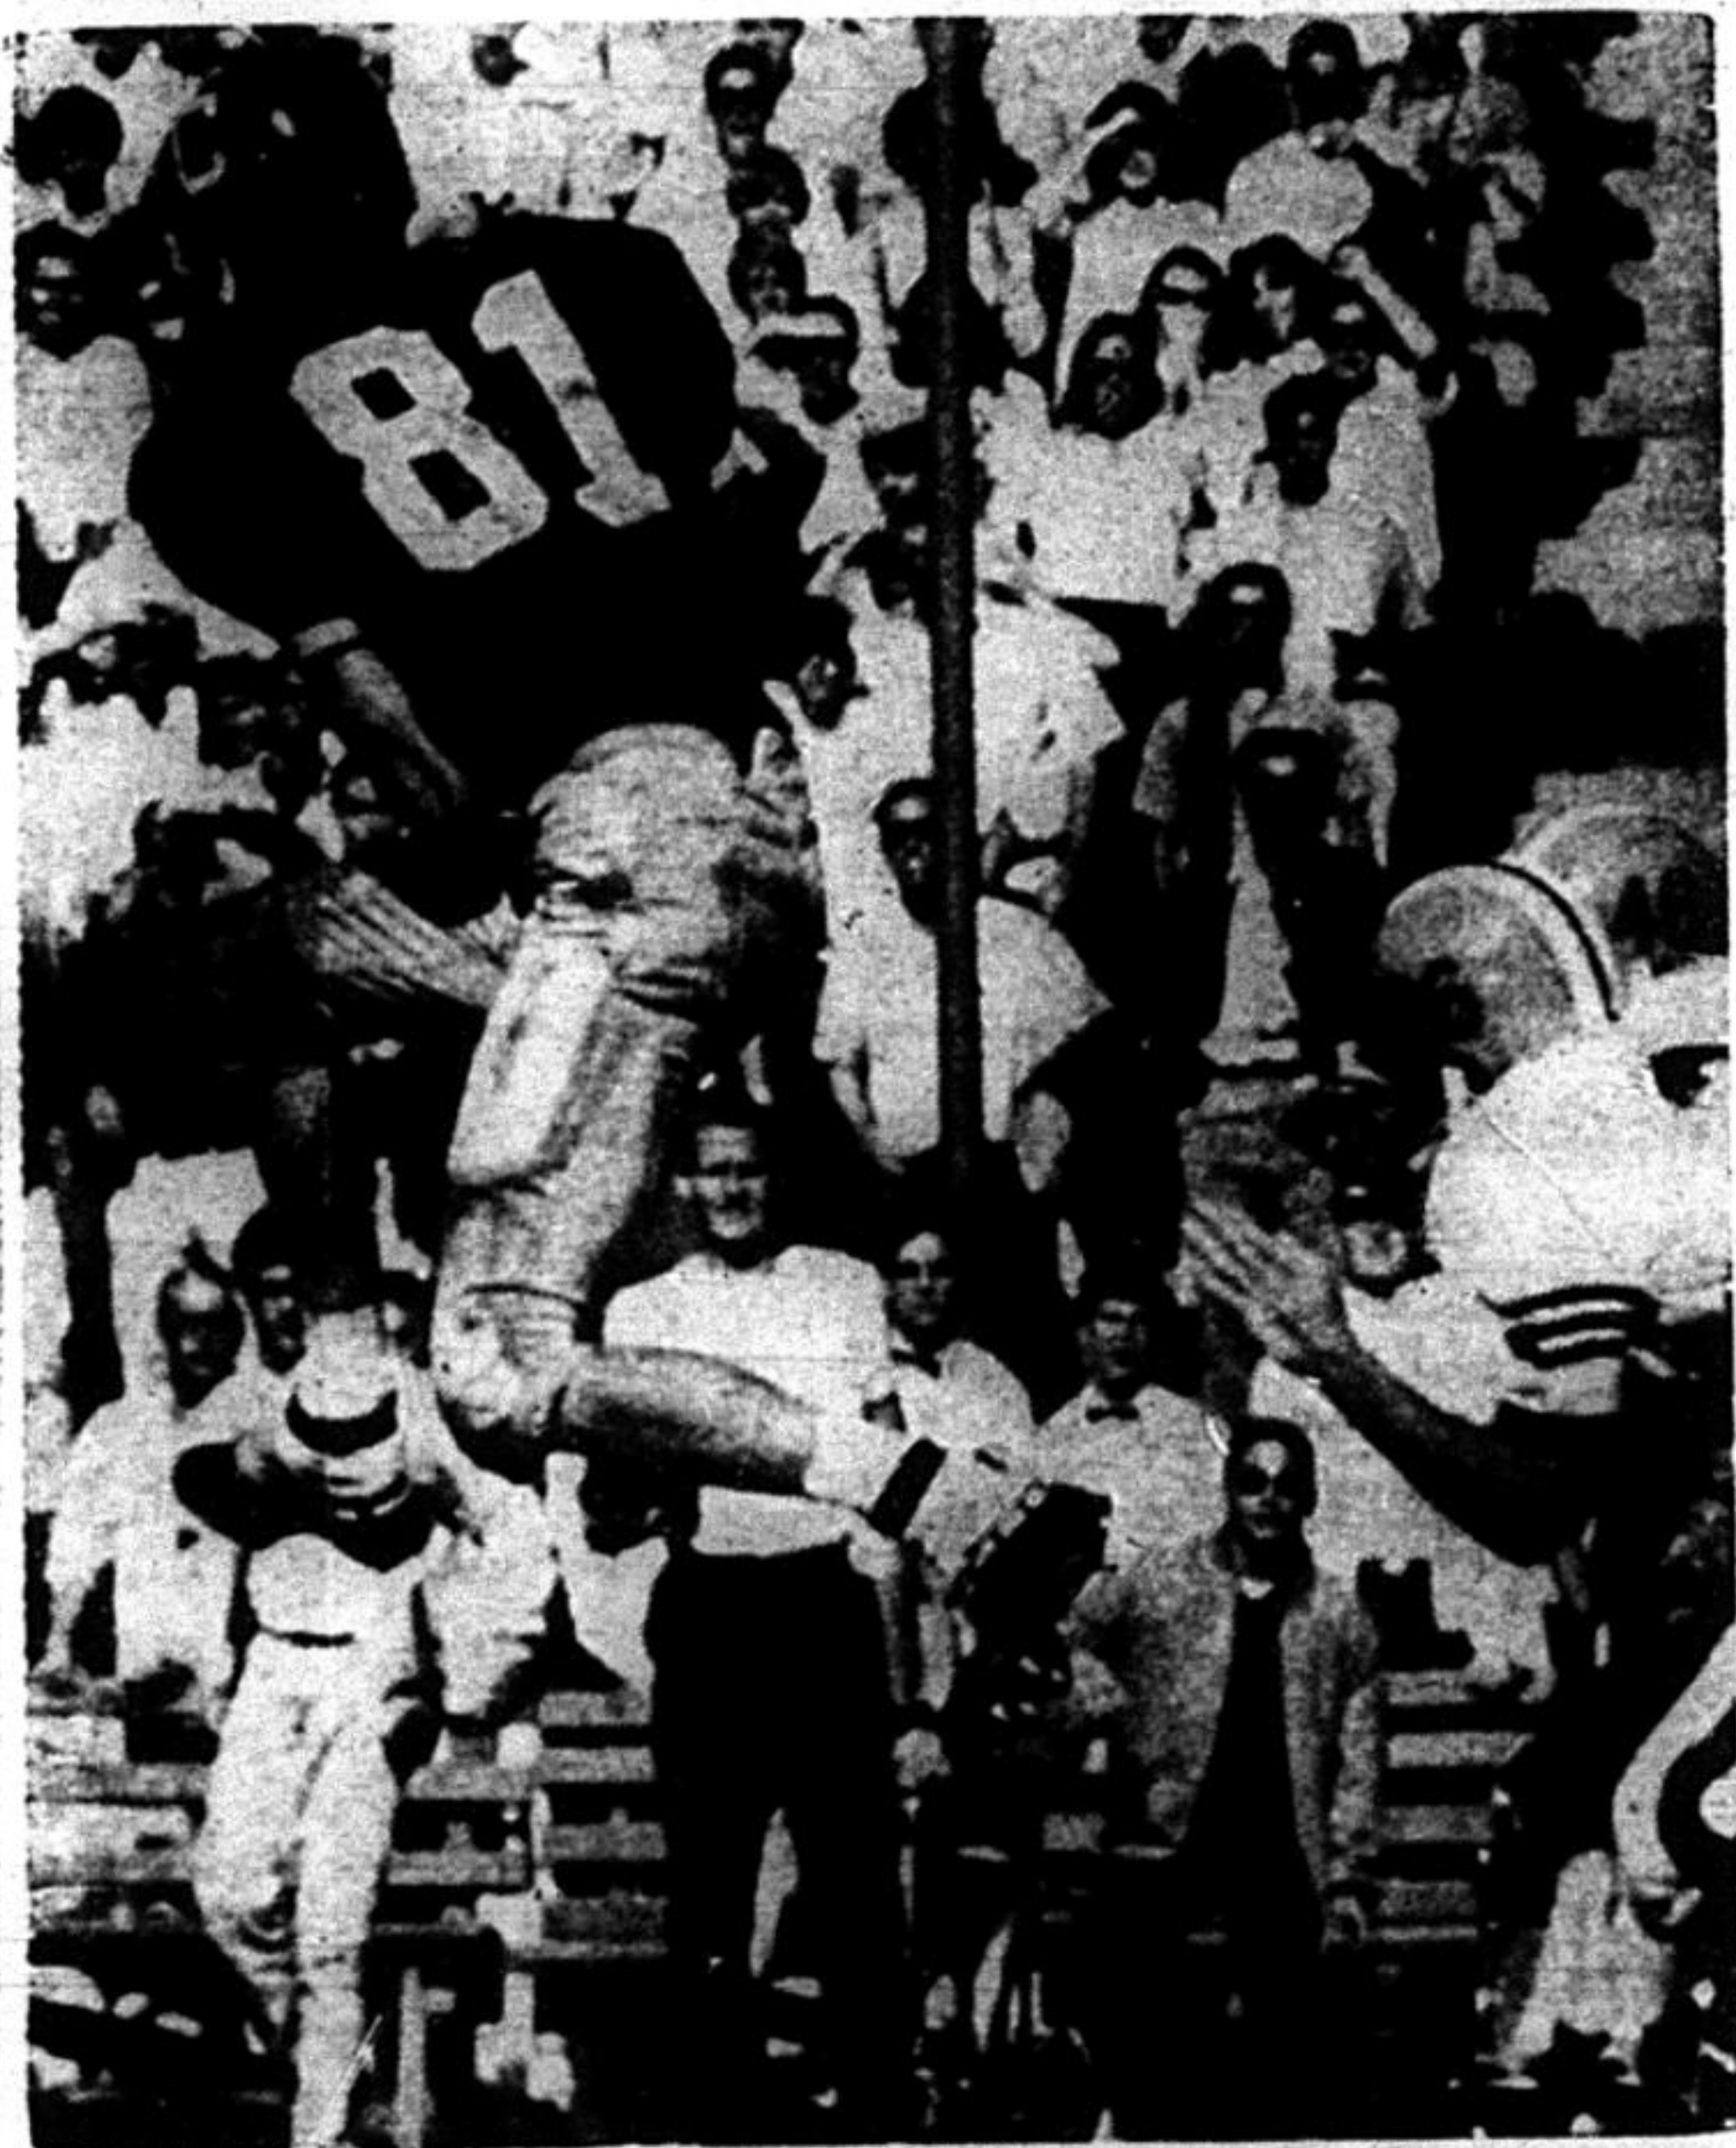

The Alumni, who will work from the split-T and the "shotgun," will have two of California's best-ever passers throwing for them in Morton and Randy Gold, the first and fourth men on the Cal all time quarterback list.

On the receiving end, the Alumni will have the number one receiver on the all time list, Jack Schraub, playing split end, number five man Bill Turner at the flankerback position, and the number seven man Tom Blanchfield playing second string running back.

Although Olszewski, Jerry Scattini, Grover Garvin, and Steve Bates will carry the ball for the "old men" they will have to bust through a lot of meat and muscle. Varsity defenders will be tackles Dan Sinclair (215) and Stan Dzura (248); guards John Schmidt (220) and Bob Crittenden (200); and linebackers Steve Radich (200); Jim Phillips (205), and Tom Fetherston (217).

The Varsity offensive team will be led by quarterback Jimmy Hunt, who spent last season in the defensive backfield, while transfer Dan Berry is expected to see considerable action.

Starting at halfback for the "youngsters" will be speedster Lloyd Reist, who scored on three long runs last weekend during an intrasquad scrimmage. Last year's fullback Tom Relles will open at wingback and 190 pound Ron Minamide will handle the fullbacking chores.

UP, UP HE GOES . . . Jack Schraub makes a patented leaping catch in the win over the Missouri Tigers last season. Jack will see plenty of action this Saturday in the Alumni game as will many other star alumnae.

Row in Vallejo Regatta

Bruin Crew Poses Stiff Test

California's crews have never lost a race to UCLA, but the surprising Bruins could change that this weekend at Vallejo.

The Southland varsity, along with Jim Lemmon's defending national champions, are the only undefeated major varsity crews on the Coast. UCLA recently whipped Stanford by 1½ lengths (Cal defeated the Tribe by two lengths) and also beat Loyola, Long Beach State, and Southern Cal by impressive margins. The race

Saturday will be at the 2,000 meter sprint distance.

Lemmon is experimenting somewhat with his boatings, partially in an effort to find his best combination before the West Coast Sprints and the IRA, and because a few men have been sick. Denny Lane, one of six sophomores in the boat, will be stroking. Rounding out the stern four will be Dan Hatch, John King, and John Sellers. Hatch and Sellers are both seniors.

In the bow four will be Rich McLellan, Hardy Jones, Norm

Bliss, and Norm Stanley (the only other senior). Bob Arbios will be coxswain.

Two seniors, four juniors, and three sophomores will be in Lemmon's JV boat. Doug Thure will stroke the Bears.

UCLA should row a fine frosh crew against the Bears. The Baby Bruins are undefeated, and have a victory over the Long Beach State frosh to their credit. LSB frosh defeated the Cubs earlier.

"It should be a very interesting race," commented the frosh coach Tom Dunlap. Lemmon echoed his sentiments. "I'll be particularly interested in the freshman race." Stan Taylor will stroke the Cubs.

Lemmon's biggest worry right now is his crew's attitude. "The main thing I'm concerned about is whether we're looking behind at last weekend or looking ahead past UCLA. They're (UCLA) really gunning for us."

The race at Vallejo will serve as a trial run to see if the mechanics of holding the Western Sprints there next year are workable. The city of Vallejo has gotten solidly behind the crew program (providing a pair of new shells last year) and eagerly wants to host the annual event.

To get to the race course, take the freeway to the Mare Island turnoff. Proceed to the foot of Tennessee Street, take a half-left, and drive a quarter-mile to the Marina turnoff. Best viewing is at the Yacht Club area.

Tentative boatings for Cal: VARSITY: Denny Lane, stroke; Dan Hatch, #7; John King, #6; John Sellers, #5; Rich McLellan, #4; Hardy Jones, #3; Norm Bliss, #2; Norm Stanley, bow; and Bob Arbios, cox.

JV: Doug Thure, stroke; Richard Tietz, #7; Dave Parrish, #6; Cliff Rhodes, #5; Jay Jacobus, #4; Jack Reding, #3; Russ Medevic, #2; Tony McGuire, bow; and Doug Shirachi, cox.

FROSH: Stan Taylor, stroke; George Gibbs, #7; Bruce Robertson, #6; Tom Van Meter, #5; Jerry Richardson, #4; Pat Stanton, #3; Dave Crockett, #2; Tom Tryon, bow; and George Wing, cox.

Lambda Chi Topped by Strong Phi Sigs for Softball Crown

Phi Sigma Kappa, behind the strong hurling of Joe Van Hoff, edged Lambda Chi Alpha, 10-0, to emerge as the National League softball champion. Lambda Chi had a string of nine straight wins broken while the Phi Sigs remained undefeated.

The Phi Sigs will face either Boalt #1 or #2, depending on the outcome of yesterday's game.

Boalt #2 defeated #1, 3-2, to force a third and final playoff game. The championship game will be played at 4 on Underhill field.

A two-goal clutch performance in the second overtime period gave the International House a 3-1 victory over the Commuters and the American League soccer championship. Each team previously owned one victory over the other.

In the National League Phi E Pi forced a third and final game for that title by defeating winner's bracket champion Theta Delta Chi 2-0.

The winner of the final Theta Delt, Phi E Pi game will play the I-House for the all-U title today at 5 p.m. at Kleeberger field.

In the final track events held Monday, Putnam emerged as the top team in the American League, followed by Boalt #1 and Forestry. Theta Delta Chi topped the National League, with Alpha Chi Rho in second place and ATO in third. Individual winners were Slaper of A Chi Rho in the 100, MacDonald of AKI in the 1320, Remick of DU in the broad jump, and Detla Tau Delta in the 880 relay.

In other action, Le Conte topped Phi E Pi 3-0 for the all-U table tennis championship, and the Commuters defeated Phi E Pi 2-0 for the all-U horseshoes championship.

Wolfman Resurrects Cal Pennant Hopes

By GLENN BECKER

The pale form of California baseball title hopes was declared officially dead Tuesday after a 6-3 defeat at Santa Clara; the Daily Cal published a properly respectful obituary; and the body was about to be embalmed in the musty files of the UC Sports Information office.

Suddenly, the sad, eerie silence in the Athletic Office was shredded by a wild shriek. "Ooh! Ooh! It twitched! I saw it twitch!"

It was coach George Wolfman, whose desperate plea for a delay of the funeral brought Commissioner Tom Hamilton of the AAWU and CIBA to the scene. Hamilton was sympathetic, saying, "I think we'll have to wait until after this weekend."

Did the body really twitch? Your guess is as good as ours or the commissioner's at this point.

Here are the facts that perhaps deluded Coach Wolfman into detecting life where there is none left:

Stanford leads the CIBA with 12-6 and completes its schedule this weekend with a two-game, home-and-home series against Santa Clara. The Broncos, now 7-8, finish up next week with one game at USC and two at Santa Barbara.

Cal, 10-8, ends the season (it says here) tomorrow with a doubleheader at Southern California. The Trojans will be trying to avenge the 2-1 and 4-3 twindip they sustained here last weekend.

If, as one of the Brothers Grimm used to daydream, if Santa Clara takes Stanford twice and keeps right on winning in the south next week, and if the Bears two-time Troy again, then (Commissioner save us) Cal, Stanford and Santa Clara will be deadlocked at 12-8.

Stanford is assured of the crown if it and Cal tie for first having taken three of four from the Bears. Cal and Santa Clara split 2-2, while the Broncos must count three wins over Stanford among the 12 it needs to tie.

A three-way tie, then, would mean that Santa Clara were 5-3 with the other two, Stanford 4-4 and Cal 3-5. Would Santa Clara thus be the CIBA representative to the NCAA tournament? You are referred to the commissioner, who told the Daily Cal yesterday that he is not certain how the situation would be resolved.

Coach Wolfman, his eyes bloodshot after a long week of twitch-hunting, murmured yesterday he will start Rich Nye and somebody else against SC. Nye hurled heroically in the epic sense to win the 11-inning opener over Troy last Saturday.

Assembly Passes Bill On Athletic Feud

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation asking Congress to make "a full and impartial investigation between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association was sent to the Senate Thursday.

The resolution by Assemblyman Burt M. Henson, (D-Ventura), said Congress should take action to see that an athlete may compete "in accordance with individual choice and ability."

Henson told the Senate Rules Committee the on-again, off-again feud between the two organizations has once more flared up and something ought to be done about it.

New Members For Californians

Thirty University students have been selected for membership in the Californians, upper division men's honorary organization. The new members are: Peter Albert, Bob Arbios, George Baker, Forrest Beaty, Douglas Bell, Randy Blotky, Brad Bryan, James Clardy, Mike Conklin, Ron Fliss, Warren Fox, Don Fry, Dan

French Film in ASUC Series

This Sunday's ASUC film will be La Roue (The Wheel) by the great French director Abel Gance.

Gance, who is still active in French Cinema, is best remembered as the leading experimental film-maker in France during the silent era, and has been referred to as the French D. W. Griffith. His most famous films of this period are "J'Accuse," produced in 1918, "La Roue," 1919-21, and his epic film biography "Napoleon," for which Gance patented the technique of using three screens, now called Cinorama.

"La Roue" concerns the thwarted love of a railroad engineer for his adopted daughter, and combines a sentimental melo-

Bogart Classics Shown in Dwinelle

Two films starring Humphrey Bogart will be shown at 8 p.m. tonight and tomorrow in 155 Dwinelle.

Sponsored by SLATE, the films "The Petrified Forest" and "Casablanca" also star Leslie Howard and Bette Davis in the former, Ingrid Bergman, Claude Rains and Peter Lorre in the latter. "Casablanca" is an award-winning, political intrigue film produced by Hal Wallace.

Lair Cabaret

The last Bear's Lair Cabaret will feature a folk music group with the unlikely name of the Berkeley String Quartet from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. today. The stringed instruments include banjos, guitars, an auto-harp and a washtub base. These instruments will be augmented by a washboard, a kazoo, harmonicas, a piece of stovepipe and assorted kitchen utensils. The group's repertoire, as the discerning reader will have guessed, includes no Mozart, but comprises traditional and contemporary folk music.

AWS to Expand Big Sister Program

The Associated Women Students needs girls to sign up for their Big Sister program. The program this year is being expanded so that entering freshmen women can indicate during the summer if they want a big sister. The big sister will then get in touch with her little sister during the summer and again in the beginning of the fall semester.

drama with a bravura technique of composition and editing that predates the accomplishments of Eisenstein in the mid-twenties. Sunday's print will be the new 2½ hour version, and will be accompanied by the music of Charles Mac Dermid, performed by the composer.

Independent Study Aid Offered

Students with a creative interest in science are invited to an informal discussion with professors and teaching assistants from various departments and staff members of Particle, an undergraduate math & science society. The discussion tomorrow at 1 p.m. in 405 Student Union will concern the possibility of students obtaining special assistance in their scientific independent research. The assistance will be in the form of professional advice, use of libraries and laboratories, and access to special equipment.

SJS Profs Lobby For Educational Reforms

By KONSTANTIN BERLANDT
San Jose State—A bus load of faculty and another bus of students left here this afternoon for Sacramento to lobby every legislator personally on educational reform.

Thirty-eight faculty members dressed in full regalia and about 70 students, many of them standing, boarded two buses at 12:45 p.m. following picketing and a rally.

The demonstrators are making 11 demands:

Continued free tuition, unlimited enrollment for qualified students, collective bargaining, faculty control over educational policy, 20 percent increase in salary, 20 to one student-teacher ratio, nine-hour teaching load, regular sabbatical leaves, support for faculty research and scholarship, travel to scholarly meetings and adequate office space and secretarial help.

However even with these bread and butter issues, the picketing, rallying and regaling didn't come up to expectations.

The day began with picketing by 50 to 75 professors and 150 students up 7th Street.

They carried signs: "Books for the Library," "More Now for Education; Less Later for Welfare," "Smaller Classes for Better Teaching," and wore pins, "We Care May 13th."

From 10:45 to 11:15 there was a march of faculty members in and around the campus.

At a rally from 11:15 until 12:30 faculty and student speakers attacked the California Master Plan for Higher Education and called for a student voice in making decisions.

In Sacramento the schedule called for a demonstration on the Capitol steps at 3:15 until 4 p.m. The group then split into groups of two and three to meet with individual demonstrators.

The lobbyists ("teams of interviewers"—one student and one faculty member) were told to press each legislator for definite answers as to whether they will support or will not support each of the eleven demands.

A dittoed direction sheet read, "If the legislator evades or equivocates, he should be told that you have many calls to make. If he still refuses to commit himself, the last thing you should do is to say that you will indicate on the questionnaire that he has declined to reply to the questions."

One bus returned to San Jose at five p.m. The rest stayed on for a cocktail party and press conference at 5:30 p.m. and dinner with legislators and friends of AFT at 6:30 p.m.

The faculty demonstrators were organized by the American Federation of Teachers, local 1362, San Jose.

But four other faculty groups (AAUP, CTA, CSEA and ACSCP) reserved judgment on the demonstrations.

While recognizing the right of any group or individual to demonstrate, they were not convinced a demonstration was the most effective way to gain support.

In addition, The Spartan Daily, rated by its editor Tom Powell as very influential on the campus, attacked the faculty demonstrations as non-professional.

Student support came from a six-week-old educational reform organization, Students for Excellence in Education (S.E.E.).

The organization is currently torn by internal strife between conservatives and liberals.

Whereas 6000 people turned out for an S.E.E. rally April 3, only a few hundred showed up today.

Student body president Bob Pisano blamed the poor attendance on poor publicity.

Phil Whitten, president of S.E.E., maintained 90 percent of the student voice is behind them. However, he said, "We need more than their voice. We need their bodies and their minds."

Powell predicted if S.E.E. collapsed another organization would replace it. There are two competing organizations at present.

And Robert Hall, chairman of the AFT state-council, said there would be "more and bigger demonstrations."

"Anything new is an uphill battle. You never win anything sitting on your duff."

Help For JCs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state's sprawling junior college system would receive a $50 million shot in the arm under legislation approved Thursday by the Senate Finance Committee.
 Sent to the Senate floor by voice vote was a bill by Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D-Bakersfield), that would channel the amount for junior college construction over the next two years.

 Stiern told the committee the money was authorized in Prop. 2 approved by the voters on the 1964 ballot.
 The local school districts, Stiern said, would share in the costs on a 50-50 basis.

The Time is Near...

The ASUC Senate this week passed its mammoth budget, which included a $44,500 allocation for the Cal Band.

Cal Band received $43,000 last year. There had been considerable speculation this semester that the band's budget would be drastically cut because, although it is an ASUC activity, its endeavors benefit the University system rather than the ASUC.

In passing the band's budget, however, the Senate directed President-elect Jerry Goldstein to request the administration to partially bear the financial burden of this activity.

We cannot help but endorse this directive.

The majority of the band's activities benefit the "image" of the University rather than the Associated Students of the University of California.

It must be pointed out that when the band makes its triumphant entrance from the north tunnel of the stadium during football season, in practicality, it is identified more with the football team and the University than with student government.

The band also performs frequently at University functions, such as University meetings, class reunions, and the like.

In its occasional road trips with athletic teams of the University, it cannot help but be identified as a unit of the University rather than of the campus student government.

One of the primary reasons cited by Cal Bandsmen for retaining complete ASUC sponsorship is that currently there are only two such sponsored college bands in the United States... Harvard and Cal.

We question whether this distinction justifies the consumption of approximately one-fifth of the funds available for all of the ASUC activities.

We commend, however, the ASUC Senate's action in passing its budget relatively intact, while at the same time paving the way for possible future negotiations with the University for subsidy.

A drastic reduction in the band's allocation would surely have jeopardized their plans for next year.

But we hope that the University realizes that the time may be near for it to assume some of the financial obligations of this activity.

Letters to the Ice Box

Monster

To the Ice Box:
 Amid today's suggestions for revolutionary change of this University, whether from Jerome Byrne's committee or Brad Cleveland or Joseph Tussman, it may be well to quote from our University Bulletin of a year ago (May 18, 1964) these words of Robert J. Wert, Stanford Vice-Provost.

"Revolutionary reforms in complex universities are neither very possible any more nor very desirable.

"Any one of us might dream, like Walter Mitty, of imposing our obviously superior blueprint for educational perfection upon an entire institution. This has been accomplished with various consequences in an occasional experimental college, usually at the time the institution was established, or sometimes when the institution was moribund and required major surgery to survive.

"Such radical reform is definitely not indicated at Stanford. Instead, there should be constant, pervasive, relatively small-scale testing and appraisal of many new ideas. If evidence demonstrates that the new ideas are better than the old, or add something significant to the usual, they will surely become a part of the fabric of undergraduate education.

"If enough ideas have been tested, the net effects over time will approximate the effects of radical revolution without risk of the invidious side effects which revolutions can spawn."

When Nature alters the genetic blueprint too radically from one generation to the next, she generally produces not a supercreature but a monster.

For the Faculty

To the Ice Box:
 I am glad that Mr. Best took up the general principles of my letter printed on May 10. The underlying point of the letter was that the faculty has seen a steady erosion of its prerogatives, beginning with the delegation of its control over student discipline to administrative units. Before students can have any significant voice in matters of educational policy, the faculty has to regain its just powers. The Katz case and the Meyer Report are violations of the basic doctrine that matters of educational policy that effectively control entry into and continuing membership in the academic community are the prerogative of the faculty.

Without that basic principle it is idle and frivolous to talk about student participation in their own discipline. As the Meyer Report would have it, all powers in that area would go to the administration, the faculty not having even a consultative or advisory role. The faculty has a continuous presence on the campus; the students have sporadic and limited presence (temporarily). Determination of the motives and character of the academic community should go to the group that has the permanent commitment to the campus. Once that principle is established, then other matters can be placed in due proportion.

A Tragic and Uneven 'Sign'

By TOM COLLINS

"The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window," which opened May 10 at the Geary, starts off well enough, but changes into pure corn at the end.

The play was not a success on Broadway. Since the original cast is now at the Geary, you can go and find out why. The reason seems to be that the play is too good, and that people don't understand what it is all about.

The play concerns a number of Greenwich Village residents, who seem surprisingly like some of the people at Cal. The trouble is that they are more sordid than they need to be.

The story concerns Sidney Brustein and his friends. He is Jewish. All of his friends say so, and he says so. His wife is not Jewish. His mother wonders why he married a "goy."

His wife is a frustrated actress. Her sisters include a warm-hearted prostitute and a society matron who doesn't approve of some of her sister's friends. There is also the hung-up Negro who wants to marry the prostitute, but does not know the truth about her.

The sign "in the window" belongs to a "reform" candidate who ends up towing the party line. Brustein campaigns for him, then realizes when he is done that the candidate's "victory" is hollow.

In addition, there is a homosexual playwright upstairs. Each of the characters is "hung-up" on his own peculiarity. None of the problems is resolved rationally. One character just walks off, and does not appear in the play again. One of them commits suicide.

The real ugliness is not revealed during the first two acts. These are sensitively written, with a warm, sad humor that makes one laugh sympathetically at their problems. It is in the last act that the characters turn sour, that the suicide is committed, and that Brustein vows to go on fighting, whatever comes.

One reason the play was not a Broadway success, one suspects, is that the audience did not understand it. The opening night audience was full of people asking what had been said, and what it meant.

And then, the play was not a comedy at all. There were funny places, but mostly there were great abysses under the surface that most people did not seem to notice. It was partially because of the quality and the pathos of the first part that the end was so disappointing.

The play stars Gabriel Dell, as Brustein, Carolan Daniels as his wife Iris, and Alice Ghostly as the matronly sister, Mavis.

All of the characters are appealing, but it is Mavis who succeeds best because her tragedy is the quiet one. She shoulders her burden stoically, and goes on. "It's a life," she says. And in that one line, the play achieves a sense of tragedy.

Since Lorraine Hansberry did not see fit to end the play on the same level as she began it, the play is uneven. It is, however, both funny and sad, and generally speaking, very good.

Nationwide Scholarship Aids

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Forty-one colleges and universities each awarded a million dollars or more in financial aid to their students during the 1963-64 academic year.

Another 74 institutions each handed out from $500,000 to $999,999 in scholarships, loans and jobs.

These figures from a report issued recently by the Educational Testing Service, show that helping their students get through college has become a multimillion-dollar business for the nation's institutions of higher learning.

The testing service said the 1,221 colleges and universities participating in the survey awarded more than $251 million in student aid.

The report includes only aid given to students selected by the colleges themselves.

It does not include awards made by national scholarship programs, state scholarship and loan programs, work-study grants, or even loans and jobs which students get after arriving on campus.

The $251 million reported by the service went to 454,000 students. The average student award was $553. About $120 million was in scholarships, $85 million in loans, and $45 million in jobs.

Individual institutions were not identified.

The figures clearly indicate that a relatively few of the richest schools—which usually are also the most expensive—gave a disproportionate share of the awards.

Those 41 institutions which awarded a million or more—their total was $69.3 million—made up only 4 per cent of the institutions surveyed.

Almost half of the $251 million reported was awarded by only 10 per cent of the institutions.

Grad Stud. Journal On Sale Next Week

The fourth issue of the Graduate Student Journal goes on sale Tuesday.

The magazine will contain a photoessay on the FSM, several different views on that controversial subject, fiction, poetry and several woodcuts. It will be on sale for about one week at a card table in the Student Union Plaza.

Top Level Debate on Vietnam

A top-level debate on US policies in Vietnam, conducted in Washington, DC, will be broadcast directly to Pauley Ballroom by a special hook-up as well as to major university campuses across the country, at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

McGeorge Bundy, Special Assistant of the President for National Security, will defend the Administration's policies against George Kahin, professor of Asian Studies at Cornell.

Invited to participate and speaking in behalf of Bundy will be Robert Scalapino, chairman of the University's department of political science.

The panel-style debate will assemble some of the most authoritative scholars in the country, among them the University of Chicago's Hans Morgenthau; Columbia's Ernest Nagel; and Harvard's Henry Kissinger. Following the broadcast, a general discussion will be moderated in Pauley Ballroom by Franz Schurmann, director for the University's Center for Chinese Studies. Simultaneous similar discussions will follow the debate on each campus.

The carrying of the debate to university campuses was accomplished by the Inter-University Committee for a Public Hearing on Vietnam, which staged the original "teach-in" educational protests at the University of Michigan in March.

The entire debate and highlights of the University and Stanford discussions will be broadcast later by KPFA.

Library Changes Suggested

By JAI SINGH

Suggestions to improve the loan department of the Main Library have been submitted to Donald Coney, University Librarian, by the library department grievance committee of the American Federation of Teachers, Local 1570.

The suggestions include lowering the grade point requirement for stack privileges, constructing another entrance to the stacks and opening the stacks to all students during the first summer session.

Keith Nason, a member of the grievance committee, said another request is "that the rights and privileges of all borrowers be explained to them in writing, and that this document be made available at all areas in the library which deal directly with the borrowers."

Nason said the suggestions were made because of the "intolerable situation" which exists in the loan department.

Coney said he could not comment on the suggestions, since he received them Wednesday morning and has not had a chance to think about them yet.

However, he did say the grievance committee action "is not consistent with the purpose of a union. A union deals with wages and personal grievances. What this committee is proposing is in the realm of management."

At present undergrads have to have at least a 3.5 grade point average to use the stacks. The grievance committee has asked that this be lowered to a 3 point, either cumulatively or on the basis of their previous semester's work.

This would give about 3,000 more students stack privileges and relieve the congestion at the loan desk, helping not only those with above a three point but also others who won't have to wait as long for books, Nason said.

"Undergraduates wishing to use the facilities of the loan desk are often required to wait for long periods of time, only to find, in many cases, that the book they requested is either charged out or unavailable," he said.

Another entrance to the stacks would have to be constructed to accommodate the increase of those with stack privileges. However, the cost would be minimal, he added.

A member of the library staff, Vic Ichioka, who is also a third year architecture student, has drawn up plans for the new entrance. It would not involve moving walls, only some partitions, Nason said.

The plans call for one entrance and two exits, one for those who don't check out books and one for those who do. During peak hours both can be used as exits to check out books.

"The students using the stacks are now required to enter and leave through an extremely confined space, causing much discomfort and needless delay. These conditions are unnecessary and cannot wait for correction until the Undergraduate Library is completed," Nason said. Another suggestion the committee made is that during the first summer session the stacks should be open, on an experimental basis, to all registered students including those registered in the previous spring semester, after the hour of 5 p.m.

The final suggestion, concerning library rules, was made because some grads and undergrads are not aware of their rights and privileges as borrowers, Nason said.

For example, grads and faculty members can check out a book for the whole semester. But undergrads can have a book recalled if they ask for a report and then put a hold on it.

Borrowers should ask for a report on a book so it will be easier for them to locate if it is not in the stacks, Nason said.

Villagers Protest Rent Hike

Five members of the UC Village Fair Rent Committee presented a petition yesterday to Mrs. Ruth Donnelly, supervisor of housing services, asking that a recent rent increase be dropped.

Last March the University raised the monthly rent in Albany Village, a housing development for married students, by $5 for new apartments and $8 for old apartments.

The petition claims the advantages of student housing will be lost because the rent increase is more than the residents can afford.

It also protests the alleged use of the rent raise to pay for construction of new student housing throughout the state.

However, Orwin Campbell, vice-chancellor for business and finance, said the charge was an "oversimplification." He said "many factors" were involved in the hike including the need for construction of new housing in Berkeley, in addition to the other campuses.

The petition, presented by five mothers and their children from Albany Village, will be forwarded to Katherine Towle, dean of students, Mrs. Donnelly said.

Mrs. Roselyn Leonard, chairman of the committee said the petition had 500 signatures.

Flips Her VW, Safely Succored

Other witnesses said Miss Chapman was just "screaming hysterically" and pounding on the car.

Kucera said he was told Miss Chapman had "a few broken ribs, some cuts, and black eyes" when he went to Cowell Hospital to see her yesterday.

Fund Raising For 'Obscenity' Appeals

The Committee for Independent Political Action will sponsor a two and one-half hour program of films in an effort to raise appeals money for students involved in the recent obscenity controversy.

Featured will be Bruce Bailey's "To Parsifal," "Mass," "Have You Thought of Talking to the Director?" "Gymnasts," "Sunday," and "Everyman, News #3, and Mr. Hiyaki," and three Charlie Chaplin movies, "Fireman," "One A. M.," "Pawnpot" and "Tramp." Admission is 75 cents.

Correction

The Smother's Brothers will appear at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow in Harmon Gym instead of 2:15 as was ludicrously reported in yesterday's Daily Californian.
