For Residential Property in Queensland

This guide seeks to simplify the auction process and provide clarification on the roles and responsibilities of Auctioneers and bidders.

Queensland real estate law requires that all people bidding at a residential property auction must provide their names, addresses and proof of identity to the Auctioneer prior to the auction in order for their bids to be accepted.

How to register

- You can register at any time prior to the auction. This can be at an open for inspection, or when visiting the listing agency prior to the auction. Registering early will save you the trouble of registering on auction day.
- You will need to provide the Auctioneer with your name and address and some photo identification – e.g. drivers licence or passport.
- The Auctioneer will record these details in a Bidders Register and provide you with a Bidder number. This number must be displayed by you when making a bid during the course of the auction.
- If you register prior to auction day, you may not receive your number. When you arrive at the auction, you will need to see the Auctioneer or their representative, provide them proof of your identity, and receive your number or bidder card at that time.
- Auctioneers are not permitted to provide your information to any other person other than an inspector or the court. However, the auctioneer may disclose to the seller of the property the identity of a bidder if it is necessary for negotiating the sale of the property after the auction.

Remember: You do not have to bid just because you have registered, but you must be registered if you intend to bid.

How to bid

- Make sure that the Auctioneer can see you. Ideally you should hold up your bidder number and call out your bid in a clear audible voice.
- You can call out an exact amount – e.g. "$260,000" or indicate the amount you wish to increase the previous bid by the increment suggested by the Auctioneer – e.g. "Another $10,000".
- If the Auctioneer calls the incorrect amount or misinterprets your bid – call out to the auctioneer and clarify the bid with them immediately.

Important points to remember when bidding at an auction

- Make sure you are familiar Conditions of Sale prior to bidding at the auction. Auctioneers will have these displayed at the auction for inspection by bidders prior to the auction commencing. Some Auctioneers will read some or all of these out at the start of the auction.
- If you propose to bid on behalf of another person, you must have a letter of authority and provide the name and address details of that person to the Auctioneer in order to register them as bidders in the bidder register.
- When bidding at an auction, remember that if you are the successful bidder you will be required to sign the contract of sale and pay a deposit on the spot.
- There is no cooling off period when you buy at an auction.
- The Auctioneer's decision is final. In the event of a dispute arising, the Auctioneer has the right to resubmit the property afresh or with a Vendor's bid in the event that the dispute arise before the reserve price was reached.
- Prior to the commencement of an auction, Auctioneers are unable by law to provide advice to potential purchasers as to what the reserve price is.
- At the commencement of the auction, the Auctioneer may announce if the property is to be sold with or without a reserve price.

REMEMBER TO HAND IN YOUR BIDDER NUMBER AT THE END OF THE AUCTION!

Online Auctions

- The auction may be facilitated online through a Digital Offer Management Platform. A Digital Offer Management Platform refers to a digital platform that Sales Agents, Auctioneers and/or sellers may use to facilitate the sale of a property online via auction. The Digital Offer Management Platform provide an open online platform for parties to:
 - access information about listed properties for sale;
 - interact with appointed Sales Agents or Auctioneers;
 - participate in bidding for property being sold by online auction; and
 - negotiate and manage the sale of property.
- The requirements set out above in relation to registering, bidding and auction process, will still apply to an online auction.
- You may need to accept additional terms and conditions of participating in an online auction set by the relevant Digital Offer Management Platform used to conduct the auction. If you do not accept the terms and conditions, you may not be able to participate in the auction.
- You should make sure that you are prepared for the online auction by using a reliable computer or mobile device with a stable internet connection. If you have any questions about using the Digital Offer Management Platform, you should contact the Sales Agent or Auctioneer.

GST ANNOUNCEMENT AND CLARIFICATION

At auction the Auctioneer will announce in clear terms:

1. If GST is to apply or not; and
2. One of the following applicable GST Clauses

IF THE SELLER IS NOT REGISTERED FOR GST:

- The property is offered for sale on a GST inclusive basis – which means the knock down price is the sale price.

IF THE SELLER IS REGISTERED FOR GST:

- The property is offered for sale on a GST exclusive basis – which means the knock down price attracts GST at 10% of the selling price; or
- The property is offered for sale under the Margin Scheme – which means that the knock down bid is the sale price and GST payable by the seller is 1/11 of the margin.

1. All Bidders must be registered. The Auctioneer may register a person as a Bidder only if the person has provided his/her name and address and satisfactory evidence of his/her identity. If the Bidder is successful, the name listed on the registration form will be the name of the Buyer in the Contract of Sale, unless the Bidder is bidding on behalf of another person in accordance with Conditions 9 and 10.
2. The highest approved Bidder will be the Buyer subject to:
 - a. the reserve price, if any; and
 - b. the Seller's approval.
3. A cooling off period will not apply to any Contract of Sale formed on a sale by auction or entered into, by no later than 5.00pm on the second clear business day after the property was passed in at auction, with a registered bidder for the auction.
4. The Buyer acknowledges that the Contract of Sale will not be conditional on any of the following:

8. The Bidder warrants their ability to enter and complete the Contract of Sale in accordance with its terms.
9. Any person bidding on behalf of another person must provide the Auctioneer with a copy of their written authority before the auction; otherwise the Bidder will be taken to be acting on their own behalf. The Auctioneer may register a person as a Bidder only if the person gives the Auctioneer the name and address of the other person for whom bids are intended to be made on instructions given by the other person by telephone.
10. If the Bidder is authorised to bid on behalf of another person, and is the Buyer in accordance with condition 2, the Bidder warrants the other person's ability to enter and complete the Contract of Sale in accordance with its terms.

12. Without affecting condition 11, if there is any dispute over a bid or the result, the Auctioneer may:

17. The decision of the Auctioneer is final in all matters relating to the auction.
18. The Bidder consents to the use of electronic communication in accordance with the provisions set out in Chapter 2 of the Electronic Transactions (Queensland) Act 2001 (Qld) and Electronic Transactions Act 1999 (Cth).
