

CALLED TO REMEMBER

Lesson 7, Matthew 26:1-13, KJV

THE REAL ME

There are many things about us that a casual acquaintance or a coworker may know (examples: your name, your job). But there are some details about you that only those closest to you might know (examples: how you like to spend your free time). In the spaces below, list four examples of each kind of facts about you—the public you and the private you.

WHO IS JESUS?

During the last months of His ministry, Jesus asked this provocative question: “Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?” (Matthew 16:13). Imagine the same question being asked of the people in today’s Bible text. How did their understanding affect their actions?

Whom did the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders say that Jesus, the Son of Man, was?

What did they decide to do about it? (Respond referring to Matthew 26:3-5.)

Whom did His disciples say that Jesus, the Son of Man, was? (Respond referring to Matthew 26:8-10.)

What did they decide to do about it?

Whom did the woman with the precious ointment say that Jesus, the Son of Man, was?

What did she decide to do about it? (Respond referring to Matthew 26:6, 7, 12.)
