'May Probe UC' Say Burns, Unruh

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature moved closer yesterday toward a broad inquiry into the state's higher education system, including the University.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) said they may set up a joint legislative committee to look into every facet of the University and the state colleges.

It would not be restricted to the Berkeley campus both men emphasized.

"I think it is the proper way to proceed," Unruh told his weekly news conference with Burns. "But I'm not proposing to force a legislative inquiry at this moment if there is substantial opposition to it."

All that's holding up the inquiry, Unruh said, is the need to develop support outside of the legislature.

Burns said "I'm all for such an inquiry at this time."

Both men carefully steered away from the word "investigation" in describing the work of the contemplated joint committee.

"We are confronted with a growing mass of information, some of it contradictory, tending to indicate that the state legislature must be drawn fully into the discussions of how our state university and colleges are operating and what corrective measure, if any, should be undertaken to improve that operation," they said in a joint statement.

Unruh said, "I don't think we are proposing the legislature take over the operation of the University."

Meyer, Byrne Reports

Regents to Meet Today

By TOM KNOX

The Byrne and Meyer Committee reports, two radically differing documents, will be considered today and tomorrow at the Regents' monthly meeting at Riverside.

The Meyer Report provides:

- "The time, place, and manner of exercising speech and political activity shall be subject to regulations adopted by the chancellors of the respective campuses."

- Student government constitutional amendments must be approved by the chancellor before being submitted to a vote by the students.

- Both compulsory and voluntary student governments are forbidden to take stands on issues not directly related to the University or its operations. (The chancellor is to interpret which issues fall within this category.)

- University facilities may be used by non-University organizations only with prior approval of the chancellor.

- The chancellor receives ultimate authority over student government if their duties are not responsibly exercised.

- No non-University personnel may distribute, post, or exhibit posters, circulars, handbills, and other documents on University property.

The regulations would apply to all campuses of the University.

Conversely, the Byrne report suggests "The principle of autonomy, so vital to the University in securing its place in society, should also apply to each campus in the University system."

The report goes on to urge constitutional charters be granted each campus.

The Byrne report further proposes student governments "will be permitted to take and announce positions on issues of importance to the membership, within or outside the University, provided that the membership wishes to commit that power to the governing board, the vote on the issue is announced, and the announcement identifies the group, disclaiming authority to speak for the University."

Regent William Fobes, chairman of the committee which commissioned the Byrne report, said he was unable to speculate on the action the Regents would take on the two reports.

Several Regents, including board chairman Edward Carter, have displayed displeasure with the Byrne report, however.

"I found it very stimulating," Carter told a press conference immediately after the report was released, "but I doubt if the (Forbes) committee will treat most of the recommendations with much seriousness."

'Soph Edition'; News & Parody

Today's Daily Californian is the last regular edition of the semester. Tomorrow's "soph edition" will have some serious news and will feature parody news articles.

Announcements of next year's Daily Californian staff will be made in the "soph edition," produced entirely by first semester reporters. Soph edition editors are Dave Newman and John F. Oppehah.

Correction

Two representatives from the South Vietnamese Embassy will be present at Vietnam Day on campus this weekend, contrary to a report in yesterday's Daily Californian.

The Daily Californian apologizes for any inconvenience this report may have caused.

ASUC Senate Defines 'Week'

The ASUC Senate closed its doors for this year with a rousing two and one-half hour debate on new elections rules.

They finally approved a revised set of rules early yesterday morning which hopefully will facilitate handling of elections in the future.

Among the major changes in the rules is a seemingly simple addition to the section on definitions. The new rule provides a definition of the term "week," as it is used in the rules.

According to the new rules, a week is "any seven consecutive calendar day period, not necessarily an academic or calendar week."

In the past there has been some confusion as to what was meant by a "week" in regulations requiring publication of election supplements during the "week" before the election.

Another new feature of the revised rules is an explicit statement of the duties of the Election Council Chairman, whose duties were not clearly delineated in the old rules.

Under the new rules, the chairman is required to publicize the elections "for at least three weeks" prior to the first day of filing for office.

He is also required to hold a candidates meeting, which gives students the opportunity to hear the candidates speak.

He is also given the responsibility for proofreading the election supplement in the Daily Californian.

A third section in the new rules which does not appear in the old ones deals with specific provisions for "voting, polling and tabulation procedures."

Delineated in this section are the exact procedures Elections Council must follow in running elections.

Another part of this last section details the procedure for the election of delegates to the National Student Association Congress, procedures which are necessary for the first time this year, because this is the first year in which NSA delegates are being elected instead of appointed.

After long and arduous debate, the Senate finally approved the new rules, the Senators ran through their closing remarks, and ASUC President Charlie Powell's gavel brought the Senate's year to an end.

FSU Goes to Regents' Meet

University President Clark Kerr has requested the Free Student Union to prepare letters for the Regents explaining why the Union wants to see the Regents.

Four delegates of the Union left yesterday for the Riverside Regents' meeting with the letters.

"We are representatives of the Free Student Union, an organization with a voluntary membership on the Berkeley campus concerned with student rights," the letters begin.

The Union has a membership of 3200.

"We believe that in a nation of democratic institutions any group that regulates the lives of others must of necessity obtain the consent of the governed before setting forth any laws and regulations," the letter says.

"Open meetings between the governing and the governed are so basic to this principle that democracy cannot exist without them."

Later the letter concludes: "The necessity of recognizing and applying these principles to the affairs of the University is clear to the campus and to the general public. You must decide to abide by these principles if you agree with them."

A "massive" noon rally has been scheduled today by the FSU.

Today's rally was announced at noon yesterday before what was perhaps the smallest audience in the short history of noon rallies.

There was one couple on the Sproul Hall steps.

It was announced that today's rally would be held to show our solidarity in demanding the Regents meet with us to discuss the Meyer Committee Report."

FSU delegates had asked for a chance to present their views on the Meyer Report but Regent Edward Carter told them "such a discussion would be premature."

An FSU spokesman said Tuesday night the refusal could not be applied to all the Regents, so the five delegates would attend the meeting anyhow.

NSA Repeals Election Today

Five representatives to the National Student Association (NSA) Congress will be elected in special ASUC elections today and tomorrow.

The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Dwinelle Plaza.

Originally six representatives were to have been elected, but at the Tuesday meeting the ASUC Senate appointed Marston Schulz to be one of the representatives.

Running for the five remaining positions are: Russ Hanscom, Leigh Mueller, Art Shartsis, Steve Austin, Steve Cornet (Slate), Lee Feigon, Mike Gallagher, and Shirley Arimoto (Slate).

Also due to an ASUC Senate innovation, the five winners will be chosen using the preferential system of voting.

Under the preferential system, the voter marks his choices in the order of his preference (i.e., first, second, third, etc.)

The candidate who is the first choice on a ballot will receive one more vote than the number of positions open in the election. In this case, he would receive six votes.

The candidate receiving a second choice vote would get one vote less than the total number of positions or four votes in today's election.

And so on.

The elected NSA representatives will attend the NSA Congress in Madison, Wisconsin, this summer along with the NSA Coordinator, Dan McIntosh, and the ASUC President.

Request Classes Be Stopped For Vietnam Day Tomorrow

By KEITH McCORMICK

The much-heralded Vietnam Day—a solid 30 hours of intense discussion of the war in Vietnam—gets off the ground at noon tomorrow. Its organizers are requesting that all classes be cancelled beginning at noon tomorrow so that all students may attend.

Acknowledging that "this is a very unusual request," a telegram sent last night to the Regents and to Acting Chancellor Martin Meyer declared, "We have become bold enough to make this request because of the extraordinary circumstances that developed to make Vietnam Day an event of international prominence and importance for the University of California."

Besides support from foreign individuals and peace groups, explained Jerry Rubin of the Vietnam Day Committee, the "extraordinary circumstances" included a sympathy strike scheduled for tomorrow by a national Japanese student union.

The telegram, signed by Rubin and Stephen Smale, professor of mathematics, said "Professors are already cancelling classes and office hours and many students have already accepted the fact that they will not attend classes during this event."

The University local of the teaching assistants' union, said the telegram, has asked all TA's not to hold their classes.

"The University encourages maximum discussion of all pressing social issues," replied Chancellor's Special Assistant Neil Smelser when informed of the telegram, "but such discussion should not interfere with regular activities."

"Class schedules and office hours will proceed as normal." Whether classes are cancelled or not, the Vietnam Day Committee expects a record attendance for "the longest and largest protest meeting ever held."

"The entire West Coast is invited," read the optimistic handbills—and the University has made room for them.

The fences separating Lower Student Union Plaza from the adjacent playing field will be taken down and a special raised dais built to accommodate the crowd.

The list of speakers, performers, debaters, comedians and singers is staggering—and so is the marathon schedule.

At 15 and 20-minute intervals from noon tomorrow until sundown Saturday, a steady procession of speakers will mount the little platform.

Just which speakers will appear, however, has remained an issue up until the time this article went to press. Invitations, acceptances, refusals and withdrawals have flown back and forth during the preceding weeks accompanied by periodic blasts at the protest's organizers.

A complete (but still tentative) schedule of what Rubin called the "super teach-in" appears on page two.

DC Publication

The Daily Californian will publish June 22, July 2, 9, 16, 23, August 3, 10, 13, 20, and 27 during the summer. It will resume daily publication on Sept. 15.

Graduation To Be Held June 12

The 102nd University Commencement will be held June 12 at the California Memorial Stadium.

Graduating members of the Class of '65 will file into the stadium starting at 10 a.m., and the ceremonies will begin at 10:30.

In addition to the conferring of graduate and undergraduate degrees, several honorary degrees will be awarded.

University President Clark Kerr will give the commencement address, and Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson will deliver the farewell message to the candidates.

Talks will also be given by Stephen Craig Johnson and Katherine Louise Wuertele, two graduating seniors who have been "outstanding in University life." The University Medal will be awarded to the graduating senior with the highest grades.

Chief among the seniors' many activities prior to Commencement will be the Baccalaureate, beginning at 2 p.m. June 11 in Hertz Hall. The speaker will be Raymond J. Sontag, professor of history.

Immediately following the Baccalaureate will be the President's and Chancellor's reception in University House, and the Senior Banquet and Ball is scheduled that evening at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

Other senior activities will include the traditional campus pilgrimage to memorable campus spots, a barbecue on Angel Island, and several other social events.

Tickets to the Commencement ceremonies will be distributed to the public free beginning June 7 at the Office of Public Ceremonies, 13 Sproul Hall.

Law Students to Help in South

Ten Boalt Hall law students will participate in a civil rights clerkship program throughout the South this summer.

Sponsored by the Law Students Civil Rights Research Council, they will be working as part of a team of 120 students from leading law schools in the nation.

The Council is an independent, law student-directed organization founded in 1963 to "train and place law students in clerkship positions to accelerate the movement of social progress under law; to influence attitudes in future lawyers about law and social change; and to develop their capabilities to contribute to this movement."

Under a variety of programs, affiliate groups during the school year carry out legal research programs, cooperate with civil rights attorneys, and participate in experimental programs designed to increase the legal representation available to low income groups.

Boalt Hall students, numbering the second highest group from any one school going South for the summer, will be:

Rosalyn Chapman, to Durham, North Carolina; George Chaffey, to Jackson, Mississippi; Kenneth Cloke, to Montgomery, Alabama; Paul Crost, to Little Rock, Arkansas; Ken Hegland, to Albany, Georgia; Berry McGough, to Montgomery, Alabama; Layton Olson, traveling researcher for a bail project; Dave Packard and Philip White, traveling researchers for an N.A.A.C.P. project on sentencing. An additional student will go to Jackson, Mississippi.

Working in New Jersey will be Eric Chamblis, while Gaile O'Connor, Michael Smith, and Harry Wyeth will participate in East Bay programs.

Award To Dean

Morrough P. O'Brien, dean emeritus of the College of Engineering, has been awarded the 1964 Tasker H. Bliss Medal by the Society of American Military Engineers.

Named after the World War I Army Chief of Staff, the medal is offered annually to an engineering educator for the promotion of military engineering education and technical leadership for the national defense.

Conservation Group Formed

A campus group is being organized by law student Jim Conley for students and faculty concerned with the protection of wilderness and wildlife areas. The group will be called ACT: Active Conservation Tactics.

Its efforts will be directed against "despoilation," whether by garbage companies filling in the Bay, or Army Engineers building a Ramparts Dam.

The organization will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Stiles Hall. Tentative adviser is Daniel Lutten, lecturer in geography.

All interested persons are invited.

Rowers Head for Sprints, Then IRA

Cal to Host Top Trackmen in US

Unbeaten and hungry for more, Cal's varsity and JV crews travel to Seattle this weekend for the Western Sprints, eager to extend their recent domination in this part of the country.

Jim Lemmon is still uncertain about his boatings, but indicated that they will probably be substantially the same as they were for the dual race with Washington two weeks ago. The Bear frosh will not race, having finished their schedule.

Both Bear crews must be considered favorites because of their impressive record. Each will probably receive its toughest competition from the Huskies and possibly British Columbia.

Cal holds victories over six of the other eight competing varsities. The Bears will face British Columbia, Oregon State, Long Beach State, and possibly Southern Cal in their preliminary heat. The top three will qualify for the finals.

Cal came from behind late in the race to defeat the Huskies two weeks ago in a three mile distance contest. The Western Sprints are conducted on a 2,000 meter course, which is a bit more than a third of the longer race and is raced at a much higher, shorter stroke. Since Washington led Cal most of the race at Seattle, including the first 2,000 meters, the Bears have to prove Saturday that they can win at the shorter distance.

And Lemmon figures that is precisely what his crews are aiming at. The Bear coach declined to compare his men in distance and sprint racing, saying, "I feel that a good crew has to be able to do both."

In a recent race against British Columbia, Washington raced substantially the same varsity to Cal, and won by a length and a half. The UBC boat, which contained four Olympic returnees from last year, was in the midst of finals, however, and hence may not have been in the best state of mind for the encounter with Washington. Lemmon expects both Washington and UBC to challenge his varsity. Any other school winning would constitute a very major upset.

The JV boat has been a pleasant surprise to Lemmon this spring, since it is one of the rare JV's capable of seriously challenging the varsity. And they have demonstrated their ability impressively after a slightly shaky first race.

Again, the big challenge should come from the Huskies. The Seattle crew raced a JV boat against UBC that was scrambled considerably from the Cal-Washington race, and defeated the Canadians by a whopping six lengths. Orange Coast College stayed within a length of Cal in the opening race of the year. The Bears will face UBC, USC, Pacific Lutheran, and St. Mary's in their preliminary heat.

The Bears are healthy again for their return to "mad-dog racing," as Lemmon calls sprint competition, and he anticipates a good show. The Western Sprints next year are scheduled for the Mare Island Channel near Vallejo.

Looking ahead past the Sprints, the really big show will be the IRA in mid-June at Syracuse. There the varsity will be defending its national championship and the JV boat will be trying to acquire one.

As the boats are tentatively set, five varsity men—John McConnell, John Sellers, Ron Sellers, Malcolm Thornley, and Reg Watt—will be concluding their rowing days. Seniors in the JV are Frank Brown, Dan Hatch, and Norm Stanley.

DON SCHMIDT
Monstrous platter-putter

By DAVE BUSH
With the preliminaries over, Cal's tracksters venture into the jaws of competition that ranks among the world's best both this weekend and in the NCAA meet, June 17.

The Bears are expected to pick up a flock of points in the AAWU fest at Washington State this weekend, but the markers will be tougher to come by when they host the best among the nation's colleges at Edwards Stadium.

USC rules the favorite to pick up its ninth straight league title, having taken all six AAWU crowns, plus two more in the PCC, since UCLA won in 1956.

Cal's mile relay team rates its usual role as the league favorite. The Bears ran a 3:08.7 in last week's Coliseum relays to pick up their 23rd straight win.

The quartet will be composed of Al Courchesne, Dave Fishback, Forrest Beaty and Dave Archibald.

Archibald is the defending league 440 champ and will be hardest pressed by teammate Beaty and USC's Dwight Middleton, who handed Dave a defeat this season. Archibald has a best of 46.4. Beaty has turned the quarter in only 47.6 this year, but has a lifetime best of 46.6 in gaining last year's NCAA finals. Middleton ran a 47.0 in nipping Archibald down South.

Improving Bill Carter has the second best mark among league high jumpers at 6-10 $\frac{3}{4}$. Lew Hoyt of USC has the top mark, but Carter has tied the Trojan in both their last two meetings.

The surprising Fishback is entered in the 880 and could place, despite the fact that his times do not rank among the best. He has run a 1:51.3 this season but showed his best form of the season last week in with a 46.9 mile relay leg.

Beaty and Archibald both are entered in the 220 and should trail Stanford's Larry Questad to the tape. The sprint twins have each run 21.2.

Don Schmidt, should pick up points in the discus. The huge Bear has the loop's third best throw of 176.9. USC's Gary Carlsen and Stanford's Bob Stoecker rank as the top platter spinners.

Bob Brinkworth will be welcomed back to action after missing most of the season. Brinkworth will probably buck the 100 field and run third man on the 440 relay team.

Jim Blakeney is slated to lead-off the Bears' sprint relay which has a 40.3, while Archibald will run second and Beaty will anchor.

Miler Lyman Shaffer will probably miss the trip due to illness, and his absence will leave the Bears without a four-lap entrant.

Bob Price, like Shaffer just a sophomore, will take a crack at the three-mile. The bespectacled distance man is a customary two-miler, but figures to have a better chance in the longer race.

The real test for the Bears will come in the NCAA meet, which will feature an array of track guests, including Randy Matson in the weights and Ullis Williams in the 440.

No one can enter the NCAA meet unless they have surpassed the qualifying time or distance set by the coaches, so the best are sorted out beforehand.

The Bear mile-quartet won the NCAA last season, but will be pushed by Abeline Christian, New Mexico and Rice. Other Bears who rate a good chance in the big one are Archibald and Beaty in the quarter, Carter and Schmidt.

Not Till Football's Over

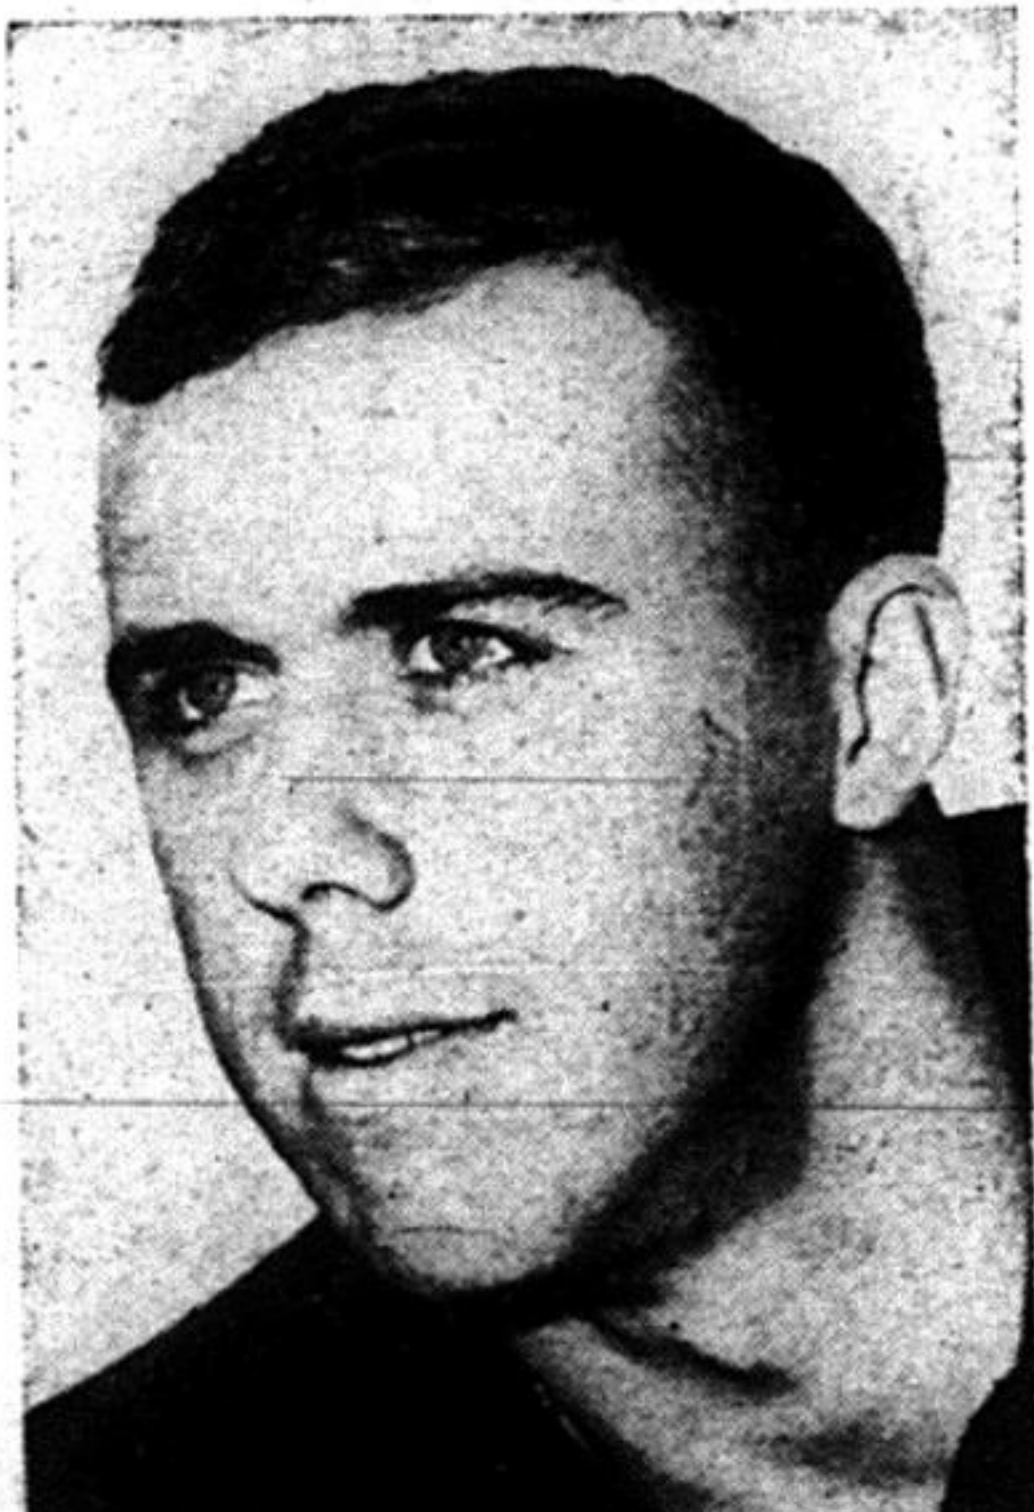

Hunt Chooses Ministry Career

Berkshire Christian College is not known for its football recruiting program. The small Massachusetts school appears, however, to have come up with a first rate quarterback prospect: Jim Hunt.

Yes, Cal's Jim Hunt. Hunt is not going East to play the grid game, however. There are serious doubts that Berkshire even fields a touch team. And rest assured, fans, they won't be getting him before the '65 Big Game is in the books.

Berkshire is a four-year Seventh Day Adventist seminary, and Hunt, a serious young man who found that the liberal arts programs at Cal were not what he was looking for, recently concluded that ministry might be more toward the point.

So his present plans are to finish out the '65 season, and then disappear like Craig Morton—almost. When asked if he would accept a pro offer, he said, "No,

JIM HUNT
The passing parson

in the pros I'd only be playing for money, and that's not that important.

"I'll definitely go to Berkshire after the season, for two, three, maybe four years; what I do then will depend on where there is a position open."

Hunt had, since high school, thought he would go into coaching as a career. He decided against that earlier this year. He also found that geography, economics, or whatever, did not hold his interest.

The backfield star from St. Helena declares that he came to Cal to play football, and he intends to finish out his college career before making the change.

This is not surprising, considering the town of St. Helena, or more to the point, the football tradition of St. Helena High.

The Napa Valley metropolis (which, according to informed sources, couldn't get much smaller) produces each year a team that has a habit of winning.

They've won 45 straight games, a California record.

The string started in Tom Blanchfield's senior year there, continuing the next year under Hunt's guidance, and is still going.

It is not surprising that Hunt is sold on the sport, and even less considering that the school's winning ways are in large part due to a coach whom Hunt terms "just great," but who recently resigned. With a flock of players gone the diploma route this year, next season's coach may want Hunt back at quarter.

Next year, though, he'll have to do without him, because Hunt has plans to quarterback the Blue and Gold. Whether he will or not, he just doesn't know yet, for Dan Berry is giving him such a go that the spot is still up for grabs.

Craig Morton's understudy for two years, Hunt now feels he may share the spot next year, in that he thinks alternating with Berry could be the final solution.

Announcements

BASKETBALL
All candidates for the varsity basketball must report for a meeting Wednesday, May 26, at 4:00 p.m. in 131 Harmon.

BLAST FOR BRUTUS
Friends of Brutus Hamilton will sponsor a testimonial for Cal's retiring track coach at the Claremont Hotel on June 19 at 7:30. Tickets for the affair are $10 and can be obtained by writing or calling Mrs. Henrietta Gurgich in the athletic department.

BIG C ELECTIONS
This Friday, at noon, there will be a meeting of the Big C Society to select new officers. The meeting will be held at 2728 Bancroft, also known as the Zeta Psi fraternity house. Lunch will be served as usual.

Weightlifter Pat Going Wins 165 Lb. NCAA Title as Only Cal Entrant

Pat Going captured the NCAA 165 pound weightlifting title last weekend at Michigan State to conclude an eminently successful season for the Golden Bear musclemen.

In Going's national championship lift, he managed 240 pounds in the press and 210 in the snatch on his way to the 715 total.

Teammates Pete Carleton and Bill Brewer could not make the trip to Lansing with Going, so Cal did not really field a team. But Carleton and Brewer are definitely in his class, so a team championship might have resulted.

Carleton was first in his weight class in the Western America championships, held May 15, by boosting a 700 pound total.

The third Cal weightlifting champion this spring was Tim White, who took a first in the Santa Clara Valley Open on April 24.

Although Cal's team was one of its strongest ever, many new lifters are needed. The club encourages anyone interested in learning the Olympic lifts to take the competitive weightlifting course in the Phys Ed. department or to contact club members.

Tickets on Sale to June NCAA Meet

Reserved tickets for the 1965 National Collegiate Track and Field Championship Meet, June 17-19 at Edwards Stadium, are selling well and are being filled as they come in.

With races finishing on both the East and West sides of the Stadium the number of good seats has been increased, but finish line seating is going rapidly. Three $6.00; reserved seats for Saturday are $4.00 and Thursday, Friday season tickets are priced at day and Saturday general admission prices are $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50. There is no reserved seating on Friday or Thursday, although season ticket holders are entitled to reserved section seating on Friday.

The meet is scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday. The discus final will start Saturday's activities at 11:30 a.m. with the first running event, the 440 relay, starting at 2:00 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the Athletic Ticket Dept.

June Groundbreak For Lawrence Hall

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Lawrence Hall of Science will be held on graduation day, June 12. This event will mark the culmination of five years of planning and work to achieve a living memorial to Ernest O. Lawrence. Lawrence received the Nobel Prize in physics for his invention of the cyclotron and was largely responsible for the establishment of the Radiation Laboratory here and in Livermore.

As a part of the celebration, self teaching science exhibits developed by the staff will be on display during the week of June 7 from 1:00 to 4:30 p.m. at the temporary location of the Hall of Science in Wing D on Gayley Road, behind Crowell Hospital. Students and faculty are invited to visit and try new innovations in science education.

CORE Now Recruiting

Campus CORE is recruiting for the CORE-Louisiana Summer Project. About 25 persons have already been accepted, but there are still openings for more volunteers.

The project is an attempt to open up the state, which so far has resisted any major advance by the civil rights movement. In the past months, CORE, in cooperation with local organizations, has stepped-up its activity despite increasingly hostile conditions. As a result of the growing atmosphere of violence, a Negro self-defense organization has been established in several parts of the state and it has been providing protection so that civil rights workers can carry on their work.

This summer increased numbers of CORE volunteers will work in four Louisiana Congressional districts, assisting in voter education and registration drives and in setting up freedom schools. By this effort, CORE hopes to lay the groundwork for a statewide federation of self-reliant community organizations which will take the lead in the Louisiana freedom struggle. It is expected that Louisiana will become the main front of the civil rights movement as the project gets underway after a training session in early June.

For those who missed the last interview session and those who would like to volunteer, an orientation and interview session will be held 1 p.m. this Sunday at the CORE office, 3219 Adeline.

Talk on Dead Sea Scrolls

A lecture on the Dead Sea Scrolls and a special evening showing of the scrolls collection at the Lowie Museum of Anthropology are scheduled for tomorrow.

The speaker will be Dr. Awni Dajani, director of antiquities in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan and travelling curator of the collection during its current international tour. Using color slides, he will talk on "The Dead Sea Scrolls and the Holy Land" at 8 p.m. in 160 Kroeber Hall.

The exhibition of 14 scrolls plus artifacts from Qumran will have a single evening showing from 7 to 10 p.m. the same day. The exhibition is regularly open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, and will be at Berkeley through May 30. All events connected with it are open to the public without charge.

University Feels Quake Yesterday

BERKELEY (AP) — A strong earthquake registering 7 on the Richter scale and located 6,000 miles northwest of Berkeley was recorded at 5:51 p.m. PDT Wednesday.

The University seismology station here reported that the quake probably occurred off the south-east coast of Asia.

Extension Weekend Confab To Study Views on 'Identity'

Leading scholars in the humanities and social science fields will take part in a University Extension conference titled "The Problem of Identity" Friday through Sunday at Asilomar on the Monterey Peninsula. The weekend program is planned to study contemporary and historical concepts of identity views held in various religions, philosophical schools, and in the biological and social science disciplines.

Julian Hartt, professor of philosophical theology at Yale University, will discuss "The Christian View of Identity," and Huston Smith, who has studied in religious centers throughout Southeast Asia and the Far East, will discuss "Self-Identity in India, China, and the West." He is a professor of philosophy at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and author of Condemned to Meaning and The Religions of Man.

Paul Wienpahl, University professor of philosophy and author of The Matter of Zen, will discuss "Identity as Atonelement: A Buddhist Approach," and Arthur Koestler, author of The Act of Creation, Darkness at Noon, and numerous other works, will lecture on "Self-Assertion and Self Transcendence: A Biological View."

Apply by Mon. for Student Health Com

Application forms for positions on the Student Health Service Committee are available in 304 New Eshelman Hall. Return completed forms by Monday, 22 May, at 4:00.

The SHSC sponsors the Cowell Hospital Volunteers, Blood Drive, and the Drug Drive for Foreign Hospitals. Its primary function is to make UC students aware of their health facilities and benefits at Cowell Memorial Hospital.

Selection of new members will be made after applicants are interviewed on Tuesday or Wednesday.

TESTS, AND HOW THEY GREW

Just the other night I was saying to the little woman, "Do you think the importance of tests in American colleges is being overemphasized?" (Incidentally, the little woman is not, as you might think, my wife. My wife is far from a little woman. She is, in fact, nearly seven feet high and mantled with rippling muscles. She is a full-blooded Ogallala Sioux and holds the world's shot put record. The little woman I referred to is someone we found crouching under the sofa when we moved into our apartment back in 1928, and there she has remained ever since. She never speaks except to make a kind of guttural clicking sound when she is hungry. To tell you the truth, she's not too much fun to have around the house, but with my wife away at track meets most of the time, at least it gives me someone to talk to.)

But I digress. "Do you think the importance of tests in American colleges is being overemphasized?" I said the other night to the little woman, and then I said, "Yes, Max, I do think the importance of tests in American colleges is being overemphasized." (As I explained, the little woman does not speak, so when we have conversations, I am forced to do both parts.)

But I digress. To get back to tests—sure, they're important, but let's not allow them to get too important. There are, after all, many talents which simply can't be measured by quizzes. Is it right to penalize a gifted student whose gifts don't happen to fall into an academic category? Like, for instance, Finster Sigafoos?

Finster, a freshman at the Wyoming College of Belles Lettres and Fingerprint Identification, has never passed a single test; yet all who know him agree he is studded with talent like a ham with cloves. He can, for example, sleep standing up. He can do a perfect imitation of a scarlet tanager. (I don't mean just the bird calls; I mean he can fly south in the winter.) He can pick up BB's with his toes. He can say "toy boat" three times fast. He can build a rude telephone out of 100 yards of string and two empty Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade packages. (This last accomplishment is the one Finster is proudest of—not building the telephone but emptying the Personna packs. To empty a Personna pack is not easily accomplished, believe you me, not if you're a person who likes to get full value out of his razor blades. And full value is just what Personnas deliver. They last and last and keep on lasting; luxury shave follows luxury shave in numbers that make the mind boggle. Why don't you see for yourself? Personnas are now available in two varieties: a brand-new stainless steel injector blade for users of injector razors—and the familiar double-edge stainless steel blade so dear to the hearts and kind to the kissers of so many happy Americans, blades so smooth-shaving, so long-lasting that the Personna Co. makes the following guarantee: If you don't agree Personna gives you more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other brand you might name, Personna will buy you a pack of whatever kind you think is better.)

But I digress. Back to Finster Sigafoos—artist, humanist, philosopher, and freshman since 1939. Will the world ever benefit from Finster's great gifts? Alas, no. He is in college to stay.

But even more tragic for mankind is the case of Clare de Loon. Clare, a classmate of Finster's, had no talent, no gifts, no brains, no personality. All she had was a knack for taking tests. She would cram like mad before a test, always get a perfect score, and then promptly forget everything she had learned. Naturally, she graduated with highest honors and degrees by the dozen, but the sad fact is that she left college no more educated and no more prepared to cope with the world than she was when she entered. Today, a broken woman, she crouches under my sofa.

Speaking of tests, we, the makers of Personna®, put our blades through an impressive number before we send them to market. We also make—and thoroughly test—an aerosol shave that soaks rings around any other lather: Burma Shave®, regular and menthol.

Cal Night at the Opera Soon

A pair of contrasting short operas will be performed for the fifth annual "Cal Night at the Opera" at 8 p.m., May 28, at San Francisco's War Memorial Opera House.

Performed exclusively for University students and staff will be Bartok's "Bluebeard's Castle," with Beverly Wolff and Ara Berberian, and "The Spanish Hour" by Ravel, starring Carol Todd, Andre Montal, Robert Glover, Julian Patrick and Herbert Beattie.

Both operas will be sung in English.

The program will open on a sombre note with "Bluebeard's Castle," in which the scoundrel's fifth wife arrives and discovers what happened to the first four.

"The Spanish Hour" in an opera comedy set in the shop of an absent-minded old clock maker in Toledo. His young wife clears the shop for the visit of her lover, but is visited instead by two swains plus a mule driver.

Sousa Concert At Noon Today

The University Concert Band will hold a Sousa Memorial Concert at noon today in the Lower Student Union Plaza.

The purpose of the concert is to get donations toward the John Philip Sousa Memorial Band Shell to be built in the John F. Kennedy National Cultural Center in Washington D.C.

Donations totaling $100 or more will entitle the Band to have its name engraved on a plaque which will be placed on the Band Shell at the time of its dedication.

MEN WANTED TO WORK WITH TROUBLED BOYS

The Interpersonal Relations Project of Stiles Hall needs fifty male students to work as companions with 5th and 6th grade school boys. This is an experimental project exploring ways in which non-professionals can help young boys overcome some of their difficulties in getting along with others.

- Each pair will share activities of mutual interest
- Students of all majors, races, ages, etc. needed
- Work Starts early next October
- Six to nine hours per week
- Sensitivity training program
- $1.40 per hour

Interested students can find applications and additional information at Stiles Hall, 2400 Bancroft Way (TH 1-6013), at the Institute of Human Development (Tolman Hall), or at the Placement Center. APPLY NOW.

Movie Benefit

A movie for the benefit of the nine people arrested for "obscenity" and for the four suspended or dismissed students will be shown at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Wheeler Auditorium.

$8,000 is needed to pay court fees for their appeals of convictions.

The program will include the "trailer" of Timothy Carey's film, the "World's Greatest Sinner"; "Freaks"; "The World's Greatest Sinner" and Michael Kline's "An American Dream."

Drama

(CPS) — American student dramatists are missing an opportunity for international participation and recognition, according to Norman Uphoff, international affairs vice president of the National Student Association (NSA). While participating in an exchange of student leader delegations with the Yugoslav Union of Students, Uphoff met with Dacko Suvin, international vice president of the International Student Theater Union, and learned of ISTU's programs.

ISTU was constituted three years ago when the members of the European Student Theater Union decided to promote student theater exchange on a larger scale. ISTU seeks to become genuinely international and remain equidistant from the world blocs.

'Compact' Between Gov't And Educators to Be Urged

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)— A compact between state governments and educational leaders, designed to improve the quality of American education, will be proposed to the governors' conference in July, it was announced Tuesday.

Former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina said the proposed compact is now in the planning stage.

In a prepared address to the national P-TA convention here, Sanford said:

"We can achieve much of joining in a working partnership the political leadership and the educational leadership.

"The governors, the legislators, the chief state school officers, the school board members, the administrators, the college and university presidents and faculties, and the professional organizations would constitute a powerful team for progress."

In seeking the best possible pattern for the future of education, Sanford said, "obviously, there will be more than one path; obviously, we should not seek uniformity."

Sanford, who became known as the "education governor" during his four-year term which expired earlier this year, now is engaged in a study of state and federal relationships under a foundation grant.

Reg Cards OK at Ushering Booth

Spring registration cards will be honored at the ushering booth throughout the summer. University students holding summer registration cards will be eligible to sign up for ushering tickets.

The Spring San Francisco opera will be on through June 22, and then the Royal Ballet will be in San Francisco from July 1 through July 6. During the summer other attractions include The King and I, The Great Waltz, and other performances by local theatrical groups.

The U.C. ushering booth staff needs replenishing, and spokesmen for the staff point out the booth is open only one hour a day so each staff member will work one hour a week.

Students who are in this area during the summer who are not planning to register for the summer but are planning to study on campus can join the staff as long as they are registered during the spring semester and plan to register again in the fall.

Transit District

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly voted unanimously yesterday to give the City of Berkeley the right to form a special district to finance a tunnel for its segment of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District system.

Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) said his measure would allow the city to prevent the rapid transit tracks from marred the city. He said the district would have to get voter approval before issuing bonds.

The measure now goes to the Senate.

A 'Test Case' Mentality

Sometimes we really wonder what the ASUC Senate thinks it is. Especially when the Senate begins to act like a legal aid society.

At its meeting Tuesday night, the Senate passed a motion allocating $400 to defray legal costs to be incurred by the four suspended students in contesting their discipline by the University for obscenity.

Just what does the Senate think they are doing?

Obviously they must think they are protecting "the interests of students" by sponsoring such a "test case."

This we seriously question, whether it be to the tune of four cents or $400.

But there is a need for a test case . . . or, at least, that's what we are told. And we suppose every instance of University discipline will now demand a test case . . . sponsored by the ASUC.

To be sure, recourse against University discipline can clearly be taken, if one wishes, in the courts.

But now it appears that serious consideration must be given to dissolving the ASUC and hiring a staff of attorneys.

Four hundred dollars would have gone a long way in starting a student course evaluation system on this campus, but this, we guess, would not have been "in the interests of the students."

Four hundred dollars, as it was requested earlier this semester, would have substantially subsidized the Student Opera Theater production of "The Rape of Lucretia" scheduled for late this month. But, we guess, this was not "in the interests of students."

Four hundred dollars could have financed a speakers program on any topic of interest to students . . . but, we guess, this would not be "in the interests of the students."

Instead, the ASUC allocated $400 to finance the appeals of those students suspended over the use of obscenity on University property.

Is such an action indicative of the necessity for "responsible student government?"

Or is our ASUC Senate, like other pathetic groups, possessed with a "test case" mentality?

The ASUC Senate could have ignited a pile of 400 one dollar bills in the Sproul Hall Plaza. This would have been more "in the interests of students."

Letters to the Ice Box

Vietnam Day

To the Ice Box:

The State Department has broken its agreement to send speakers to Berkeley for Vietnam Day. The reason given is "lack of balance" in the program.

From its inception, Vietnam Day was planned as an educational protest, not as a "balanced debate." The government's position on Vietnam has received wide publicity, through news releases, presidential addresses, etc. The purpose of Vietnam Day is to discuss alternatives to current United States policy. To do this in a meaningful way, it is not enough to debate the merits of particular cold war strategies; the basic assumptions underlying the State Department's whole approach to the cold war must be examined. Many of the speakers will analyze the problems facing the United States in terms of ideas very different from the "Communist menace" theory. We want the State Department to be confronted with these ideas, which are rarely discussed in public. We want the State Department to defend its policies before a mass audience of people familiar with these ideas. Perhaps it is not surprising that the State Department is unwilling to do this; after all, last Saturday there was apparently not one person in the government who could take McGeorge Bundy's place in the "perfectly balanced" national debate in Washington.

Twice in one week the government has backed down when faced with the prospect of defending its policy before a mass audience. We hope it will regain courage to send someone to Berkeley to speak on Vietnam Day. We will keep an empty chair ready on the speakers' platform.

Morris W. Hirsch

'Rather Than . . .'

To the Ice Box:

The May 10 resolution of the Academic Senate, asking that the Board of Regents reconsider the regulations proposed by the Meyer Committee, passed by a vote of 192-34. This vote indicated agreement among the faculty with the general sense of the resolution but the preceding three hour debate brought out varying interpretations. I voted for the resolution but am concerned over one general principle requested of the Regents, reading:

"1. Regulations affecting student behavior on the individual campuses should be defined in terms of general community standards . . ." The interpretation of "rather than" as a rejection of "general community standards" could be distressing, certainly to the members of the general community itself. If we, as faculty, intended this meaning, then we have become irresponsible to the general community and can be accused of academic isolationism.

A different interpretation is that we are concerned with minimizing the rules to be added to those of the general community which includes the campus community. With this view, there is no public-be-damned interpretation or implication of special dispensation for students as separate from others.

The recognition and understanding of a special community within the general community, for which we have all argued these past many months, is a status earned dearly over the years of high academic performance. Certainly implied are mutual responsibilities. Thus, the second interpretation appears more fitting.

Scholars?

To the Ice Box:

There is a crisis in world affairs. It is a minimal requisite, if a community of scholars has any value to a society, that the scholars must contribute to decision-making in times such as these.

On the Vietnam issue there has been an appalling silence on the part of professors from the social and political sciences. On this campus a handful of people in mathematics and the natural sciences organized the discussion following the Washington debates of last Saturday. One political scientist, Prof. Schurmann, carried the whole weight of the discussion. Where were the others?

What good is a community of scholars when the community can-

Thanks

To the Ice Box:

The Society of Armenian Students wishes publicly to thank the faculty, students, and staff of the University of California for their overwhelming support of us during our Commemoration of the 50th Anniversary of the Turkish Massacre of two million Armenians in 1915. We feel that the interest shown by the university community, the questions asked by them, and the discussions which ensued were highly indicative of the success of our efforts to familiarize our colleagues with the facts relative to the crimes perpetrated against our martyred ancestors. Moreover, we feel that the success of our efforts were even more highly demonstrated by the great number of signatures affixed to our petition to the United Nations, which called for universal acknowledgement of the Turkish Genocide, and for a reconsideration of the Armenian Question. Through our efforts, we hope to demonstrate to the world the man's inhumanities to his fellow man will not be buried forever with the bones of the victims —thus giving rise to opportunities for further crimes.

 not profit from the views, the knowledge, the accumulation of a life-time of work by a scholar in any field? What does it mean when in a community of scholars the time comes to openly discuss an issue of world wide importance and the experts answer with silence? Perhaps they feel that they have not had enough time to carefully consider the issue from all sides. That is undoubtedly true, but decisions are being made now, and certainly they must be made on the basis of the best available information and understanding which is available now. Perhaps these men feel that they will lose their objectivity if they enter into debate on policy; particularly they seem to feel that they should not make moral judgments. When people are being killed by the thousands no statement is, by its tacit approval, an extremely telling moral judgment. There comes a time when one has a moral responsibility to speak out.

More Vietnam

To the Ice Box:

We are sorry that the State Department and its defenders feel that the best way to combat "one-sidedness" in the Vietnam Day program is to boycott it, thereby assuring one-sidedness and the absence of confrontation and debate. While we personally suspect their position is indefensible, we regret greatly the loss of an opportunity to hear their viewpoint.

We commend Prof. Wildavsky for his continued intention to participate, and hope that others will make the decision he made.

More Cautious

To the Ice Box:

Now that the Forbes (Byrne) Report is out, one would assume that President Kerr and the Regents should really be much more cautious in the future. Owing to the fact that the Byrne Report does not jive with their pre-conceived notions as to the nature of what "really happened," do you suppose that Mr. Byrne is a Communist, or one of those Mao dupes of which there was such a large percentage last fall?

Music Program

The Cassenti Players, the Canadian chamber music group which will play Friday, has announced a new program due to a last-minute switch of one of the instrumentalities.

The ensemble will perform the world premiere of the Quartet for oboe, clarinet, bassoon, and violin by the Cassenti violinist, Arthur Polson.

Also on the new program will be the Quartet in D minor for oboe, violin, bassoon, and continuo, by Telemann.

Too many good plays are performed well in San Francisco and the Bay area for too small an audience. Most of the people who go to plays around here, and really know what is going on, are students. There is a perfectly good production of Eugene O'Neill's The Great God Brown, being done at the International Repertory Theatre in S.F. The play is done with the audience relaxed in wicker chairs sipping free coffee. The theater is nice, and the play is dramatic, and exciting. It is the only play I have seen in months that was really worth sitting through because of its dramatic qualities alone.

Out in San Anselmo the Festival Theater is doing Beckett's Waiting for Godot. It is one of the most widely discussed modern plays, and one which no fan of the modern theater would want to miss. The production, I am reliably informed, is much better than the audiences it is getting.

Also being produced is an original play about a German pacifist pastor who engaged in a plot to kill Hitler.

It is absurd for people to produce good plays if nobody goes to see them. May I suggest that you drive out to San Anselmo and see one of these plays? Next week is dead week, and the weekend between exams would be the perfect time to take in a play.

"Godot," and "Trembling," end a week from Sunday. Reservations may be made by phoning 454-3000. Tickets start at $1.50. Call the International Repertory Theater at 775-3513.

A $1 million apple-green jade pagoda is on display in the Oakland Museum. It was made over a ten year period by 150 craftsmen in 1,000 pieces, from 6,000 pounds of Burmese jadeite. The last day of display is Sunday.

Look carefully at the list of entertainers for Vietnam day. KPFA will broadcast the events.

During the summer there are numerous festivals of theater, dance, and drama near-by. If you should be around Rudolf Nureyev will be in SF, The Merchant of Venice, Tartuffe, Candida, a whole series of dance programs and ballet, and a Mozart festival will be down in Palo Alto, and the Mime Troupe will give free performances in Golden Gate Park.

There will be free band concerts and other things nearby, and the Ushering Booth will remain open. That means free concerts, plays, and operas all summer long.

Have fun!

—Tom Collins

Ex Econ Prof to Get Honor

Ira B. Cross, cited by the University as a "skillful disturber of complacency and begetter of inquiring minds," will draw tribute from his economist colleagues and former teaching assistants Monday when a seminar room in Barrows Hall is dedicated in his honor.

Cross, 84, retired in 1951 after teaching economics for 37 years to more than 50,000 Berkeley students.

Speakers at the 4 p.m. ceremonies in the Barrows eighth floor Lipman Room will include Cross' former teaching fellows: Clark Kerr, University President; Ewald T. Grether, dean emeritus of the Schools of Business Administration, and Paul S. Taylor, professor of economics, emeritus.

The former teaching fellows, as they were called, provided the seminar room and a portrait of their professor painted by Peter Blos.

Cross, now a nationally recognized expert in the growing of chrysanthemums, had a reputation over the years as a fiery lecturer and stern disciplinarian, as well as one of the University's most able teachers.

Talk on Fish Life

The adaptation of fishes to the vast and varied environments of the ocean will be discussed by Stanford University zoologist Warren C. Friehoffer at 8 p.m. today in 155 Dwinelle Hall.

The program is presented by University Extension as part of a weekly lecture series on "The Ocean: A Last Frontier." Lecture tickets will be on sale at the door; the fee is $2 general admission; $1 student admission.

The University granted him an honorary degree in 1957 and characterized him, thus:

"A respected scholar in the fields of money and banking, foreign exchange, labor, and the growing of chrysanthemums, a teacher blessed in the memory of generations of students as a skillful disturber of complacency and begetter of inquiring minds, seeking always to lead youth from illusion to reality, through a world of peddlers of panaceas and proverbs . . ."

PIETY AND BIGOTRY

A Forum of Anti-Semitism presented by Dr. Charles Glock, Professor of Sociology at the University of California and Director of the Survey Research Center.

This study on Anti-Semitism was done in the San Francisco area and was influential in the Vatican Council deliberations.

The Forum begins at 7 (with supper at 6 p.m.) on Sunday, May 23, at the Lutheran Campus Center, 2311 Bowditch St.

A cabinet minister will lead an official delegation representing the Greek Government at Saturday's performance of "Antigone" at the Greek Theatre.

He is Dimitrios Papaspyrou, minister to the presidency of the Greek government and minister of cultural affairs of Greece.

Papaspyrou will also deliver a free public lecture tomorrow on campus. He will talk on "The Continuity of Greek Civilization and Its Meaning for the Modern World" beginning at 4:10 p.m. in 101 California Hall.

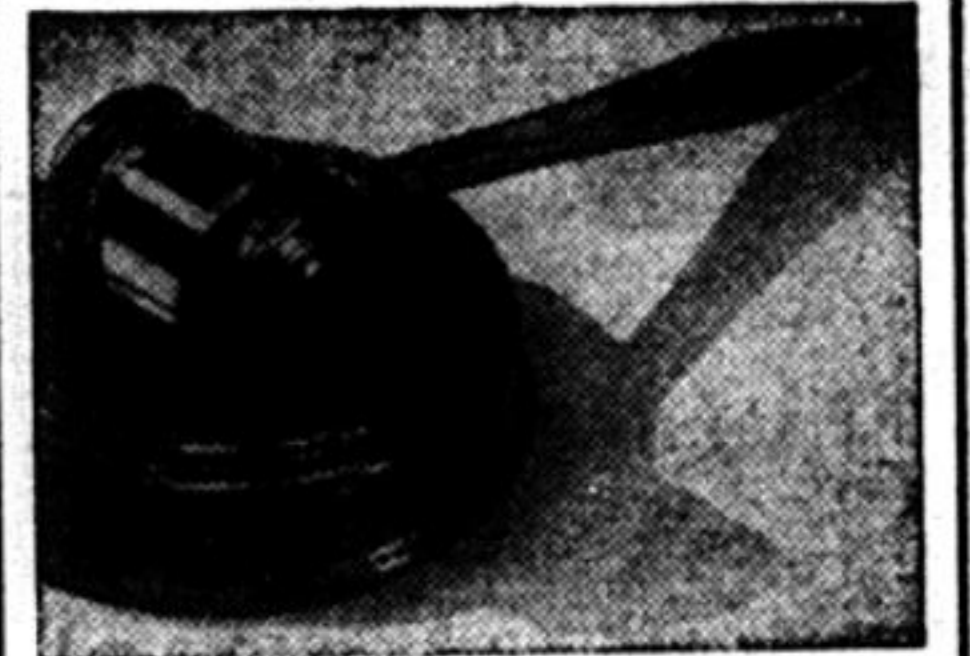

Other dignitaries at the performance will be Costas Moutsellos, director of the National Bank of Greece; George Papandreou, son of the Prime Minister and brother of a former University professor; Gregory Leventis, director of the Greek tourist service in New York; and Sotiri Boughdis, consul-general of Greece in San Francisco.

A reception for them will be held at University House following the performance.

Papaspyrou arranged the donation of wigs and sandals by the Greek Government to the University production of "Antigone." This classic drama by Sophocles is directed by Takis Muzenidis, director of the National Theatre of Greece.

Poet to Read

The Union Program Board's Literature Committee will feature Dennis Crisp, who will read some of his own poetry at 4 p.m. today in Heller Lounge.

Crisp is a self-employed contemporary poet, sculptor and painter.

Theater Workshop

Two one act plays will share the semester's final bill in the University Theater Workshop series.

Robert Lanchester, graduate student in dramatic art, will direct the hour and a half program, with Deborah Bartlett, Lynne O'Brien and Steve Cackley in the Beckett play, and Nancy Argue, Heery Lynn and David Mairowitz acting in the plays.

The production will be given at 4:15 p.m. today and tomorrow in the Dwinelle Studio Theater. Admission is free, but will be limited to the seating capacity of the theater.

Hearst Pool Remains Open

The swimming pool at Hearst Gymnasium will remain open as usual through dead week and will observe special hours through the first week of finals. Regular hours during dead week are from noon to 5:45 p.m., May 24 through 28.

The pool is closed on Saturday, May 29.

During the first week of finals, the following schedule will be maintained: noon to 2 p.m. and 4 to 5:45 p.m.

The pool will be closed on Monday, May 31. After June 4, the facilities will not be available for use until June 22, the start of the first summer session.

Anti-Obscenity Bills Killed

The Assembly Criminal Procedure committee yesterday turned down two anti-obscenity bills, but the author of one of them, Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, (R-San Diego), threatened to ask the full assembly to reverse the committee decision—a move opposed by Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

One of the anti-obscenity bills turned down by the committee was backed by Governor Edmund G. Brown, Unruh and Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch. It would have modified the law's controversial definition of smut-matter "utterly without redeeming social importance."

Three Republicans who usually support such bills — Barnes, George Deukmejian of Long Beach and Howard Thelin of Glendale—refused to vote. They objected to the way George N. Zenovich, (D-Fresno), had cast his aye vote. Zenovich said he'd support the measure only if author Pearce Young, (D-Napa), agreed not to accept any amendments to it.

It's Mario 'Robert' Savio

By JAN FABER

Both names and frames were the subject of the probing, sometimes poking, questioning of Mario Savio yesterday in the trial of the Sproul Hall demonstrators of Dec. 2-3.

In a bandy of questions and answers Prosecuting Attorney Lowell Jensen, referring to prior testimony from Savio, asked if his full name was indeed Mario Robert Savio.

This line of questioning at long length succeeded in proving that Savio's full name, according to his baptismal certificate, is Mario Robert Savio.

In the afternoon session Jensen read to the court the statement made by former Chancellor Edward Strong in Sproul Hall Dec. 3.

Strong had read this statement to the demonstrators on each floor of Sproul Hall just prior to the arrests.

The statement identified the Chancellor to the demonstrators and then informed them their assemblance in Sproul Hall was illegal; that it "seriously impaired the workings and purposes of the University"; that such action "would not be tolerated anywhere in our society"; and "concluded "Please go."

The statement also alluded to two claims:

• The University administration was always open to hear grievances.

• The administration had exercised considerable restraint in using their "legitimate authority" to constrain campus political activity.

When asked what his reaction was as he listened last Dec. to Strong's words, Savio replied, "I could not help but to be dismayed at their hypocrisy."

Savio later expounded his thoughts.

He told the court of the "difficulty" throughout the entire fall semester of negotiating with the University.

Even when all people below President Clark Kerr in the University hierarchy had failed to achieve a solution, direct discussion with Kerr was never forthcoming, Savio said.

"It was true we could discuss interpretations of the edicts of the administration," Savio continued, "but never could the real issue of the rules themselves be seriously discussed."

Savio cited the use of police force against students at least twice last fall (the suspension of the eight students in November, and the arrest of Jack Weinberg) as instances which render hypocritical Strong's allusions to the University's "restraint of the use of their legitimate authority."

This testimony was entered as a factor of Savio's frame of mind during the Dec. 2-3 sit-in.

In further questioning Savio was asked if in setting up tables last semester, he had intended to purposely violate University rules.

"By setting up tables we only intended to continue those actions which we had freely engaged in over the last years," Savio testified. "It so happened that since Sept. 14 such action violated University rules, but this was not our purpose."

Constitutional rights became the topic of inquiry as Savio was asked if it was his feeling that right of petition had been denied by the administration.

Though petitions from student organizations were received by the administration last semester, Savio testified, he could not see that any "right" had been granted.

"I see the right of petition as including a response," he continued.

The defense will call their next witness to the stand when court convenes at 10 a.m. today.
