Ousted Prof Will Consider Return

By KEITH McCORMICK

Eli Katz, center of a storm of political controversy since he left the University faculty last year, was invited to return yesterday by Chancellor Roger Heyns.

Reached at his home near Ohio's Western Reserve University where he now teaches, Katz said although he would "seriously consider" returning, he viewed the statement by Heyns more as a vindication of his position last year.

Katz, who held a temporary appointment as assistant professor of German, was refused a permanent position by then Chancellor Edward Strong after declining to answer questions about his past political activities.

Editorial on Heyn's announcement See page 12

ADAMANT VETO Strong was adamant in his veto even after the Department of German and the special committee called to review the case urged the appointment be granted.

The case threatened for a time to explode into a full-blown fight over the civil liberties of University faculty. Resolutions passed both the Berkeley and the State-wide Academic Senates condemning Strong's veto and demanding the case be heard on grounds of "professional competence only."

Katz, defended by the American Civil Liberties Union, argued the questions concerning political affiliation were illegal.

As Heyns pointed out in the statement released late yesterday, California law requires a faculty member to sign the Loyalty Oath—but not to answer any further inquiries.

FIFTH AMENDMENT

While a graduate student at UCLA, Katz had taken the Fifth Amendment on several questions before a House Un-American Activities Committee hearing.

The decision was referred to the Regents, who decided it was strictly a University matter and directed incoming Chancellor Heyns to settle it.

'Dark Horses' Collide In Nighttime Encounter

By JEFFREY CAREN Sports Writer

Riding high on the crest of a three game winning streak, California's Golden Bears will be shooting for the PAC-8 number one spot tomorrow night when Ray Willsey and his band meet cousin Bruin in the Los Angeles Coliseum at 8 p.m.

The contest will be UCLA's first conference game following an impressive 2-1-1 pre-circuit series. The Bears will be going for their second conference win and a first place tie with powerhouse USC, who has already knocked off Washington and Stanford.

Both teams have been a surprise to just about everyone except their respective coaches. The Bruins were tagged for seventh place in the pre-season predictions and California for sixth.

UCLA's sole loss came at the hands of the nation's second ranked team, Michigan State, 13-2. Syracuse, and Penn State both fell victim to the Bruins and pre-game favorite Missouri got off last week with a tie.

The California-UCLA series stands: Cal 16, UCLA 18 and one game tied. The Bruins took last year's encounter with a last second aerial, from versatile Quarterback Larry Zeno, 25-21.

Bruin Mentor Tommy Prothro has found in Sophomore Garry Beban, what most observers are calling an able substitute.

Beban may pose more of a threat to California than Prothro has planned on, as Bear safety Greg Palamountain is lying in Cowell Hospital with a severe charley horse suffered in the Washington game.

Willsey, who has admitted the lack of depth in his secondary will start sophomore Don Gest, who was red-shirted last year. Gest will be backed up by QB Jimmy Hunt. Hunt has spent the last two years in the Bear secondary and only this year took the pilot position.

The injured list also includes defensive tackle Dan Goich. Goich is suffering from an ankle injury and will be replaced by junior John Cantlon.

Anti-Loyalty Oath

Suit Filed Against Regents

By ALISON SCHOENFELD A suit against the University Regents challenging the validity of the loyalty oath required by California's Levering Act is being instituted by two people, it was announced yesterday.

Barbara Garson, who worked for the University for three weeks in September, said at the end of the month she did not receive a pay check because the University said she had not signed the oath.

Charles Aronson, tentatively hired last summer to teach a University Extension course, refused to sign the oath and has been teaching the course without pay.

Mrs. Garson signed the oath after including a written statement which said "I will advocate overthrowing any government if it is feasible, desirable, and the overthrow is supported by a majority of the citizens."

She said that the payroll officer gave her the impression that this took care of the matter. She said she had anticipated no further trouble over this issue.

"At the end of the month, I was told I couldn't be paid. . . . Then started the Kafkaian bureaucratic nightmare. . . . No one would help me."

She had a meeting with Chancellor Roger Heyns, Vice Chancellor Earl Cheit, and John Searle, special assistant to the chancellor on student organizations.

"They're like all the rest of the bureaucracy," Mrs. Garson said. "They are not interested in solving problems just handling them."

Mrs. Garson said both Cheit and Searle advised her to sue the Regents. Searle explained yesterday, "I felt the most orderly way to settle the matter was in the courts." He said he would contribute to the End of the Oath Defense Fund.

Cheit said he had consulted with the payroll officer and had been informed that Mrs. Garson was warned at the time she wrote the exception on her oath that if it did not conform with the loyalty oath requirements, she would not be paid.

VDC Attacks Heyns-Johnson March Pact

The Vietnam Day Committee yesterday blasted the agreement reached between Chancellor Roger Heyns and Berkeley mayor Wallace Johnson as "a conspiracy" and charged it violates the December 8th resolutions.

Local 1570 of the American Federation of Teachers, meanwhile, said Tuesday's joint announcement by Heyns and Johnson, banning the use of the campus to organize marches unsanctioned by the city of Berkeley, goes against the principle that all who are affected by a rule should have a say in making it.

If the administration abandons that principle, said an AFT spokesman, very little success can be predicted for the current attempt to work out harmonious and democratic campus rules.

Chancellor's Assistant John Searle denied the agreement violated the Dec. 8th resolution of the Academic Senate.

Searle pointed out the agreement should be carefully read. "It would have to depend on the circumstances at the time," he said. "Whether the University would try to stop the organization of a march not approved by the city of Berkeley."

The agreement reads, "The University will require that assemblies which are to move between

Regents' Meeting

Growth Plans Questioned

By DAVE NEWMAN DAVIS—The proposed growth plan which University President Clark Kerr presented at the September meeting of the Board of Regents was seriously questioned, and an alternative plan was suggested at the evening session of yesterday's Regents meeting here.

Kerr's plan, which called for the establishment of five new University campuses by the year 1975 and envisioned a total enrollment of at least 275,000 by the year 2000, was the subject of a report by the University-wide Committee on Educational Policy of the Statewide Academic Senate (UWCEP).

The report, while generally approving of Kerr's plan raised the question of whether new campuses would be able to have the same sort of "major facilities" to make them "wholly and truly campuses of the University of California."

Regent Phillip Boyd questioned the establishment of additional campuses in the Los Angeles area, suggesting a "split campus" or "satellite campus" arrangement.

Today the Board of Regents will consider the second draft of the proposed budget for 1966-67. The final budget will be approved at the November meeting.

Several Regents and faculty members questioned the 27,500 enrollment ceiling for any campus. Chancellor Roger Heyns cited the Universities of Wisconsin and Michigan as campuses which have expanded beyond 30,000 students.

During the afternoon session the question of Berkeley's proposed art center was raised parenthetically by Regent Laurence Kennedy.

Kennedy asked if the deletion of the art center from request of appropriations meant the project might be jeopardized.

President Kerr denied that Regents were "in any way prejudicing the art center project" by refusing to appropriate funds at this time.

Kennedy called the art center a "very worthwhile project."

MUSEUM PIECE

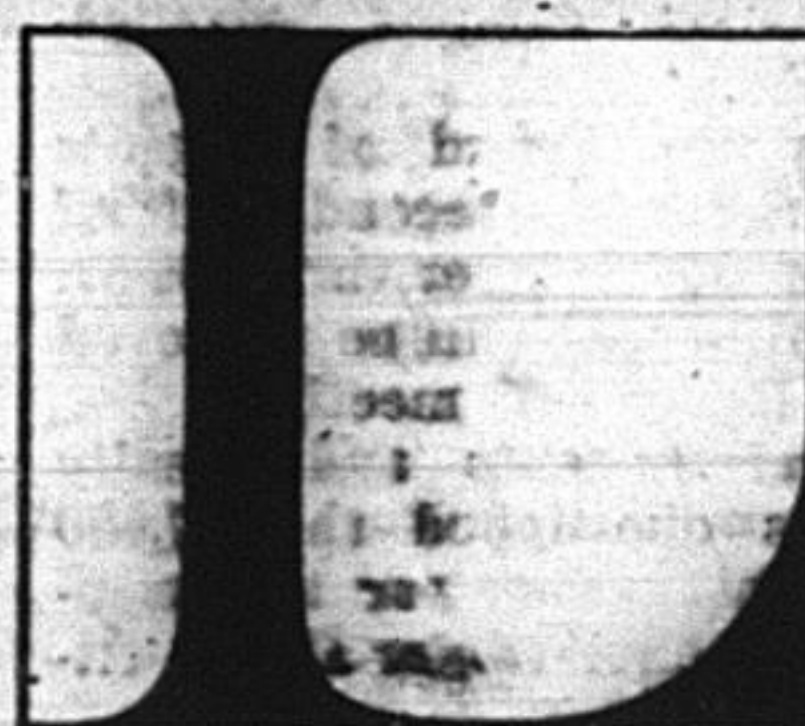

This cyclotron was built and operating by the fall of 1930 and reported at the Washington April Meeting (Phys. Rev. 37, 1707, 1931). The diameter of the chamber was about 5 inches. Placed between the 4-inch diameter poles of a magnet with a field of 12,700 gauss and 2,000 volts on its single dee, it produced 80,000 volt hydrogen molecule ions trapped and measured in a Faraday cage to which a measured and adequate decelerating voltage could be applied.

The do-it-yourself-with-sealing-wax days are gone from cyclotron technology forever. The tiny instrument invented by Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence at Berkeley in 1930 has been superseded many times by increasingly larger and more powerful instruments of nuclear research.

Today the business of discovery is carried on by 3200 people at the Berkeley site of Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, overlooking the University of California campus and San Francisco Bay. And the challenge of innovation remains for engineers—in advanced accelerator design and in a dynamic unclassified research program.

EE's: Major electronics development programs at LRL deal with nuclear instrumentation, automated data handling and acquisition, radio frequency and high voltage power supply systems, fast-counting techniques and semiconductor device development.

Engineering graduates at all levels who want to learn more about LRL should contact the Placement Office for appointments. Campus interviews will be held on

Senate Subcommittee Calls Nineteen Red Sympathizers

By ANN METZELAAR
A report of the Senate's Internal Security Subcommittee released week lists nineteen prominent men and women from American universities as Communist sympathizers, according to the Collegiate Press Service.

The report also says the leaders of the anti-war movement have failed to limit or prevent Communist infiltration of their ranks. They have left control to people who "are openly sympathetic to the Viet Cong and openly hostile to the United States," it says.

Conceding that the "great majority" of persons who differ with the administration's policy in Vietnam are "loyal Americans," the report nonetheless charges the demonstrations have "clearly passed into the hands of Communists and extremist elements."

One of the nineteen listed in a chapter entitled "Biographical Notes on Some of the Participants," was Dr. Holstead Holman, chairman of the department of medicine at Stanford University.

In a telephone interview Holman said he did not know he was listed in the report.

Holman is a sponsor of the Inter-University Committee for Public Hearings on Vietnam. As a sponsor he contributed financial support to a group organizing teach-ins around the nation.

Holman did not take part in any march during the "International Days of Protest" but participated in a discussion about Vietnam held on Saturday at Stanford.

Holman said he would rather not make a specific statement on the report since he had not know about it. He did, however, comment that Senator Wayne Morse recently predicted renewed witch-hunting.

Others attacked in the report include Staughton Lynd, assistant professor of history at Yale University, who spoke at VDC activities last weekend here, and Anatol Rapoport, of the department of mathematical biology of the University of Michigan.

DuBois Clubs Refute Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Leaders of the W. E. B. DuBois Club replied yesterday to charges this week by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover linking the club with Communism.

Organizational secretary Terence Hallinan told a news conference, "there's no one here who owes any allegiance to any foreign power. I refute all of Hoover's charges. They are all wrong."

Hoover said this week the club was "an illegitimate spawn conceived by the Communist Party and nurtured by a trusted band of youthful adherents to the cause of world Marxism."

Hoover implied that the organization is pulling the strings in recent nationwide demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

In response to a question, Hugh Fowler, the club's national chairman, and international secretary Michael Myerson said they were adherents to the cause of world Marxism.

Myerson added: "As an organization, we seek to develop a society which draws upon Marxism as its basis, a society where human beings come first and not private property."

ASUC J-Comm Unable to Act On Contested Frosh Elections

The ASUC Judicial Committee did not act on the matter of the contested freshman elections yesterday because the petitioners failed to get copies of their brief to the J-Com chairman in time.

Losing presidential and vice-presidential candidates Ben Brown and Bill Rukeyser were petitioning for a new freshman election on the basis of several alleged election violations.

Ed Lebb, J-Com. chairman said he had phoned Rukeyser at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday only to find that Brown was rewriting the brief. Lebb said he gave Rukeyser an hour to get the brief to him.

Rukeyser said he was unable to reach Brown until 10:30 p.m. because Brown was moving into a new apartment.

Rukeyser said that he would refile the petition tomorrow.

The preliminary complaint filed contended primary election ballot sheets had been used in the runoff elections for several hours in Dwinelle Plaza voting booths. The complaint also charged campaign literature had been found in one of the same booths.

In a J-Com hearing last week, Brown had contended the campaign literature had been placed in the booth by the opponents in the race. The case was dismissed because of lack of evidence.

Soccer Bears Take on USF; Dons Favorites

By ABRAXAS

The Soccer Bears return to the smoother ground of Balboa Stadium on Saturday morning to face USF for the second time this season.

This will be the fourth game in ten days for the Bears, who will have to fight very hard indeed, if they do not want this game to go the way of the last one.

Cal hasn't beaten USF at soccer for a couple of years now, but we cannot always blame the "Jinx." Individually our skills are inferior, but if we can play as a team, with good organization, good passing and good anticipation we stand a good chance.

USF, incidentally, award scholarships for soccer, so that it is not all that surprising to find them leading the Conference Table at this stage.

Although we have been handicapped by many injuries, our chief fault this season seems to have been coordination between players.

Coach Bob DiGrazia has admitted that the split training program has hurt the team; only playing once a week with a complete team, it is very nearly impossible to coach effectively. And yet our defense this year has been unquestionably good.

Ernie Wideman, Scott Cauchois, Mike Evanson and Charlie Kihred have all been outstanding in their efforts to keep out the opposing forwards. It is rather in the forward line that the punch is needed.

"If you don't shoot, obviously you won't score," DiGrazia once said. Well, we haven't been shooting, obviously.

John Rodgers Is A Wimp

Due to a bureaucratic foul up in the person of Jeff Caren, the campus celebrities did not pick games this week.

But after last week the standings show sports editor John Rodgers leading with an 18-8 mark, followed closely by top pom-pon girl Patti Tyre with a 17-9. Assistant sports jock George Baker and yell leader Phil Litts are knotted in hird position with records of 16-10.

ASUC prexy Jerry Goldstein brings up the rear with a cool 12-9.

Enjoy the Trip And Stay Home

By George Baker

USELESS FACT OF THE WEEK—Cal has played three night games in its football history and won them all. In 1959 the Bears opened the season with a 20-6 victory in Spokane, and in 1963 they topped UCLA by a 25-0 count. Last year in the Orange Bowl Cal was able to edge Miami 9-7. Let's hope the Bears can keep their night record unblemished this weekend.

Today is the day of departure for all the loyal fans making the trek southward to the land of smog and the John Birch Society. As an expert traveler, at least for today, I have seen towns such as Washington, D.C., which is hot and humid. New York, which has the most discourteous people in the world, and Chicago which is sprawled out all over the country side.

How any one was able to combine all three of these cities in one is quite hard to imagine, but nevertheless they did it with Los Angeles. As a helpful reminder to help you make your stay a little more pleasant (if that is possible) I'd like to suggest a few things to take and do on the trip.

Under no circumstances should you forget your gas mask. If you have any designs on breathing or seeing. And if you plan to drive while there, you had better take along a dime for when you have your accident on the freeway—that is if you can get out of the car.

And probably most important of all you should carry along a copy of None Dare Call it Treason, in case anyone impugns your loyalty to your country, motherhood, and the American Way of Life.

Probably the best way to enjoy Los Angeles would be to not go, but of course you wouldn't be able to see the game. So catch the 6:30 flight for Los Angeles International, arrive at the Coliseum at 8 and depart right after the game.

Of course this is all impractical because your plane will no doubt be grounded because of the smog. But Saturday night offers a myriad of things to do in L.A. For instance you might try burning the Coliseum so Mike Garrett wouldn't be able to play any more games at home.

If you are really in a good mood (after you downed that pint of jayvee's vodka with a gremlin) take a little trip over to Watts and check the place out. Just drive through and yell, "I'm fighting poverty, I work, or Help Support your Local Police." That might be good for kicks.

Either have painted on the side of your car, "I am a blue eyed soul brother," or have your car reved up or you may not make it out of there alive. Then you can zip onto the fabulous Los Angeles freeways, yes those perfections of automobile travel that enable you to go from Santa Ana to Westwood in a matter of minutes, provided you can get on the freeway to begin with.

Buzz on up to Fairfax, the American version of the Kibbutz. And once you get there stand on a street corner and scream, "The Dodgers are bums, and Sandy Koufax is a Christian." Then you can count seconds until the bagels and motazh balls start raining on your head.

But we shouldn't really be so critical of Angeleinos, for there are many worthwhile things that go on there. For instance there are a number of cultural activities that take place. I'm sure you remember that great concert performed by the Beatles this summer in full view of 18,000 screaming culture lovers. That was their cultural event of the year.

Of course this barely exceeded the Beach Boys and one of their sedate concerts and the surfing championships of the world. Everyone knows that surfing is the thing to do when you live in the Southland, but no one knows the real reason for the big fad.

The expose is out for I have learned from a reliable source that the John Birch Society through the PTA and L.A. Police Department is planning to name surfing the "National Pastime" replacing baseball. Baseball requires too much a "Communal" effort while surfing is on an individual basis, and besides the Russians could never claim they invented surfing because they have no big oceans.

If you really want to go where the action is don't go to the Whiskey a Go Go. Instead take a journey down to T.J. You aren't a man if a girl fifteen years old doesn't ask you five times, "You like to see my seester?"

Quicker than you can say smog, the weekend will be over and you'll have to make that sad journey back to San Francisco; you'll say goodbye to the Southland and make ready for another week of enjoying the life in a real city.

Secrecy Shrouds Practice Sessions

The Cal offensive unit will remain intact, even though fullback Frank Lynch missed a couple days of contact earlier this week trying to recuperate from a bruised shoulder.

Mum has been the word in the California Camp since Willsey has put a blanket of secrecy around his maneuvers calling "closed practice" sessions all week. Although Willsey smilingly asserts that he has nothing special planned, this is the first time in two years he has closed the doors of Edwards Field all week.

From UCLA the word is, however, that the Bruins will spend the evening keying on quarterback runs. Prothro and his crew consider the Cal option, which Dan Berry adeptly handled last week, the big Bear threat.

In the Cal backfield Lynch will be accompanied by Lloyd Reist at halfback, Tommy Relles at the wing spot and signal caller Jimmy Hunt.

Reist was tabbed over fellow soph Teddy Parks for his performance against Washington.

The end positions will be manned by Mike Gridley and John Beasley, with Sam Hard and Dick Williams taking the tackle spots. Center John Salisbury and guards Tom Brown and John Garamendi complete the starting unit.

Quadrangular Meet

Harriers Travel South

By STEVE MULLENNIEX

To 28 well-conditioned athletes from four schools "All-U Weekend" means much more than a football game, parties, and visits home. A season will begin in earnest for the now little-heralded but tradition-blessed sport of cross-country.

Coach Sam Bell's harriers will be matched in a quadrangular meet against favored UCLA, strong USC, and unknown Santa Barbara at 10:40 Saturday morning on UCLA's 4.1 mile course.

Bell's charges did well last week to place second in the season-opening Sacramento Invitational Meet ahead of fourth-running Stanford, and second to San Jose State in a triangular home meet October 16. But only Bob Price and Rich Elliot of the Bears have to date run even with if not ahead of pre-season hopes.

Bell remarked Wednesday, "I can see progress, but I can also see the need for a lot more."

He indicated that improvement must come from three, four, and five men Erich Brenner, Jay Lathrop, and Clinton Shock if dual meet victories are to be earned. Jim Holl and Martin Koenekamp round out the seven man team.

Featured in the powerful Bruin squad are "very tough" Bob Day and Jeff Pyne, who together set a record of 16:01 on the 3.4 mile southern California course last Saturday.

Although the Uclans lack a good fifth man, this weakness may be exploited only through the unlikely possibility that each of the other teams will "bunch" together as it crosses the finish line.

Sophomore John Link is the USC standout (16:33 in last week's competition to tie the old course record). He is closely followed by the Trojans' Gary Gettleman (16:44) and Bruce Bess (16:55).

The Bruin course record of 20:27, set by UCLA's Dick Weeks, will be favored to fall Saturday. It was Week's USC course record of 16:33 that was broken by Day and Pyne. Coach Bell expects both Price and Elliot to be "near the front all the way."

STEPHEN C. SHAW

... The Nation's Leader

When Steve first became a campus associate last year there was every indication that he would be outstanding. He has proved this prophecy to be correct... for he is now the No. 1 Campus Associate among his contemporaries at 67 colleges and universities across the Country. Next June when he begins his full time career, we anticipate this pattern will continue.

In spite of his heavy business schedule, he has maintained his high scholastic standing. In addition, he continues his busy campus life as President of Delta Upsilon, member of the Rifle Team, and an active Intra-mural sports participant.

If you would like to meet Steve... or think you may qualify to join him... why not give us a call. We think you'll find it a refreshing experience.

The Way to World Peace

Famed and eminent British historian Arnold J. Toynbee declared recently that civilization has reached the point where the very continuity of the human race depends upon the formation of world government. "It is the mutual interest of the nations to subordinate their national sovereignty to world authorities," he said, "This is the only condition on which the nations can survive in an atomic age."

In the light of world developments it is interesting to consider the words of Jesus Christ. About two thousand years ago the Prince of Peace told His followers: "You will hear of wars and rumors of wars; see that you are not alarmed; for this must take place, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places; all this is but the beginning of sufferings . . ." (Matthew 24:1-8)

According to the Bible, history's darkest hour lies yet ahead, a period of destruction and death far exceeding the toll and travail of two world wars. From this holocaust only a few will be saved.

Those who seek to bring about peace on earth should acquaint themselves with God's ways and methods, for His great purpose in present times is to call, out of a lost dying world, a group of people to Himself (Acts 15:13-18).

The Kingdom of God begins with changed human hearts through personally receiving Jesus Christ as Lord. Jesus Christ, who came to bring peace to men, also made it clear He was on earth to divide and to separate men (Matthew 10:33-34, 25:31-46).

God's solution to the problem of world peace is to silently and invisibly change men's lives by transforming them from within. Those who meet and receive Jesus Christ have not only the peace of God here and now, but look expectantly and confidently to the day when His program for world peace has fully come.

There is only one effective way you can work for world peace and that is by accepting God's plans and methods. Commit your life to Jesus Christ and become His instrument of righteousness and His avenue of expression in a warring world whose rebellion is basically against God alone.

Soviet Jews Studied

SCSJ Conference Sunday

The West Coast Conference Concerning Soviet Jewry, sponsored by the Student Committee for Soviet Jewry (SCSJ), will be held Sunday at the Hillel Foundation on Bancroft Ave.

The purpose of the Conference is to introduce the general public and representatives from 15 west coast universities to the goals and methods of the SCSJ.

The morning portion of the Conference, beginning at 9 a.m., will feature local speakers providing background information on the condition of the Jewish community in the USSR. The general public is invited to attend this session.

David Weiss, professor of bacteriology, will describe conditions he witnessed on a recent trip to the Soviet Union.

Gideon Sagi, Israeli Consul in San Francisco, will speak on the classic images of the Israeli Jew, the Soviet Jew, and the American Jew.

Rabbi Saul Berman of congregation Beth Israel and Saul Silverman, assistant professor of political science, will deal with persecution in the USSR and the structure of the Soviet political system, respectively.

Berman and Weiss will discuss the various aspects of cultural repression in the Soviet Union at a rally at noon today on the Sproul Hall steps.

During the afternoon, from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m., organizational committee meetings will be held. University students interested in manning the SCSJ table and starting public information workshops off campus and the representatives from universities, will meet separately.

Sid Strauss, chairman of the campus SCSJ, said the primary purposes of Sunday's conference are to introduce the campus and local communities to the SCSJ and to aid other universities in establishing their own chapters.

Strauss added that the methods of the SCSJ include direct peaceful recognition of Soviet persecution of Jews. The Soviet Union usually responds to such Western recognition, he said.

He said there is some evidence of improvement since the National Eternal Light Vigil, a prayer and protest meeting held in Washington Sept. 19.

There is a popular misconception at the University that the SCSJ is a right wing group, Strauss said.

Authors Review Rosenberg Case

"Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were completely innocent of stealing atomic secrets," is the conclusion of a new book, "Invitation to an Inquest," which charges the FBI with inventing a case against the couple "out of a whole cloth."

The authors, Walter and Miriam Schnier will speak at noon today in 11 Wheeler Hall on the results of their five year investigation of the case which resulted in the death of the Rosenbergs twelve years ago, and the imprisonment of Morton Sobell for fifteen years "because he refused to go along with the FBI."

Mrs. Sobell will also speak on the attempts to free her husband, and the forces which convicted him.

the campus rules and Berkeley ordinances."

"We recognize as the legitimate constitution of the University the agreement of Dec. 8th," said Jerry Rubin of VDC. "That provided for individuals to advocate, organize and assemble for political activity whether it is legal or not."

"We are going to continue to act," he said, "as if those rules were the only ones operative."

A VDC meeting Wednesday night set Nov. 20th as the new date for what Rubin called "the next assault on the 'Oakland Wall.'"

"Our destination and route will be decided this weekend," he said. "But we are definitely going to assemble on campus and leave from campus."

He said he "could hardly be optimistic" about the chances of Berkeley granting a parade permit for that march.

"This agreement, said Bob Hurwitz of VDC, "represents an unwarranted intrusion of the community of Berkeley into the affairs of the University."

The Right Time

At a time when the right to express unpopular opinion is being sniped at by politicians across the land, someone has acted in defense of that right. The Chancellor of this campus—Roger Heyns.

Heyns yesterday made an announcement for which this campus has waited since his appointment as Chancellor. He offered reappointment to ex-faculty member Eli Katz.

Katz had been denied tenure by then Chancellor Edward Strong, after what has been described as a "stormy session" between the two on Katz's past political activities. Both the Academic Senate and Katz's department, German, had urged his rehire.

But, although he had signed the required loyalty oath, Katz refused to answer some of Strong's questions and was denied tenure. The Regents subsequently decided the final decision on the matter should come from the new chancellor.

Freedom of speech is supported in principle by every person in the country. Yet it is quite a different matter to actually act to defend that freedom.

Heyns' announcement was a little more courageous than one might think. This campus has come under attack repeatedly in the last week as a "staging area" for protests against the Vietnam war. Only Wednesday, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh hinted at legislative action against the University.

The United States Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security has launched an investigation into possible Communist influence in the protest-movement on this and other campuses.

State Senator Hugh Burns has announced his Subcommittee on Un-American Activities will join the Communist hunt. Everyone has begun to wave the red flag.

We commend Chancellor Heyns for picking this time to assert that the University will remain a place for education, that a man will be judged on his ability not on alleged, and irrelevant, past political connections.

Letters to the Ice Box

Self-Determination

To the Ice Box:

Who are the people on the Vietnam Day Committee? Aren't they the same people who advocated in 1956 that we step into the Hungarian Revolt and help those people overthrow their Communist government? Didn't they grieve when Russian tanks rumbled down from the north and put a bloody end to Hungarian self-determination?

The VDC says "hands-off" in Vietnam. If those people want a Communist government, or if somehow a Communist government comes to power, that's none of our business. But suppose that this does happen and then in a few years the people become dissatisfied with their government. And since you can't just vote a Communist government out of power, they turn to revolt. The Communist government in Vietnam, no longer able to control the situation, asks their ally Red China to send down a fleet of tanks. Another Hungary occurs.

Is Communism really the way to self-determination for a people, especially when they are living on the border of Red China? Does the VDC know what they are talking about when they say "self-determination for Vietnam?" These are not rhetorical questions—I would really like to know.

Grading System

To the Ice Box:

Miss Leach condemns Mr. and Mrs. Fainberg, who favor retention of the current grading system, for "egregious error in logic" but proffers some pretty specious logic of her own in reply:

The most naive is the assertion that "material one learns" for a test is soon forgotten if one is not interested in it, the last part meaning, presumably, "if one is not interested in learning it." This, generally, is true. But one sincerely hopes that college students are in college precisely because they are interested in learning. If not, they should get out. What does Miss Leach think college is — fun and games?

Secondly, Miss Leach condemns the Fainbergs because "at no time do they attempt to correlate test grades with some other measure of learning. . . ." But what, pray tell, could "other measure" be besides grades on other sorts of tests (IQ, SAT, etc.)? . . . I agree that learning should not be defined as test grades, but certainly a grade is the most reliable indicator of learning. If not, what is?

Finally, I'd like to know how Miss Leach ever got to be a junior in Psychology without realizing that any organism's performance has to be measured (tested) and classified (graded) before it can be discussed. . . . Miss Leach's logic leads to this: meaningful discussion of learning is irrelevant at institutions of learning!

A Major in Rioting?

By DAVE LEE

"If you want to major in rioting, go to Cal."

"Cal used to mean scholarship, but now has come to mean beatniks."

Who said this? Some typical, conservative, middle class, white American? Maybe so, but it's also being said by Negro high school kids all over the East Bay, especially in talking about the FSM, and Sexual Freedom League. Most of these students look up to the University. But the Campus Left apparently leaves them cold.

For years the Campus Left and black and white Black Nationalists have said the University has a "bad image" among minority groups, a major factor in discouraging high school students from minority groups from coming to Cal.

We wondered about this and decided to talk to some college-prep Negro high school students whom we had met while working on the University's Special Opportunity Scholarship Program.

We choose students from high schools ranging from mostly-white El Cerrito through completely integrated Berkeley High to all-black McClymonds. The responses corroborated each other and also tied in with comments from two Negro girls now attending the University who had talked to many high school students.

They're not too worried about racial discrimination. They are mainly concerned with getting good grades; raising enough money; and the kind of social life they will have on campus. In spite of the Civil Rights idealism of many college activists, these upwardly-mobile Negro youth "don't want to be around people with those attitudes" prevailing in some student protest movements. These students say they want to go to college to study, not to protest.

These students seem to be bothered more by the Campus Left than by discrimination on campus. A Castlemont senior did remark that "kids on the football team say the white boy has a better chance to make the team than Negroes." He noted that some Negroes—parents and students—thought there were racial barriers but from his own experience, he concluded, "if you're qualified, you make it." He said many students had heard this but "they forget about this and they look at the racial aspect."

The two Negro girls who had talked to a number of high school students said that only one of them had asked about racial discrimination. One of them said, "Many Negro high school kids want to know how many Negroes are already attending a college and this is a big factor in influencing them. . . many ask 'what kind' of Negroes go to Cal."

Perhaps the University is not such an orge in race relations and perhaps the Don Quixotes on the Left are not such Knights in Shining Armor doing battle on behalf of the Oppressed and Downtrodden.

'Katzenbach Statements Distorted by Press'

By H. NEIL BERKSON

The Collegiate Press Service

WASHINGTON—We didn't like it either. There were the eight-column headlines on Monday morning: "U.S. Links Reds to Viet Policy Protests." The random campaign of red-baiting suddenly seemed intense.

So we called the Department of Justice and asked if we might see the transcript of Attorney General Katzenbach's remarks to a Chicago press conference—the only source for the story. The commercial press, we remembered, has a strange habit of distorting statements so that they lose all context.

The Associated Press lead sentence, as quoted in the Washington Post, read as follows: "Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach said tonight that Communists are active in marches and demonstrations protesting America's presence in the Vietnam war and that the justice department has begun an investigation."

To begin with, the stenographic transcript clearly indicates that the thrust of Katzenbach's remarks aimed not at Communist activity in the protest movement but at the question of draft dodging. When he did deal with the question of Communist activity, he carefully limited the extent of involvement, stressing that Communists would naturally participate in a movement such as the anti-Vietnam campaign. Here are his exact remarks:

Q: Would you see any tie-in to Hanoi or Peking or Moscow, or overseas?

K: In this sense only: That whenever you have a movement of this kind, which is consistent with the views of the Communists, you are likely to find some Communists involved in it.

Q: But does that mean that they are running it?

K: No, I don't think that means they are running it. I think it means that whenever you have this kind of a movement, you are likely to have some Communists involved in it.

While Katzenbach was downgrading the importance of Communist involvement, the newspapers were hell-bent on upgrading it. They made no effort to include any of Katzenbach's qualifications. This situation was particularly true with regard to statements about Students for a Democratic Society. After repeating the same question concerning communist activity and hearing Katzenbach repeat his original reply, the press went on to ask:

Q: Are they (Communists) in leadership in this organization (SDS)?

K: By and large, no.

Q: Are they in SDS, sir?

K: There are some people who are Communists or who are very closely associated with Communists, or at least claim to be, in SDS.

Q: What, if anything, can you do about it, or are you doing about it?

K: Well, what we can do about it, we will know better when we know what all the facts are?

Q: Just so we understand this right now, sir, these people that you are talking about, are they in a leadership position in SDS?

K: By and large, no.

Q: That means that there are some?

K: It means by and large, no.

The Associated Press story only quotes the one tentative statement which implicates SDS and alleged Communists. It then adds, "The Attorney General said he is awaiting results of the investigation to determine the strength of the SDS and whether there are any direct ties between the SDS and the Communist party." Katzenbach never mentions or implies "direct ties." Further, the story does not contain his major qualifying remark, made three times: "By and large, no."

We could go on. The Associated Press story, for instance, gayly implies that Katzenbach raised the issue of treason when, in response to three similar questions, Katzenbach declared that treason was not really at issue.

The point is more serious, however, than just another job of irresponsible reporting. Raising the "Red" flag in this country is dangerous and frightening. There are more than enough hounds angrily awaiting the hunt. In his latest column, for instance, David Lawrence declares that "The American government has strong suspicions that the student demonstrations have been aided, if not instigated, by agents of the Soviet Union and of Red China in this hemisphere."

This is sheer rot, as is the hastily-compiled "study" of "The Anti-Vietnam Agitation and the Teach-in Movement: The Problem of Communist Infiltration and Exploitation" which Senator Dodd produced last week. We found this work remarkable in its inaccuracies, distortions and smears.

Few deny that the Vietnam issue is extremely complex. It deserves debate, and the methods of protest can certainly be called into question. But the "Communist" label simply can't be thrown around. It will bring out the worst in this country, destroying a lot of decent human beings who have absolutely nothing to be ashamed of.

The spectre of another McCarthyite orgy here should be enough to make all intelligent Americans speak out, quickly and loudly. The Attorney General should be one of the first.

Program Notes

Festival of Films

Last week the extraordinary number of good films available to Bay Area residents was discussed. This week the number is being increased because of the SF Film Festival.

...A lot of good things are happening at the Film Festival this year. For one thing, there are a lot of good films receiving their first showing in this country. Many of them won't be shown here again, certainly not under such auspicious circumstances, or as cheaply.

I say cheaply because all films are open to students with registration cards at $1 per head. Sunday night at the Masonic Auditorium in SF an Irish film, Passages from Finnegans Wake will be shown, and Dry Summer, from Turkey. Saturday, Oct. 30, Bunuel's new film Simon of the Desert will be matched with Assassination from Yugoslavia.

At least half the films scheduled for the ten day festival should be good. But there's more than that. There is a television division which will show four different films about the late President Kennedy.

Shirley Temple will present one of her early films, "Bluebird" tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the Masonic ($1) and next Saturday Walt Disney will present "Snow White."

And there will be two interesting sidelines to the Festival. A series of famous directors will participate in panel discussions and show film clips from some of their films, as well as one complete film of the director's that he likes. As far as I know these are free. This will take place in the Masonic between 1 and 6 p.m. Hal Roach, Gene Kelley, and John Frankenheimer are among those appearing.

With them will be stars and celebrities. With Hal Roach will be the widows of Laurel and Hardy, a week from Sunday. It is rumored that Mae West (yum!) will be there too

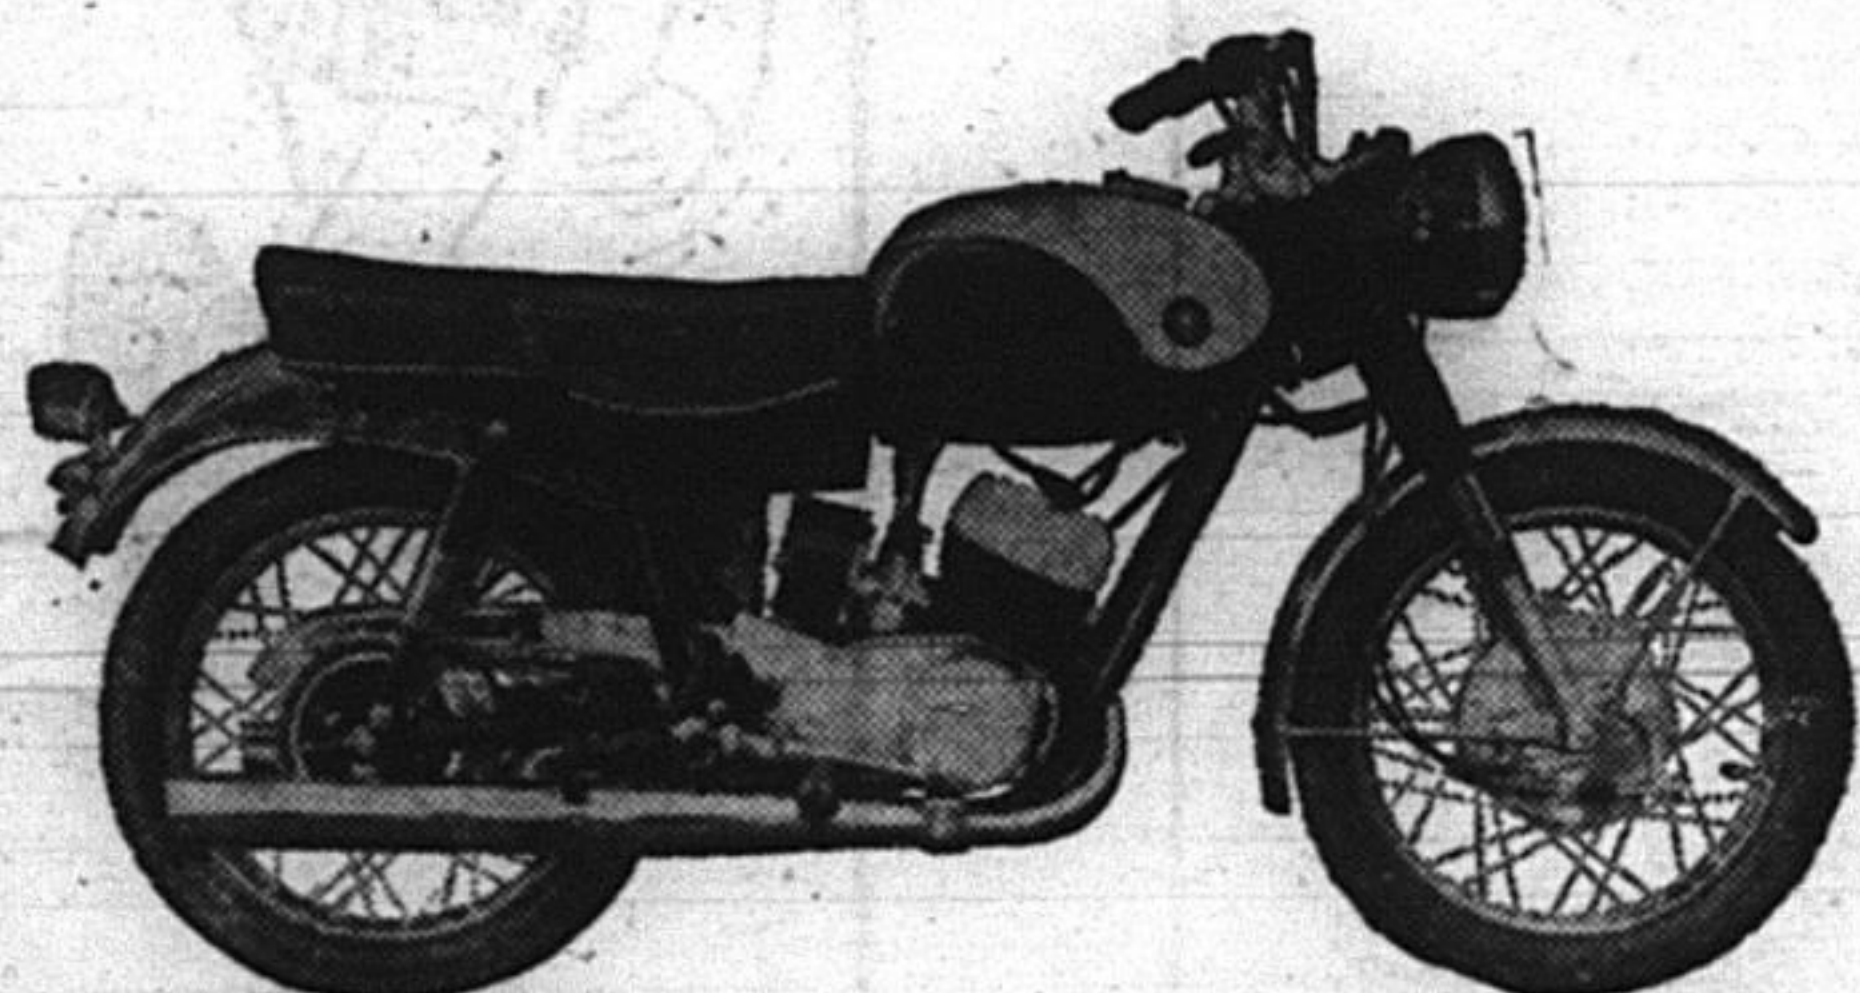

The other thing is a showing of underground films Saturday and Sunday afternoon at The Movie in SF. Little portraits of Vietnam Day, the FSM, an "adult" nature film, a strange animated short called "A" which was based on a text by Ionesco, the life of a mattress, and other neat things will be shown, 1 - 5 p.m.

Of course there are good things here in Berkeley, too. D. W. Griffith's The Battle of Elderbush Gulch and Way Down East with Lillian Gish, will be shown at 8 p.m. Sunday in Pauley for 50 cents. Saturday Midnight at the Cinema, Shattuck and Haste, is a bizarre satire called The Doll. Slate presents Notorious and Suspicion, both vintage Hitchcock, tonight in 155 Dwinelle. And down Telegraph, Hiroshima, Mon Amour is playing . . .

When the lights go out, may you be there!

Legalize Abortion Committee to Man Table

The Cal Committee to Legalize Abortion will today join the myriad group of card-table solicitors ringing Ludwigs Fountain.

Leon Schipper, ronder of the committee, said the purpose of his group "is to work towards the repeal of the section of the California penal code which makes it illegal to perform, submit to, or solicit an abortion."

Schipper said his group would work with the Sexual Freedom Forum in "Bringing speakers on the subject of abortion to the campus and communicating information to the public." "We are not at present affiliated with any group on campus."

Schipper called abortion laws "an affront to individual liberty."

"Persons of one or several religious persuasions should not be permitted to legislate the voluntary sexual practices or family sizes of persons or other religious persuasions," he said.

Schipper added that "current abortion statutes necessitate wholesale criminal behavior and encourage contempt for the law."

Schipper strongly disapproved of statutes which attempt to control abortions through approval of cases by committees of laymen or professionals.

He said these committees "Serve only to humiliate, frighten, and inspire psychic trauma in a woman seeking termination of pregnancy."

Further information may be obtained by writing "Cal Committee to Legalize Abortion," Box 24163, L.A., California, 90024.

VDC Benefit Today

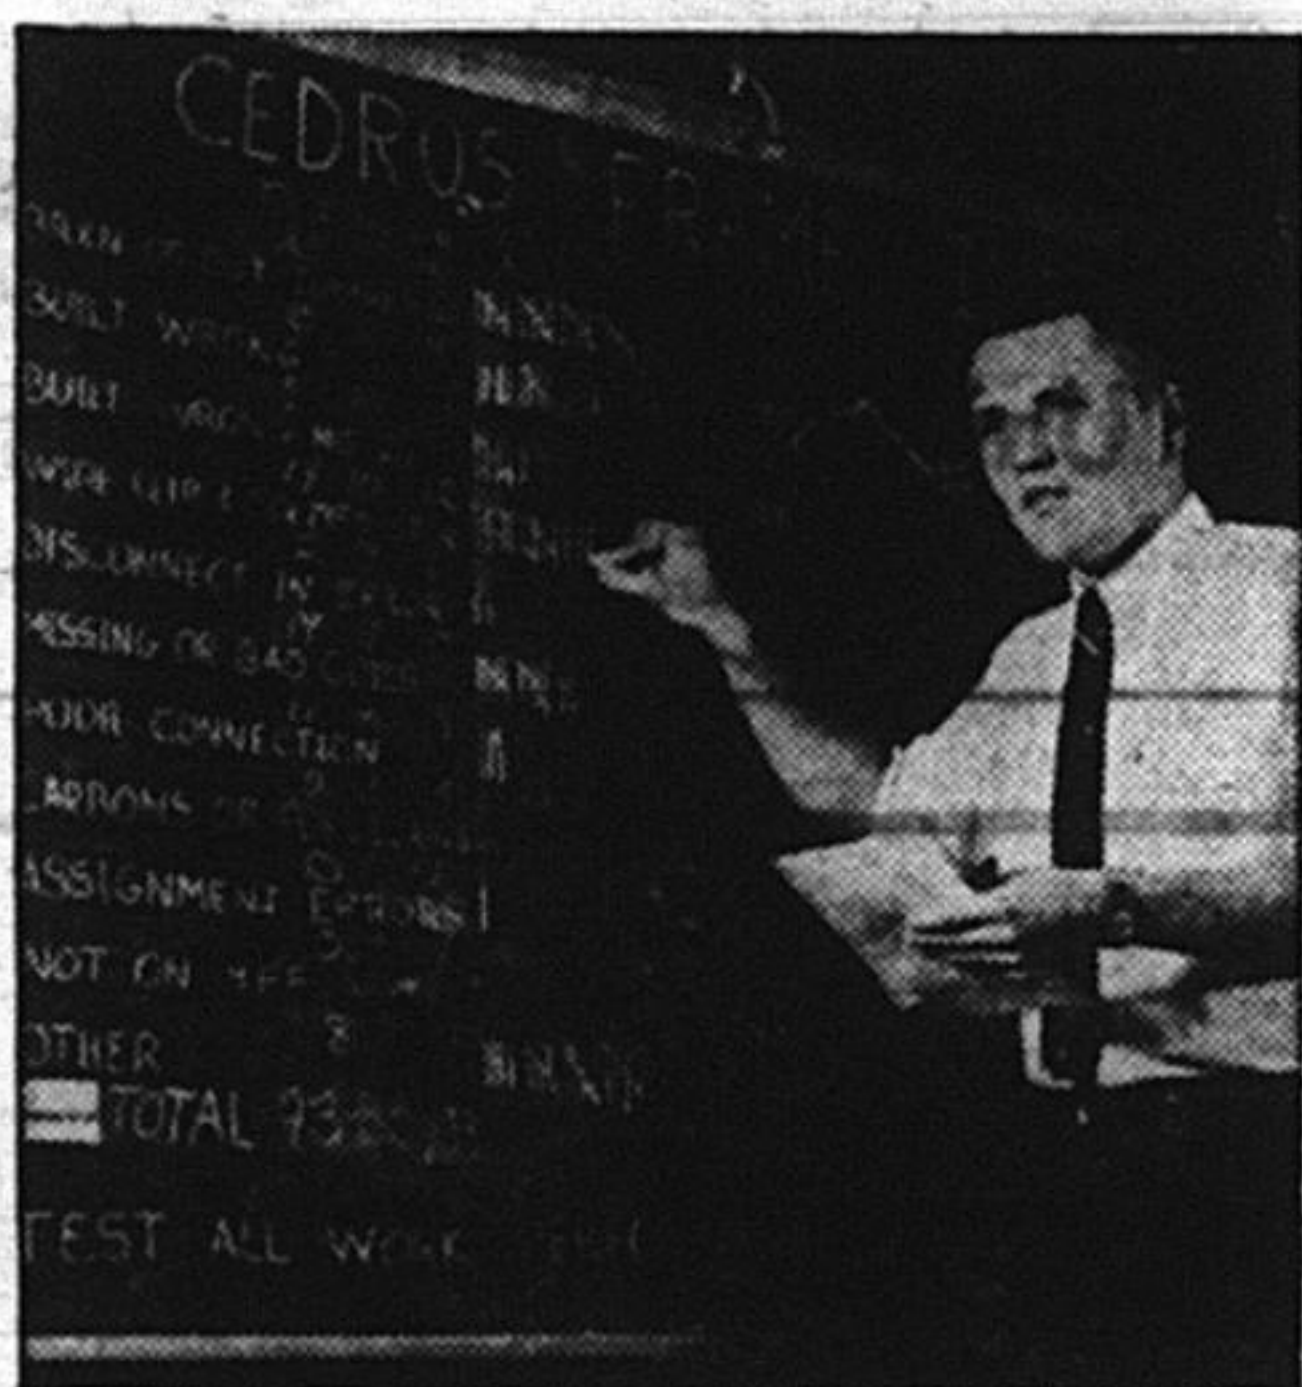

A Vietnam Day Committee benefit will be held at 8 p.m., tomorrow, in the Berkeley Community Theater.

Featured in the show will be Lawrence Ferlinghetti and Allen Ginsberg, poets; and the Thugs with Ed Sanders, a singing group. Paul Krassner will act as master of ceremonies.

Tickets, $1, are available at the theatre box office.

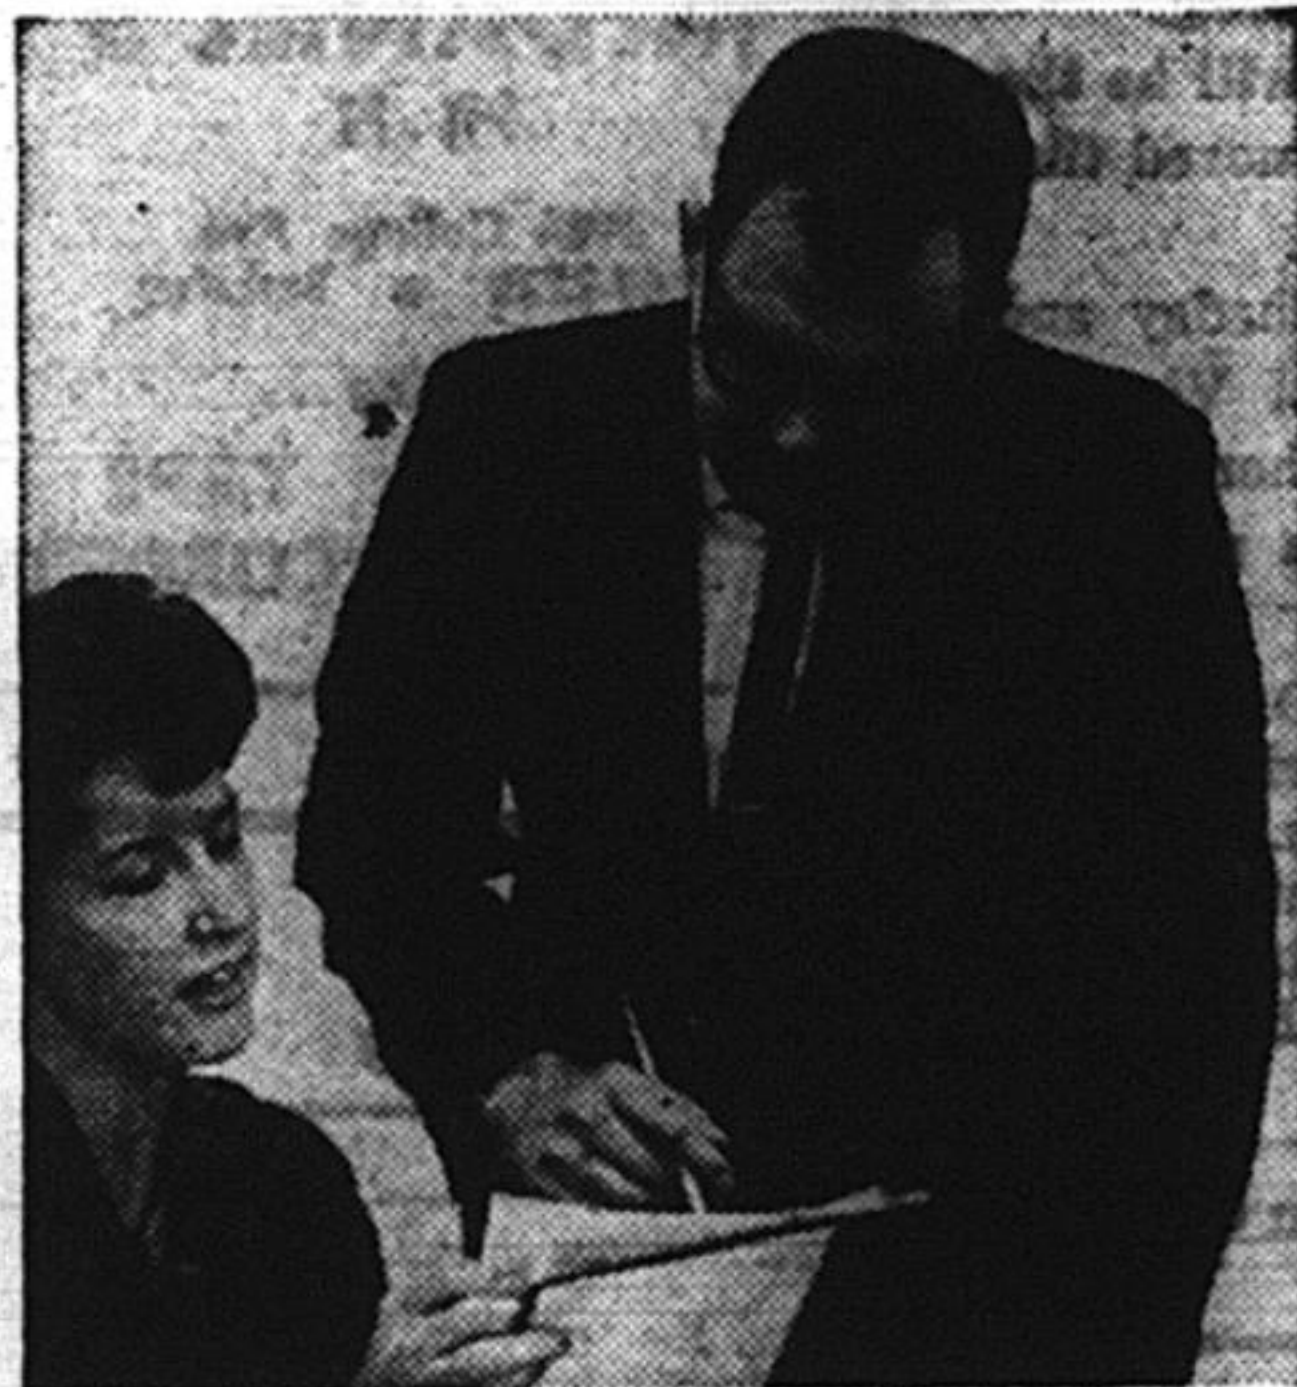

Have you got what it takes to tackle jobs like these... right after graduation?

(Then see our man on campus. He's got a career for you.)

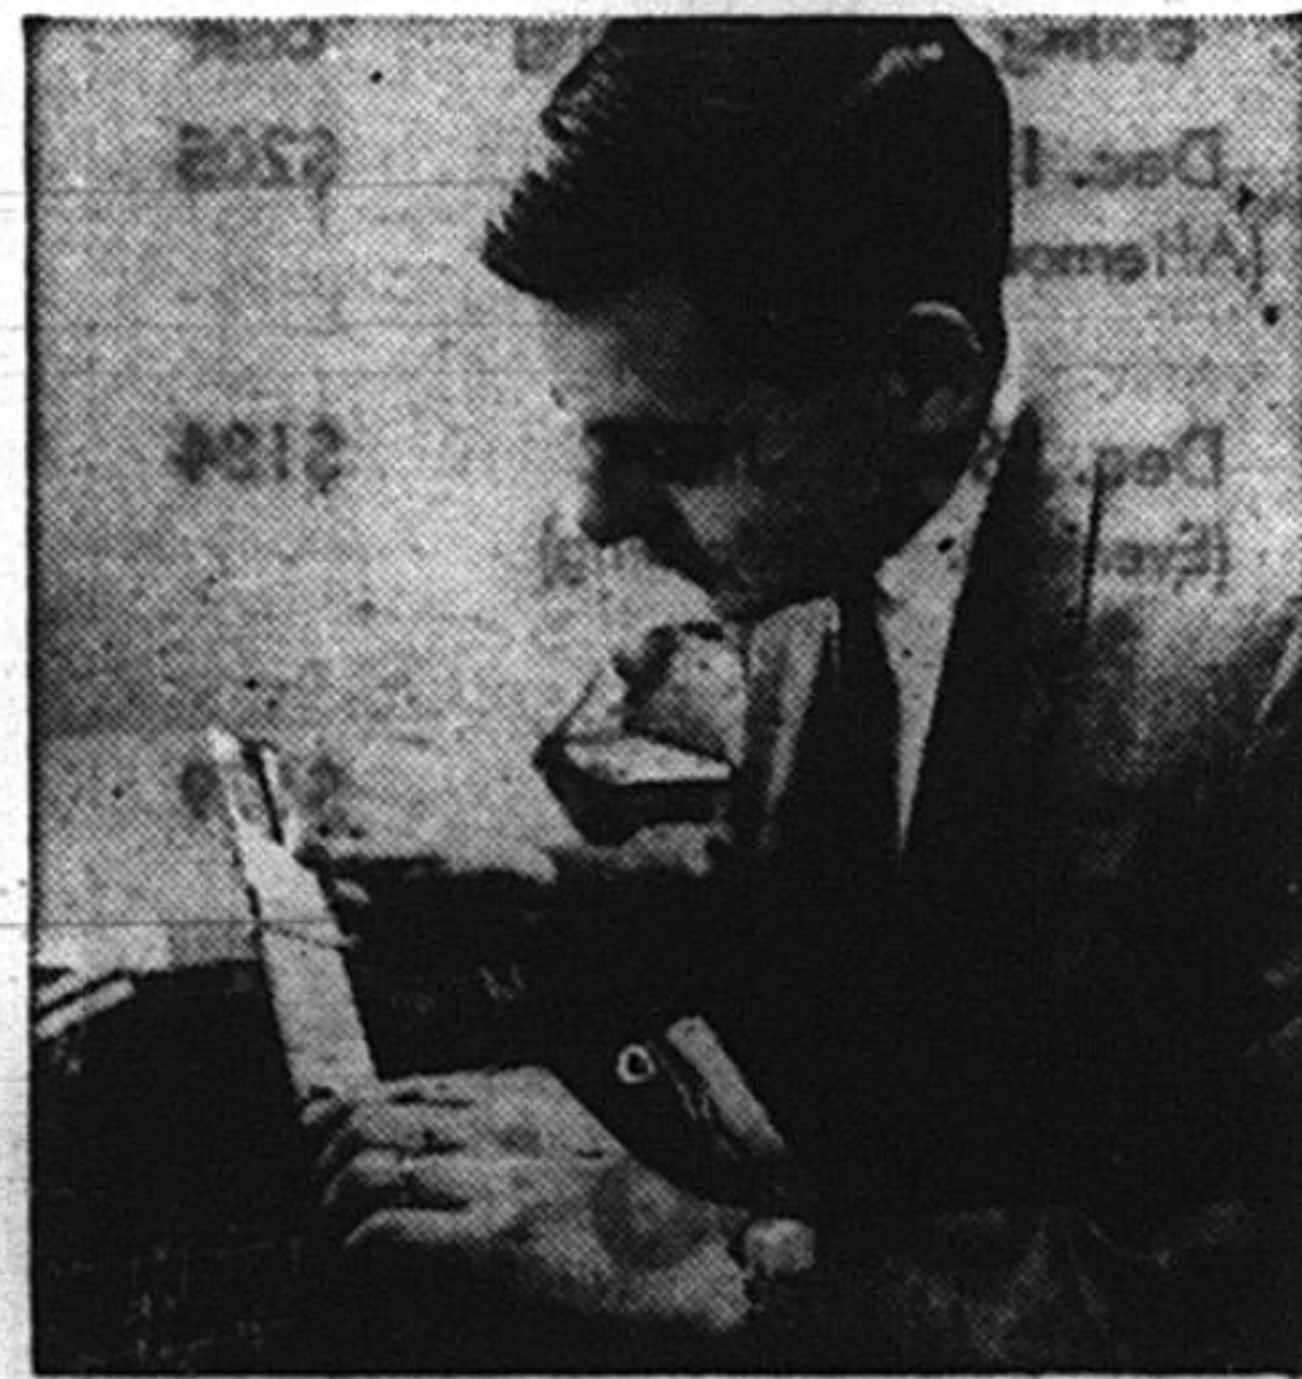

John Stangland B.S. in Bus. Admin., San Fernando State.

After just three weeks on the job, John took charge of a crew of 19 non-management men. As manager he's responsible for quality and cost control, production and personnel matters in our Plant Department. Under his direction, all performance levels have improved greatly.

Max Gresoro A.B. in Economics, San Diego State.

Max's first assignment was to undertake the position of Section Supervisor in the San Diego Accounting office. In this job he supervised six management and 65 non-management women. Job well done? Max was promoted to the next level management and now is in charge of Reports and Results for the same office.

Raymond Owens B.S. in Mechanical Engineering, University of California.

Responsibility was Ray's from the start. He was asked to prepare a study of the power requirements for the first of a new type automatic telephone center. To do this he had to determine how the equipment would fit in the allocated space and then engineer the job. It was a major project—with a working budget of over $85,000.

Jim Burk A.B., Stanford University; M.B.A., University of California.

Supervising a sales group of five people and servicing over 1,300 complex customer accounts is a mighty big first job. As Sales Manager of the Marysville district, Jim and his group handle sales which result in over $300,000 worth of revenue a year.

Funny Things Happen

On the Way to the Forum

LELA ZIFF

Telegraph Avenue was only mildly active last night. The coffee houses had their usual assortment of old newspapers, newly spilt coffee, and people. The night was very, very black and warm and starry.

Cyril was beautifully high. He wandered out onto the street and pointed to the sky with some intention of hexing the moon to put it out once and for all.

"Hey, it's real drunk out tonight."

There. He succeeded in obliterating it after all and stumbled on to the Forum.

"Cappuccino?"

"Yeah." He shook his head in affirmation of his ritualistic entrance into the coffee house.

There was a jazz on the record player. "Coltrane?" Maybe. Maybe not.

"I don't know, baby."

Freddy came in with his camera, Bermuda shorts, and a limeade.

"What's this? It's an upside down this." Ha. Ha. Giggle.

There was bagpipe music on the record player.

The girl at the middle table wore purple suede sandals, blond frizz to the waist, and lips in a beautiful smile that had not yet communicated to her eyes.

"Well, you have to assume that 39 out of 40 of us are going to die."

No reaction came from the limeade or the cappuccino. The music was too loud. Lot's of talking, but little conversation. We all sat in a very loud silence.

"The girl attended a small high school in a very small town. She was very much afraid of being stereotyped and rejected. She has recently been uprooted from her old environment and placed into a tumultuous scene. She's turned to commenting on her new freedom with the same attitude as before making the move to the new situation."

There was a loner in the corner table with coffee, pipe and "Time," squeezing his Adam's apple. Maybe it'll break. He eyed the cowboy sitting down at the next table. "Join me? Didn't I march with you?"

"Yeah, my name's Cyril. Did you see the sky tonight? no moon."

"Fly Me To The Moon" drifted out to the street. A guy with straight hair to his shoulders, beautiful red beard, blue eyes, serape, sandals, and Kafka noticed a girl with straight hair to her shoulders, blue eyes, serape, sandals, and Greek bag.

"Hey, Joan. It is you. You don't look like you at all."

"Neither do you."

Regents' Meet

"I don't want to abandon it unless it's absolutely necessary," he said.

The art center project has been referred to a special committee, chaired by Regent William Roth, which will report its finding at a later meeting of the board.

The annual report on registration showed the Berkeley enrollment dropped about two per cent from last year. The drop was explained as resulting from a miscalculation of the number of students needing to be re-directed, rather than a drop in applications.

This semester 1700 students accepted voluntary re-direction and another 200 were re-directed on a compulsory basis.

At the morning session the problem of minority group acceptance in the fraternity-sorority systems was discussed by the chancellors of the various campuses. They generally agreed the problem was more a one of interesting members of "disadvantaged groups" in the University in making it financially possible for them to attend.

Also during the morning session Kerr was asked what steps might be taken to lure top students from out of state to the University.
