Zabrina Jenkins is managing director of litigation for Starbucks Coffee Company where she leads a team responsible for intellectual property, real estate, commercial and general liability litigation for retail locations in North America. Zabrina serves as an advisor to the Starbucks Policy Governance Council and the Diversity Committee for the Law & Corporate Affairs department. Prior to joining Starbucks, Zabrina was an associate at Garvey Schubert Barer in Seattle, Washington. During her tenure with the firm, Zabrina focused her practice on commercial litigation matters, including labor and employment law. Zabrina is an active volunteer in both legal and civic organizations. She currently serves on the advisory boards of the Washington Leadership Institute (WLI), Artist Trust, Girls Can Do, and Central Washington University College of Business. Zabrina received her Master of Science degree from Syracuse University School of Education and her Juris Doctor from Syracuse University College of Law.
