Protestor's Parade Permit Denied by City Authorities

By KEITH McCORMICK

Police permission for the Vietnam Day Committee's torchlight march to Oakland tonight was flatly refused yesterday as both Oakland and the city of Berkeley denied the VDC's request for a march permit.

The decision was supported by the Oakland City Council.

At VDC Headquarters there was no change in plans: the march would go on as scheduled.

As National Guard units assembled to meet "the possibility of emergency," Alameda District Attorney J. Frank Coakley and the three police departments involved urged University Chancellor Roger Heyns last night to warn the campus of the Oakland Port Commission's intentions to resist the march.

(For Heyns' statement, see page 6)

The Port Commission voted Wednesday "not to tolerate trespassing" on a piece of land, adjacent to the Oakland Army Terminal. Ownership of the land remains unclear. VDC intends to use it for a "sleep-out" tonight.

The big question: what would the police do in view of the uncertain legal status of a "non-approved march?"

The District Attorney said VDC activities "smacks of treason," and warned, "The law enforcement officials of Alameda County are prepared to handle any emergency . . . should any arise from this situation."

Neither police representatives nor Coakley, however, would say whether or not the police would interfere with the march or arrest demonstrators.

"Mass demonstrations and mob psychology," said Coakley, "present serious problems . . . Arrest and identification of persons involved in massive unlawful action are difficult."

Police action, said Berkeley Police chief Addison Fording, "would have to depend entirely on the conditions existing at that time."

Oakland City Attorney George Cohalan, however, said "Everything I've heard is that the marchers will be arrested or stopped." Fording said he was "deeply concerned about the possibility of violence."

He said he had "reliable information" on "certain disruptive groups" who intend to oppose the march, and a general influx into Oakland of people to participate in the march.

Oakland City Manager John Moran, in announcing his negative decision on the permit, said the Municipal Code prevented him from granting a permit if the march in his opinion might lead to conflict, violence, disturbance of the peace or serious traffic congestion.

"Consideration of previous actions of the VDC," he said in a (Continued on page 6)

UC Professor Out of Jail

By DAVID NEWMAN

Albert Michelbacher, University professor who was held in Mexico for almost two months, described yesterday his trip as "a most disagreeable experience."

Michelbacher's travels began August 19 when a pick-up truck struck his car while it was parked at the side of a highway.

A passenger in the car was killed.

Michelbacher said he was charged with "illegally parking on a Mexican highway," and with "involuntarily contributing to a homicide."

The second charge is still awaiting a verdict in court at Nogales, Mexico.

Michelbacher, a University professor of entomology, emeritus, was in Mexico researching a particular type of bee.

Michelbacher said the entire experience was tolerable only because he was able to carry on some entomological research.

Michelbacher said the Mexican authorities thought the case was so complicated they referred it to the District Attorney in Nogales.

He said he considered his transference to Nogales as the real beginning of his arrest.

"When I was taken to Nogales that afternoon, I had figured I was not in serious trouble," Michelbacher explained.

He continued, "The person who was in charge of federal prisoners told me neither the chief of police, nor the American Consul, nor anybody else could free me."

Michelbacher said he was finally freed when a doctor examined him and signed a statement saying he should be in a hospital.

"I was in the hospital for five days," Michelbacher said, "under police guard the entire time."

He said it was some days after he was released from the hospital that bail was finally set at 30,000 pesos (about $2400).

Michelbacher complained he was required to sign in at the court once a week, and was confined to Nogales and the vicinity.

Michelbacher said a final verdict on the "involuntary homicide" charge is still forthcoming—probably within the next few weeks—but a "tentative verdict" of "probably guilty" had been returned.

He explained in Mexico there is no trial by jury—a judge makes the decision based on written testimony.

The University car which Michelbacher had been driving was finally released from custody (Continued on page 11)

Administration Wants Student Rule Comment

A new plea for opinions on the proposed Campus Rules Committee was issued yesterday by the administration.

John Searle, special assistant to the Chancellor on student organizations, sent a letter to the presidents of all registered student organizations asking for additional comments on his proposal for the Committee.

The Committee would be composed of five elected students, four faculty members and a representative of the administration.

In addition, a special ASUC Senate committee is holding a meeting to discuss the rules at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in 406-408 Student Union.

Steve Cornet, chairman said yesterday he was anxious to have as many students as possible attend the meeting.

Any new proposals on the rules would be welcome, Cornet said.

Searle said the administration's invitation to comment is open to all students.

He said he had already talked with 200 student groups and after collating the additional comments he hopes to have a final proposal to present to the Chancellor by the end of October.

This week Searle has been meeting with faculty. He said "the faculty in general are very much in favor of student participation in the committee."

"Of course, there are some faculty who don't believe any students should be involved. They don't think the students are re- (Continued on page 10)

Heyns Speech, Football Game At Family Day

Addresses by Chancellor Roger W. Heyns and ASUC President Jerry Goldstein will highlight the opening of the University's third annual Family Day tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. in the Lower Student Union Plaza.

Included in the morning's program will be music by the Straw Hat Band. Members of the faculty will also be on hand for discussions.

Lectures on a variety of topics related to the University will begin at 10:30 a.m. Times and places of specific lectures will be announced at the 9 a.m. meeting.

Starting at 9:30 a.m., campus tours will leave every quarter hour from Sather Gate.

The tours will be conducted by Oski Dolls and Californians, the official student hostesses and hosts of the University, and members of Panile and Pyrtanean.

Lunch will be served at 11:15 a.m. at living groups and in the dining commons on campus.

The California vs. Washington football game at 1:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium will be the final (Continued on page 14)

Pajamarino Rally Tonight

In 1901 the announcement read: "Tonight Pajamahoolo on the cinder tract. Wear your night robes and tell your girls to come. Bosco will say a few words about patent medicines."

A revival of the old Pajamahoolo tradition will be staged at 8 p.m. tonight in the Greek Theatre when the rally committee presents its 1965 Pajamarino. Plans for the rally include a (Continued on page 13)

Bear 11 After Victory No. 3

By DAVE BUSH Sports Writer

It will be like an immovable object clashing with an irresistible force tomorrow when the crunching Huskies from Washington collide with the grinding Golden Bears in Memorial Stadium at 1:30 p.m.

Both the Huskies and the Bears feature the same type offense, rugged, hard-hitting and unspectacular, and grunts and dust clouds should be in abundance under what the weatherman promises will be fair skies.

Washington is snarling, coming off a 34-0 loss to USC, their third straight following an opening day 14-9 win over Idaho's resurgent Vandals. The Bears, with their tremendous defense showing the way, are now 2-2. The sharpest arrows Washington

Frosh Race Results Upheld by J-Com

Contested frosh election results were upheld yesterday by the ASUC Judicial Committee.

"The reason for the ruling," said Ed Lebb chairman of J Com is because it is not known who put up the posters in the election booths in Dwinelle Plaza."

Lebb reminded a group of winners and losers present that there is still a fifteen day period in which anyone may contest the election.

However, he added, unless this happens, the four election winners

Steve McGhee, Don Lively, Rhea Seddon and John Welborne will be assumed elected.

Bill Rukeyser, defeated frosh vice-presidential candidate said he will appeal the decision both to J Com and to the ASUC Senate.

"The reason the case was thrown out is because of the election rules," said Rukeyser.

"I had to charge the other candidates with posting leaflets. It is my real contention that the real blame lies with the election council."

The alleged infraction of the election rules occurred last Monday when Stephen Soiffer, a friend of Rukeyser found three election posters in one of the Dwinelle Plaza voting booths.

The poll attendant reportedly made a statement but said he had seen no one put the posters in the booth.

The posters backed the four eventual winners of the frosh elections.

Richard Venning, elections council chairman, represented Rukeyser and charged the presence of the posters in the booth violated the election rules against "audible and visible electioneering within 100 feet of the polling place."

Ed Engel, defense council for disputed frosh V.P. winner, countered earlier by saying "the election violation penalties were not included in the 1965 election rules which were handed out to all the candidates."

2200 Students Travel to L.A. Conservative Charges 'VDC Not Truthful'

More than 2200 students will swarm to Los Angeles for the All University Weekend Oct. 22 and 23, according to estimates provided by the sale of Rooter's Tickets.

The game will be played at 8:00 p.m. Saturday night, Oct. 23, in the L.A. Coliseum.

Seats are still available on the Rooter's Train which leaves Friday evening, Oct. 22.

Round trip fare is $23.

UCLA offers free housing to 800 students.

All those who do not live in University residence halls should make reservations by leaving their names at the information desk in the Student Union or on the third floor of Eshleman Hall.

Students in residence halls can make arrangements through their living groups.

Tom Edwards, Chairman of the Rally Committee, said there will be a rally in Fresno about 4 p.m. Friday afternoon.

The Vietnam Day Committee is not interested in truth, the chairman of the conservative Young Americans for Freedom charged in a noon speech yesterday.

"The University community is obliged to seek the truth and the Vietnam Day Committee (VDC) is not interested in the truth, said Tom Huston from the Sproul Hall steps.

The purpose of his speech was to "refute the argument of the Vietnam Day Committee."

Huston, just back from a youth rally in Manila, Philippines, said the majority of those at the rally were in support of U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Huston said the purpose of the Viet Cong "is to cut off the people at the local level from the national government."

He added, the Viet Cong kills the people who represent the government so that the local people are isolated and feel the government cannot protect them.

Huston asked, "What happens if the United States does get out of Vietnam?"

He said those fighting for South Vietnam would undoubtedly be killed. Since the war in Vietnam is only a small part of Communist infiltration of countries, their next stop will be the takeover of Thailand and then Indonesia.

He said, "the prime target of the VC is school teachers. During 1961 approximately 250 were kidnapped and approximately 30 are presumed killed."

The VC also attack medical centers in the hopes of killing the medical personnel, he said.

Huston said "there are less than 500 doctors in South Vietnam."

He listed peace efforts of the United States such as discussion with the Soviet Union for the past four years.

We have continued the discussions in Warsaw with China, he said, and we have accepted a British proposal for a Geneva conference.

All peace proposals have been consistently refused by the Chinese, Huston continued.

Huston also commented on the argument the United States is supporting a non-democratic state.

He admitted "Vietnam is not a democratic state," but "the government is interested in building a democratic state and intends to do so and will do so" if the Chinese leave them alone.

Pelly Wants New 'Maids'

Three judges for the campus California Maid of Cotton beauty contest have been selected by the Pelican, campus humor magazine, which is sponsoring the event at 4 p.m., Thursday in the East Pauley Ballroom.

The judges chosen so far are: Dave Parks and Bernie Casey, both of the San Francisco 49ers football team, and Adam Hochschild, reporter for the "San Francisco Chronicle."

Applications for the contest have been sent to all living groups. Linda Laureano, promotions manager of the campus contest, announced the applications should be returned to 204 Eshleman or the Pelican building as soon as possible.

Students Picket Colorado Solons

BOULDER, Colo. (CPS) — A crowd of about 400 students last week picketed a Colorado state Legislature committee holding hearings on the University of Colorado's budget. The demonstration, which protested the high cost of education, received the support of some within the Associated Students of the University of Colorado but officers of ASUC were hesitant to endorse it.

Pelican Reactions are Varied

Quotes ranging from "It's too bitchin'" to "I'm not going to read it" reflected student reaction yesterday to the first issue (a sell out) of the Pelican, campus humor magazine. Bruce Hanstell, Pelican contributing editor, said "for financial reasons" no more copies would be printed of this issue. However, for the next issue, in early November, probably more than the 7000 issues sold this time will be available.

In general, the reaction was quite favorable to a quickies Daily Cal survey. But there were students interviewed who felt that there is no purpose to the magazine. One girl, a junior, said, "The Pelican doesn't take itself seriously. That's why it can be tolerated."

Another student attributed the sellout to the fact that everyone wanted to see what it was like. The article entitled "Survival in the University" was mentioned by a number of students as being "very good." Some girls felt that the space taken up with "Miss Pelly" should have been used for more articles like "Survival." However, most boys heartily disagreed.

Damage To Lab Exceeds $5000

An estimated five to seven thousand dollars damage was caused when a twelve kilovolt regulator blew up at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory late Wednesday night, Daniel Wilkes, director of LRL Public Relations, said yesterday. Full power was restored one hour and twenty minutes after the explosion, he said. Alternate regulator lines bypassing the main switching station aided in getting the power restored quickly, he explained. A grass fire started as a result of the explosion but was quickly put under control by Rad Lab personnel before Berkeley fire trucks arrived. There were no injuries.

Program Notes

The Big Blow-Out

This is going to be one of the biggest weekends this semester as far as activities go. The most obvious one, perhaps, is being sponsored by the VDC. This afternoon in Sproul Plaza they will be presenting a tremendous line-up of speakers, all more or less on the same subject, and all for free.

Besides A. J. Muste, Dave Dellinger, and what seems to be almost the entire peace movement, Paul Krassner, Allen Ginsberg, and Lawrence Ferlinghetti will also appear. Great Entertainment! Two of the most important "beat" poets of our time, and Krassner, who is—himself. Also appearing will be "The Committee," which is very funny, and probably, folk singers.

Another big event this weekend is Parent's Day, and our coming victory over Washington.

The third important activity this weekend is the San Francisco Opera Company's production of "Lohengrin" in the Greek Theatre on Sunday afternoon. Student tickets are $1-1.50 for the performance. Don't expect a Swan Boat, and don't look for elaborate sets. All that will be offered is great music, well performed, in a relaxed atmosphere.

This is really Music for the millions. Don't dress; don't worry about protocol. Applaud the good parts—and you'll notice them even if you aren't an opera "bug,"—have fun. The afternoon will perhaps be hot, the seats hard, but pack a (modest) picnic lunch and go.

Any time you can find quality opera for a dollar you're getting a bargain. And if you don't know what opera's all about—go anyway. You'll never get a better chance to find out.

There is probably a wider range of art films available here than at any other university. I mention this because some fairly important and significant events are occurring this weekend.

The C.A.L. is offering "Lola" and "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg" Tuesday night in Wheeler Aud. for 85 cents. All reports are that these are very beautiful, happy films.

A new series of Midnight Movies, being presented at the Cinema, Shattuck and Haste on Saturdays is also offering some good material. Price is $1.50 with a 25 cent membership card. This week, the violent and savage "Blood of the Beasts" and the classic horror film, "Eyes Without a Face" are being shown, along with shorts, extras, surprises, etc.

A film of the La Scala "La Boheme" is being shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Berkeley Theater, and Sunday night "True Heart Susie" and "The Battle," two classic D. W. Griffith masterpieces, will be shown in Pauley Ballroom.

Note: The Actor's Workshop re-opens tonight with Brecht's "Edward II."

Ted Parks, Lynch To Open for Cal

 Frank Lynch, the 205-pound battering ram from Foothill College, has been running ahead of Ron Minamide this week, and will probably answer the call.

Sophomore Ted Parks is slightly ahead of classmate Lloyd Reist at the deep halfback spot and is the probable starting choice, although Reist, as well as Minamide, will see plenty of playing time. Tom Relles is the starter at slotback.

Injurywise both clubs are basically in good shape. Tackle Roger Foster, injured in the Michigan game, is the only Bear definitely out.

John Rodgers Leads 'em All

John Rodgers has taken a commanding lead over all other opposition in the celebrity football pick. He leads by one game over Phil Litts and Patti Tyre. George Baker is in fourth place and last week's leader, Jerry Goldstein, is in the cellar.

This week's games are: UCLA-Missouri, Stanford-USC, Texas-Arkansas, OSU-Idaho, Oregon-AFA, and Washington St.-Arizona.

John Rodgers (15-7) — UCLA, USC, Arkansas, Idaho, Oregon, WSU.

Patti Tyre (14-8) — Missouri, USC, Texas, OSU, Oregon, WSU.

Phil Litts (14-8) — Missouri, Stanford, Texas, OSU, Oregon, WSU.

George Baker (13-9) — Missouri, USC, Arkansas, Idaho, Oregon, WSU.

Jerry Goldstein (9-9) — Missouri, USC, Texas, OSU, Oregon, WSU.

John Frantz will once again hold down Foster's offensive right tackle slot.

Sam Hard is ailing and, although he can be pressed into action, Dick Williams has been shifted from offensive end to tackle and will open in Hard's spot. Dan Goich will draw the nod ahead of John Cantlon again at defensive tackle, although Cantlon, too, is ready.

The Huskies will be without regular center Greg Cass, and Lyle Norwood will start at the pivot. Omar Parker and Dave Williams draw the starting end slots, ahead of injured Bruce Cramer and Gary Carr.

Bear fans may get a long-awaited look at Forrest Beaty in grid togs. Beaty is ready to go and, although the Glendale speedster will not run from halfback, Willsey said he may be pressed into service as kick return man.

AT 10 O'CLOCK

Frosh Face SF State Sat.

By BOB LAWSON

The University of California freshman football team will put its 1965 show on the road Saturday morning, as coach Jim "Truck" Cullom's Bears host San Francisco State Frosh at 10 a.m. in Memorial Stadium.

It will be the first of a five games schedule, and one of four scheduled at home. Cal will host Stanford, USC, and San Jose State. The Bears' only road game will be against UCLA next Friday.

Cullom has 48 freshman candidates this fall and has noted that anything his squad lacks in size is more than made up for by its mobility. He has been especially pleased with the hard-hitting play in practice.

In his two years at the frosh helm, Cullom's teams are undefeated, going 3-0-2 last year and 4-0-2 in 1963.

All 48 players did their prep footballing in California high schools. Servite High School of Fullerton is the leading contributor to this year's squad with three players. Napa, Fresno, Helix of La Mesa, Loyola of Los Angeles, and Santa Ana Valley each is represented by two.

Starting at quarterback for the frosh will be Dave Wargo, a 5-10, 185 pounder from St. Paul's in Whittier. Wargo will be backed up by Mark Woods, 6-0, 200 pounds from Servite.

Wargo, Woods, and middle line-backer Jerry Woods will be tri-captains for tomorrow's opener.

The running backs will be Bill Bimat and Rick Aschenbrenner. Wingback John Fay rounds out the starting offensive backfield.

The starting offensive line will average 209, led by 225-pound tackle Warren Michaelis from Mater Dei of San Clemente.

On defense, Ed White, a 255-pound tackle from Indio, biggest man on the squad, leads a four-man charge averaging 227 pounds. Two high school teammates, opener with knee injuries.

Some Recognition For Water Polo

By George Baker

While a mass of thousands cheers for the inspired play of Ray Willsey's eleven in Memorial Stadium, there is a group of equally talented guys that play every weekend, yet receive little recognition for their efforts. This is the water-polo team coached by Pete Cutino and Zolton Hozspodar and it is one of the finest to be seen at Cal in many years.

Water polo isn't a well-known sport primarily because it is played principally here on the West Coast. The Midwest and East have begun playing it with schools such as Michigan, Yale, Michigan State, and Florida undertaking competition. But the best teams have to be the ones here in California.

The best team in the nation last year was Foothill Junior College and to attest to the strength of Cal this year, the polo-bears edged Foothill 6-5, earlier this year. In fact Cal has lost one game while winning four, that one game to Stanford, 10-7.

Tonight they take on San Jose, there, and tomorrow morning they will go against the Olympic Club at 11 a.m. in Harmon Pool.

The strength of the club lies in a group of very talented sophomores who should form the nucleus of a good team for many years to come.

Coach Cutino pointed out two who have performed very well this season, having done most of the team's scoring. They are Barry Weitzenberg and Ken High who played together this last summer for the Foothill Athletic Club which won the national AAU title.

Two more outstanding sophs are Bob Owens, who is from the high school in Oxnard Cutino formerly coached, and Terry Miller who was teammate of Weitzenberg's in high school.

Though the Bears have their best team in years the competition is so tough that it is hard to tell from week to week which teams are better.

"This has to be some of the most exciting water polo played on the Coast in years," commented Cutino. "Anyone can beat anyone on any given day. Who wins will depend on when the final gun goes off; the games are that close."

There are only two seniors and one junior on the first team which means nothing but a golden future for Cal in water polo. The junior is Jay Southard, who played for Foothill last year, and the seniors are Jim Pierog, who was first team all conference last season, and Bob Clevenger who has done a fine job as goalie.

There is plenty of competition for the Bears since they compete in two leagues, one the AAUW, with Stanford, USC, UCLA, and Cal, and the second being, the Northern California composed of Stanford, San Jose, UOP, Foothill, the Olympic Club, and San Francisco State.

Though there is plenty of talent on the squad, the Bears go through drills just like any other sports team. In fact many of the terms they use are similar to those used in basketball. During practice they work on little things, such as tip ins, situation shots, passing, and situations such as double and single post offense, and man to man zone defense.

Anyone can score on the seven man team except the goalie. And in an interesting note Cutino said that his players can play all positions.

Water polo is catching on so fast that this year for the first time in NCAA history there may be a national tournament which would be held here in Harmon Pool. The dates would be December 2, 3, 4, and teams from all over the country would participate. Let's hope the Bears go a long way in the tourney, they certainly deserve it.

For all those people who like to sleep with pajamas, tonight is your night. Yes, tonight at 8:30 in the Greek Theatre there is going to be a pajama football rally. One of these hasn't been held on campus in 15 years and if many girls show up in baby dolls it will be easy to see why.

Phil Litts has stated the cheerleaders, pom pon girls and band will all show up in pajamas and perhaps a robe. That itself should be worth seeing. Prizes will be given for the best pair of matching pajamas and the most unique. And after the rally there will be a dance in Pauley Ballroom and it is hoped that everyone will show up in their pj's.

Not to forget that football is involved, Coach Ray Willsey and Truck Cullom will be at the rally, though they have declined to say whether they will appear in pajamas.

Zelnik on VDC:

'Unification of Movement Main Issue of Viet Protest'

Unification of the peace movement is the main issue of this week's International Days of Protest, said Reginald Zelnik, acting assistant professor of history, at a noon rally yesterday.

He said the problem of unity is more important than the parade, the Oakland police or the tactics of the Vietnam Day Committee (VDC).

Zelnik said, the real issue is the "building up of a meaningful peace movement."

He said, "The VDC must take care that it does not isolate itself from the community, campus and faculty."

Zelnik urged the marchers to "march in an orderly fashion, quietly, looking out for traffic, avoiding incidents," because this type of conduct would impress the community with the seriousness of the VDC's intentions.

Peter Scott, assistant professor of speech, pointed out the possibility that Oakland police might "wait for the parade and swoop down on their marchers, picking up 20 or so leaders," if they are given the least provocation.

"This crisis would disunify the peace movement even further," he added. For this reason, he "regards Oakland as a kind of trap."

Scott also stressed the need to "integrate and coordinate the VDC movement with the whole peace movement."

Steve Weissman of the VDC spoke against the statements made by Zelnik and Scott.

Defending the VDC, he said, "We can best make our point about the war by stepping out of the norm."

We have used the goosing tactic in the past. Much of our rhetoric has been more like a sledge hammer rather than a razor. But it has been effective."

Leon Wofsy, associate professor of bacteriology, said, "I have yet to find a Liberal who agrees wholeheartedly with the VDC's antagonistic tactics."

"I believe it is correct to oppose the war in Vietnam because it is a blight against the Vietnamese people, and a blight against the U.S.," he said.

Most important, he said, "the march should be separated from everything else the VDC plans for the terminal. It should stand on its own, because it is our Constitutional right to march for peace."

We get pretty concerned about the way life insurance is often sold.

We're not in favor of a client just buying a policy and getting it over with. We want him to understand what it's all about, how his policy can be made to serve a variety of future needs, how it will fit into an overall financial program tailored to his own requirements.

If you'd like to chat quietly and intelligently with a man who provides real Professional Insurance Service, why not give us a call. You'll find it a refreshing and profitable experience.

VDC to March Without Permits

statement to the press, "indicates to me that this might be the case again."

A telegram to the Oakland authorities by five University faculty members said the permit refusal "raises possible constitutional issues" and probably will result in more, not fewer, marchers.

The professors contended the best way to preserve law and order would have been to grant the necessary facilities for the march.
The march and demonstrations

drew fire from former President Dwight Eisenhower as he addressed a New York press conference yesterday.

"I think it's terrible," he said when asked about the demonstrations. "Very unwise. Not good Americanism."

Meanwhile, preparations went on yesterday for the on-campus part of the teach-in, to be held from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. today.

The field behind the Student Union and the Upper and Lower Plazas will be utilized for the displays, speeches and debates, which will continue until the torchlight march leaves Bancroft and Telegraph at 7:30 p.m. for the Oakland Army Terminal.

The Albany "Villagers Opposed to the War" announced yesterday
they would join the march.

Unaffiliated with the VDC, this is an independent group of University married students opposed to U.S. policies in Vietnam.

From 9 a.m. until noon folk-singers will sing in the upper Sproul Hall Plaza.

Speakers include Paul Krassner, editor of "The Realist," Lawrence Ferlinghetti, Alan Ginsberg, poets, M.S. Arnoni, editor of "Minority of One," Paul Goodman, author of "Growing Up Absurd" and "The Empire City," Mike Myerson, just back from Hanoi, and "The Committee."

Vietnam Strike Called by NLF

The National Liberation Front has called for a "massive general strike" in South Vietnam to support the International Days of Protest today and tomorrow.

Word of the request for a strike arrived from the Vietnam
Day Committee's national headquarters in Madison, Wisconsin, last night.

A telegram, pledging support for the VDC from the National Student Union of North Vietnam, also arrived from Hanoi, capital of North Vietnam.

The telegram, routed through Paris because the United States has no relations with North Vietnam, was co-signed by the Vietnam Youth Federation.

"Firmly believe our joint efforts and world people's support will compel U.S. government to stop," read the telegram. It also listed a long series of alleged American war crimes in Vietnam.

Chancellor's Statement

The following statement was released by Chancellor Roger Heyns late yesterday.

Today's meeting on Union Field has been planned in compliance with campus regulations designed to assure constitutional rights of free speech and advocacy in the University. Last night, the District Attorney, the Sheriff, and the Police Chiefs of Oakland and Berkeley wrote me expressing concern over possible violations of law in connection with the planned march to the Oakland Army Terminal.

They specifically requested that I inform members of the University that parade permits have been denied by the cities of Oakland and Berkeley; and that the Port Commission has denied permission for the use of its property and "will not tolerate any acts of trespass". Police officials have notified me that illegal acts will lead to arrest.

I join the law enforcement officers in their counsel that members of the campus community "accept the same responsibilities for the preservation of law and order as all other citizens of this State."

Roger W. Heyns
Chancellor

Army Medical Office Knocks VC

The Viet Cong operate "like a bunch of gangsters—just like the Mafia," a U.S. Army Medical Corps leader-back from Vietnam told a campus ROTC audience
Wednesday night.

Captain Chet Ward spoke to the Army ROTC Golden Guard Society about his recent tour of duty as supervisor of all Special Forces Medical Operations for the Me-kong Delta.

He said he felt the mission of the United States in Vietnam was to establish political stability, control the "gangster" elements, and aid in the economic and social development of the country.

Ward showed slides from Vietnam and stressed the diversity of the people there.

He said there were 40 languages and some 50 ethnic and religious groups in Vietnam.

"The voice of government from Saigon represents the Vietnamese people as much as they can be represented," he said.

"Any military operations would be impossible in Vietnam without the support of the people," he said.

Ward said the Vietnamese have "little concept of nationalism" but fight for their village and area.

Ward is presently working toward his master's degree in Public Health here.

He has been awarded the Vietnamese Cross of Honor and the United States Bronze Star.

Peace Corps Info

An information team from the Peace Corps will visit the University during the week of Oct. 31. The team will set up a table near the Sproul Hall steps to distribute pamphlets and answer questions.

The Peace Corps says virtually everyone with an interest in the Corps can find a place in it. Juniors, seniors, graduates and faculty can qualify immediately for training.

Cornet said he objected to the administrative representative having a vote because this person would "have his hands tied."

Draft Calls Most Since Korea

By JERRY T. BAULCH
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The military draft continued to climb steeply as the armed services asked Thursday for 45,224 draftees in December—an increase of 8,774 over the November call of 36,450. It is the biggest request to the Selective Service System since near the end of the Korean War, when 53,000 men were inducted into uniform in May 1953. The rising calls are in line with President Johnson's decision to build up the armed forces to deal with the conflict in Southeast Asia and keep needed strength elsewhere. Plans are to increase U.S. forces by 340,000 men, bringing the total to about three million. The Marines, who for the first time since the Korean War resorted to the draft in the quota set a month ago, asked for 5,024 men in December. That compares to a November request for 4,050 draftees. The Army's share of the December quota is 40,200, compared to a request of 28,400 for November.

The Navy, which asked for 4,000 men in November—the first such call since 1956—made no request for a December quota. The Air Force continued to ask for no draftees, confident of meeting its manpower needs with enlistments.

Michelbacher claimed how he had parked the car was perfectly legal in terms of the Mexican code. Michelbacher said he finally left Mexico last Tuesday, after obtaining court permission to delay his next signing-in until November 9.

Vietnam Day March

We oppose the war in Vietnam.

We believe every effort toward negotiated settlement should be made immediately, even if that means negotiating with the Viet Cong.

We approve of a march and teach-in to demonstrate opposition to the war.

The Vietnam Day Committee has planned a peaceful demonstration for peace. The committee has voted to avoid arrests.

But if they had been threatening to overthrow the government by force and violence instead, they could hardly have met with more resistance.

Many officials, including Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh and former Governor Goodwin Knight, have urged the use of the National Guard to prevent any violence.

They are insinuating that the demonstration will be fought with violence and destruction which the VDC has not advocated.

And these insinuations have provided government agencies with an excuse to attempt to avert the demonstration.

The Oakland and Berkeley police have refused VDC a permit to march. The Oakland Port Commission has refused to allow the demonstrators onto Port property where the Committee plans to hold a teach-in tomorrow.

Marching without a permit in Oakland is in violation of a city ordinance and punishable by $500 fine and/or six months in prison. However, it is conceivable there will be no arrests made against the marchers.

VDC also held a Congress of Unrepresented Peoples in August at Merritt Park and then marched to Congressman Jeffery Cohelan's office in downtown Oakland, despite being denied a permit. There were no arrests.

But the police may be serious. They may take action, if not against the march before it reaches the Terminal, then after the marchers ignore the Port Commission's new no-trespassing signs.

We implore the Port Commission and the Oakland Police not to interfere with any peaceful demonstration.

The Berkeley police denied the permit because, they said, violence had been threatened upon the demonstrators. Rather than denying their permit, we believe the Berkeley Police Department should have issued a permit, legitimizing the inevitable march and their protection of it.

At the terminal, VDC plans to appeal, by loudspeakers and leaflets, to the soldiers to refuse to fight in an "unjust and immoral" war. They will use the arguments of the Nuremberg decisions: following orders is not sufficient reason for immoral crimes. They will tell the soldiers they must decide for themselves.

So, too, must the demonstrators decide for themselves whether their appeal and what it may accomplish is worth their risking months, perhaps years in jail.

WE URGE YOU TO LISTEN. WE URGE YOU TO READ VDC LITERATURE. ATTEND TODAY'S TEACH-IN, LISTEN TO THEIR POSITION. WE URGE YOU TO FOLLOW YOUR CONSCIENCE.

Letters to the Ice Box

Marine's Letter

To the Ice Box:

The letter is from a friend of mine, Frank Homan, who is a lieutenant in the Marine Corps and has been fighting in Vietnam for over half a year. Frank received his B.S. in metallurgical engineering from Cornell in 1963 and joined the Marine Corps then, before the American build-up in Vietnam started . . .

29 September 1965

Dear Bob,

Keep me posted on all these incidents. You know something, Bob, I find it difficult to believe that people as intelligent as the college students of today would pull stunts like that. These kids read about history; they read about Hitler marching through Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Poland while the world stood by and watched, trying to appease him so there wouldn't be trouble. The kids read these things, and then read about the results; of World War II, of hundreds of thousands killed, and billions spent, all because nobody had guts enough to put a foot down and say "far enough." Then when the same thing threatens to happen all over again, the kids forget their history lessons, and start carrying signs and coining slogans. I think they are afraid they will be taken out of school to fight, and want to let somebody else do the fighting in some future generation, even if the cost will be considerably greater then, in both lives and money. You know the old saying, those who fail to remember history are doomed to repeat it. When the Communists march through Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, India, Thailand, Pakistan—and on thru Malaysia, Indonesia (which they already have) into New Zealand and Australia maybe some of the present demonstrators will be too old to fight, but they might have children or grandchildren who are not too young. I wonder what they will think then . . .

Regards,

(signed) Frank

The Eerie

The Fiery Breath of The East Wind: Part II

By THEODORE JACQUENEY

The similarity of Chinese Communist radical nationalism and evangelism of violence to Nazism has been re-affirmed by the inflammatory declarations of China's Defense Minister Marshal Lin Piao four weeks ago.

Lin Piao evangelizes China as the base for world revolution and calls for more Vietnams to drain the strength of the U.S. The U.S. is called a "paper tiger" which would not dare to use its nuclear claws. But if there is a nuclear war, China and world revolution would still triumph, says Lin:

"The sacrifice of a small number of people in revolutionary wars is repaid by security for whole nations and even the whole of mankind. Temporary suffering is repaid by lasting or even perpetual peace and happiness. War can temper the people and push history forward. In this sense, war is a great school."

The Chinese Revolution succeeded through Mao's strategy of using rural areas as a base to surround and conquer the cities.

Marshal Lin compares the Western industrial nations to cities, and says that the underdeveloped, "rural," continents of Asia, Africa, and Latin America will be used to surround and conquer them.

Like the Spanish Civil War, the Vietnamese War has become a military testing ground for the great powers, a testing ground not only for weapons but for the grand Maoist strategy of revolutionary war. And, as in all wars, it is the people of Vietnam who pay the price.

The U.S. is much to blame for the burdens the Vietnamese people must bear. For example, aerial bombardment is pursued with egregious imprecision and women and children are killed—without a single Viet Cong casualty. If anything this is an incitement for Viet Cong recruitment, most likely to create the hostile population crucial for Viet Cong victory.

The war in Vietnam does not exist in a vacuum. It must be considered within the context of the present state of world politics:

At the heart of the Sino-Soviet conflict is China's repudiation of the Soviet doctrine of peaceful coexistence. China preaches uninterrupted war and revolutionary violence as the only serious means of achieving a Communist world. If the U.S. pulls out of Vietnam, the Viet Cong will win and China's strategy will be proven correct. The U.S. would become a "paper tiger." Mao's dictum that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun" would become the rallying cry of the Communist world. Peking's insistence on liquidating the Soviet policy of "peaceful coexistence" would prevail—and the consequences would be disastrous.

Asian studies Professor Chalmers Johnson has written "There is no evidence to suggest that Chinese nationalism, in its present phase, is any more likely to be defused by appeasement than was that of prewar Japan." To ignore Lin Piao's declaration of Maoist intentions would be as great a blunder for our time as disregarding Mein Kampf was in the 1930's. The central lesson of these years is that appetite for aggression, once whetted, is never satisfied.

The reality of world politics stands in stark contrast to the "morality" protests of the Vietnam Day Committee and the New Left credo of "Moral intuition." Morality alone is a poor way of approaching international politics. Those who emphasize international morality should be exposed to some strategic analysis just as those with a purely military outlook should be influenced by humanist thinking.

We must strive for peace. But it is hypocrisy to advocate that we should make the U.S. government more peaceful while other governments remain bellicose on the grounds that our government is the only one we have a chance of influencing.

We are told our generation is "a generation committed." Let us be a generation committed to what is right rather than to what is blind.

No Such Oath

To the Ice Box:

An article on your editorial page today (6 Oct.) stated that "Before World War II thousands of British students signed the Oxford Oath pledging not to fight for their country."

This is a myth. There was no such signing, no such thousands, no such oath.

The Oxford Union, a club which neither claimed nor wished to represent the students as a whole (no organization did) upheld the affirmative in a debate, "Resolved that this House refuses to fight for King and Country." This happened at a time when all respectable governments endorsed the principle of the Kellogg Pact, "renouncing war as an instrument of national policy." The offense of the Union lay in forcing the public to face the meaning of those fine words.

—L. A. MacKay
Classics

Good Advisor

To the Icebox:

I know it is a matter of course not to stress the positive when you wish changes to be made, yet in the interest of balanced comment I would like to submit my first experience with the University, my meeting with my advisor.

The door to his office was propped open and there was a large hand-lettered sign that advertised him as the major advisor. There were about five people before me and as many after, but he stood up when I came in, shook my hand, smiled and welcomed me to the University. He spent a lot of time finding out about me and answering all of my questions about the college and the major in detail; and he invited me back anytime I had a problem. I left the meeting with the feeling that perhaps the university was not as large and frightening as I had imagined it.

Agreed, my experience may not have been the usual one, but until we do find the perfect advisor system, I don't think we should completely discourage those who are doing a fine job.

—J. Stephen Crumley
Junior, Linguistics

Good and Right

To the Ice Box:

The most recent sally by Mr. van Loucks from the fortress of the Good and Right calls to mind Yeats' "On Hearing That the Students of Our New University Have Joined The Agitation Against Immoral Literature":

Where, where but here have Pride and Truth, That long to give themselves for wage, To shake their wicked sides at youth Restraining reckless middle age?

I do not mean by this allusion to imply that Mr. van Loucks is an agitator, inside or otherwise.

Ludwig Goes November 1

November 1 has been set as the final date for the departure of the University's most famous dog, Ludwig.

Ludwig's owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Littleford of Berkeley announced during the summer that Ludwig, the prime habitue of the Sproul Hall Fountain, would leave for Alameda when they move there.

No final date had been set, however, for the move.

Mrs. Littleford said yesterday, "We'll be gone by November 1 for sure, but I'll bring Ludwig back every once in a while to visit."

Ludwig's new address will be 2118 Alameda Blvd.

So that Ludwig will feel at home in his new surroundings, the First National Bank of Alameda has offered him their fountain.

UC football coach Ray Willsey, the pom pon girls, yell leaders and the rally committee will perform.

"The pom pon girls will have pajamas on too," smiled Bill Ellsworth, ASUC activities advisor.

Prizes will be awarded to the couple with the "most color-coordinated pajamas" and to the wearer of the most outlandish night clothes.

Red p.j.'s are not recommended, according to informants.

A large parade, serpentine down Telegraph Avenue will end the rally, followed by a dance in Pauley Ballroom sponsored by the Junior Class.

Everybody is encouraged to wear their pajamas to the rally. The first Pajamahoolo was devised for the opening of the Greek Theatre. They wanted a new type of rally, something genuinely Californian.

All male participants were asked to come dressed in night-wearing apparel.

Jack Butler, a legendary monologue artist who had graduated the year before, was asked to deliver a presentation.

Faculty Peace Comm. Meets: March?

The Faculty Peace Committee will meet at 5:30 p.m. today in 155 Dwinelle Hall and in the Friends Meeting House, Walnut and Vine, to announce their plans for the Vietnam protest march, according to Richard Strohmman, assistant professor of zoology.

He said they will discuss the march, tell why they want to participate, express their point of view, and encourage people to march. The meeting is open to the public.

'Naughty' Art Paintings Removed

Dr. Willard Fleming, dean of students of the University Medical Center in San Francisco, ordered four paintings removed from an art exhibit which opened last week at the Guy S. Millberry Union there.

The paintings were part of a 35-canvas show by Nicolai Nickolds, from Sausalito, entitled "Sacred and Profane."

The other 31 paintings are still in the Union.

Fleming ordered the paintings taken down on the grounds that they were in poor taste, a spokesman at the Med. Center said.

MCAA Seeks Bonds for JC's

A new button-laden table (with a new issue) eased onto campus yesterday to drum up support and publicity for a costly educational election next Tuesday.

The election is a $47 million junior college bond issue for voters of Berkeley, Oakland, and four other East Bay cities.

The embryonic Merritt College Alumni Association found "lots of interest" in the bond issue here yesterday at their first day's table at Sather Gate.

Mary Backus, MCAA President, said the group will distribute information on the election in Berkeley over the weekend. More volunteers are needed, she added.

Interested persons, especially Merritt College Alumni, should contact her at LA 4-1182 or Duane Smith at TH 5-8189.

If the bond issue gets a two-third "yes" vote, plans will be set to build three or four new junior college campuses in Oakland and perhaps Berkeley.

These would replace the current Merritt and Laney Colleges in Oakland of the Peralta Junior College District.

Miss Backus, a former Merritt College student, called the facilities there "depressing."

The present "antiquated facilities are leased from the Oakland School Board," she said.

"Passage of the bond issue will finance the construction of several new and expanded campuses."

This will result in a net savings to the taxpayers of the East Bay, she added.

"For these reasons many taxpayers and business groups, which normally oppose bond issues, are for this one," she said.

There is no real opposition to the bond election, according to Miss Backus.

"The only way we could lose would be because of voter apathy," she continued.

The only permanent building at Merritt is an old high school designed for 1200 students, she said.

With the addition of approximately 60 portables, the school manages to serve about 8,500 students.

The newest portables have filled the last vacant space on the grounds.
