A lot can be constituted by a community titles scheme's land.

By-laws can regulate a wide range of matters, including noise, the appearance of lots, carrying out work on lots (including renovations), parking, requirements for body corporate approval to keep pets, and whether smoking is permitted on outdoor areas of lots and the common property. However, by-laws cannot regulate the type of residential use of lots that may lawfully be used for residential purposes. You should read the by-laws before signing a contract.

The by-laws that apply to the scheme are specified in the community management statement for the scheme provided to you by the seller.

Yes

If yes, the exclusive use by-laws or other allocations of common property for the schemes are:

Lot entitlements and financial information

Lot entitlements

Lot entitlements are used to determine the proportion of body corporate expenses each lot owner is responsible for. The community management statement contains two schedules of lot entitlements – a contribution schedule of lot entitlements and an interest schedule of lot entitlements, outlining the entitlements for each lot in the scheme. The contribution schedule lot entitlement for a lot (as a proportion of the total for all lots) is used to calculate the lot owner's contribution to most body corporate expenses, and the interest schedule lot entitlement for a lot (as a proportion of the total for all lots) is used to calculate the lot owner's contribution to insurance expenses in some cases. Lots may have different lot entitlements and therefore may pay different contributions to the body corporate's expenses.

You should consider the lot entitlements for the lot compared to the lot entitlements for other lots in the scheme before you sign a contract of sale.

Contribution schedule

Contribution schedule lot entitlement for the lot: 67

The contributions (levies) paid by each lot owner towards body corporate expenses is determined by the budgets approved at the annual general meeting of the body corporate.

You need to pay contributions to the body corporate's administrative fund for recurrent spending and the sinking fund for capital and non-recurrent spending.

Common property and assets

When you buy a lot in a community titles scheme, you also own a share in the common property and assets for the scheme. Common property can include driveways, lifts and stairwells, and shared facilities. Assets can include gym equipment and pool furniture.

The body corporate is usually responsible for maintaining common property in a good and structurally sound condition. An owner is usually responsible for maintaining common property or assets that their lot has been allocated exclusive use of, or for maintaining improvements to common property or utility infrastructure that is only for the benefit of their lot. The body corporate may have additional maintenance responsibilities, depending on the plan of subdivision the scheme is registered under. For more information, visit www.qld.gov.au/buyingbodycorporate.

Sinking fund forecast and balance - maintenance and replacement of common property / assets

The body corporate must have a sinking fund to pay for future capital expenses, such as repairs or replacement of common property and assets. The body corporate must raise enough money in its sinking fund budget each year to provide for spending for the current year and to reserve an amount to meet likely spending for 9 years after the current year. If there is not enough money in the sinking fund at the time maintenance is needed, lot owners will usually have to pay additional contributions.

Prior to signing a contract, you should consider whether the current sinking fund balance is appropriate to meet likely future capital expenditure.

Does the body corporate have a current sinking fund forecast that estimates future capital expenses and how much money needs to be accumulated in the sinking fund?

Yes - you can obtain a copy from the body corporate records

Current sinking fund balance (as at date of certificate): $ 700,464.82

Improvements to common property the lot owner is responsible for

A lot owner may make improvements to the common property for the benefit of their lot if authorised by the body corporate or under an exclusive use by-law. The owner of the lot is usually responsible for maintenance of these improvements, unless the body corporate authorises an alternative maintenance arrangement or it is specified in the relevant by-law.

Details of authorised improvements to the common property that the owner of the lot is responsible for maintaining in good condition are given with this certificate

Body corporate assets

The body corporate must keep a register of all body corporate assets worth more than $1,000.

A copy of the body corporate register assets is given with this certificate below

- under a building format plan of subdivision or volumetric format plan of subdivision - each building that contains an owner's lot (e.g. a unit or apartment); or
- under a standard format plan of subdivision - each building on a lot that has a common wall with a building on an adjoining lot.

Where the body corporate is unable to obtain the required building insurance, an adjudicator may order that the body corporate take out alternative insurance. Information about alternative insurance is available from www.qld.gov.au/buyingbodycorporate.

Does the body corporate currently hold alternative insurance approved under an alternative insurance order?

No

Lot owner and occupier insurance

The owner is responsible for insuring buildings that do not share a common wall if the scheme is registered under a standard format plan of subdivision, unless the body corporate has set up a voluntary insurance scheme and the owner has opted-in.

More information about insurance in community titles schemes is available from your solicitor or www.qld.gov.au/buyingbodycorporate

Contracts and authorisations

Caretaking service contractors and letting agents – Accommodation Module, Commercial Module and Standard Module

A body corporate may engage service contractors to provide services to the body corporate to assist in the management of the scheme.

If the Standard Module, Accommodation Module, or Commercial Module apply to a community titles scheme, the body corporate may also authorise a person to conduct a letting agent business for the scheme, that is, to act as the agent of owners of lots in the scheme who choose to use the person's services for the letting of their lot.

A service contractor who is also authorised to be a letting agent for the scheme is called a caretaking service contractor. Together, an agreement to engage a person as a caretaking service contractor and authorise a person as a letting agent is typically referred to as 'management rights'.

The maximum term of a service contract or authorisation entered into by a body corporate is:

- 10 years if the Standard Module applies to the scheme; and
- 25 years if the Accommodation Module or Commercial Module applies to the scheme.

You may inspect the body corporate records to find information about any engagements or authorisations entered into by the body corporate, including the term of an engagement or authorisation and, for an engagement, duties required to be performed and remuneration payable by the body corporate.

Has the body corporate engaged a caretaking services contractor for the scheme?

Yes - Name of caretaking service contractor engaged: Lazy Daze Pty Ltd ACN 100 236 691

Has the body corporate authorised a letting agent for the scheme?

Details of improvements to common property that the lot owner is responsible for

The prospective purchaser of the lot will automatically become responsible for any improvements to common property that were made by the current or previous owner/s of that lot.

By definition, any part of the building that is not original to the construction is an "improvement" - a thing that was added, modified, or removed later by an owner at the time of that lot. The responsibility for an improvement always rests with the current owner of the lot.

Example of an improvement to common property by a lot owner:

In a building format plan townhouse scheme, Lot 1 requests approval to install an awning over their front entry door, so they can be protected from rain as they unlock their front door. The body corporate approves this request, but the installation is made by Lot 1 at their own cost.

The installation of the awning is technically located on the common property (being on the exterior of the lot). Had that awning been original to the development, it would have been a body corporate obligation to maintain it based on its location on common property.

However, as it is an 'improvement to common property' made by Lot 1 for their own benefit, that awning will forever be the maintenance responsibility of Lot 1. If Lot 1 sells, the future owner of Lot 1 will inherit the responsibility.

The following information is provided by the Queensland Government:

An owner can make an improvement to common property if approved by the committee or the body corporate at a general meeting.

The committee can approve an improvement by an owner if the:

- total cost is less than $3,000
- improvement does not detract from the appearance of a lot
- body corporate is satisfied that the use and enjoyment of the improvement is not likely to be a breach of the owner's duties as an occupier (e.g. by causing a nuisance to others in the scheme).

If the committee cannot approve the work it must be authorised by ordinary resolution at a general meeting.

The owner must:

- comply with any conditions of approval, and
- maintain the improvement.

When an improvement is made to the common property by a lot owner they must give the body corporate details of the type of work and value of the improvement.

If the improvement increases the body corporate's insurance premium, the owner may have to pay the extra.

From <<https://www.qld.gov.au/law/housing-and-neighbours/body-corporate/maintenance/improvements>>

How to identify a specific obligation

Improvements to common property include both:

- Authorised improvements (being approved at either a committee meeting or general meeting; AND
- Unauthorised improvements (i.e. improvements made without approval).

As improvements may have been made without obtaining the body corporate's approval (unauthorised improvements), the absence of approval records does not guarantee that the thing is an original part of the common property.

Common examples of improvements:

The following are common examples of improvements made to common property by and for the benefit of a lot:

- Air-conditioner condensers situated on the exterior of a building
- Private (non-shared) hot water systems
- Additional door locks, electronic locks, peep-holes,
- Security screen doors, flyscreens or insect screens
- External shutters and blinds on windows, or on balconies or patios
- Solar panels and associated equipment
- Security cameras, electronic doorbells
- Motors on garage roller doors and tilt doors (where the original construction was manually operated doors)
- Internet cabling, TV antenna, satellite dish
- Enhanced or new areas of garden directly adjacent to the lot
- Changes to the exterior ground surface - Pavers, pathways, gravel, garden beds, fencing
- Changes to any patio, terrace, courtyard area which is subject to an exclusive use by-law
- Garden sheds
- Carports and carport slabs

Historical improvements

Improvements may have been made at any time from the original construction, to the current date. In older schemes, improvements may have been made over a very long period of time. The responsibility to maintain those aged improvements still transfers to the current owner of the lot, though they may be more difficult to identify with certainty.

By definition, any part of the building that is not original to the construction is an "improvement" - a thing that was added, modified, or removed later by an owner at the time of that lot.

Improvement as a 'removal' of something

The removal of something may also be an 'improvement' for which a lot owner is responsible.

If for example a lot owner requested permission to remove some lattice or fencing from common property to improve the view out of their window, then a subsequent owner of that lot could not expect the body corporate to reinstate that lattice or fencing later.

If the reinstatement of the lattice or fencing was required later, that would be a cost for the owner of lot which originally had it removed.

Further right to information

A prospective purchaser is eligible to inspect the full records of the body corporate for a minor statutory cost. The buyer may inspect personally, or may appoint an agent to inspect the records on their behalf.

A full records inspection may identify the relevant minutes of the meeting at which an improvement was approved (if it is an authorised improvement), or may identify other correspondence or records identifying improvements for which the lot owner is responsible to maintain.

PRINCIPLES FOR DECIDING THE CONTRIBUTION LOT ENTITLEMENT

As required by Chapter 2 of the Body Corporate and Community Management Act 1997 (Qld), the contribution schedule lot entitlements have been calculated using the Equality Principle. In having reference to the below factors, it is just and equitable for there to be a variation in the contribution schedule lot entitlements.

Explanation for why the Contribution Schedule Lot Entitlements for each Lot are not equal (pursuant to Chapter 2 of the Body Corporate and Community Management Act 1997 (Qld))

The Contribution Schedule Lot Entitlements ("CSLE") for the Scheme are not equal. The CSLE for each residential Lot varies between a minimum of 69 and a maximum of 82. The difference in Lot Entitlements recognises that the nature, features and characteristics of the Lots result in a differential burden on the costs of the Body Corporate for repair and maintenance of the Common Property; however do not impact on how much each Lot should contribute to certain Body Corporate costs such as secretarial fees, audit fees, printing, postage and outlays. When allocating the CSLE each of the factors stated below impacts on the allocation in the following ways:

1. Structure of the Scheme

The Arbour on Charlotte Community Titles Scheme is a basic scheme being developed in 2 stages. Despite the staging of the scheme it is considered that this factor does not contribute to any differences in the Lot Entitlements.

2. Nature, Features and Characteristics of the lots in the Scheme

The Body Corporate has been created by a Building Format Plan and is responsible for the repair and maintenance of Common Property within its Scheme. This includes the common foyers, utility infrastructure and utility services, external walls, building structure, certain windows of the buildings and roofs.

In allocating the Contribution Schedule Lot Entitlements, the following features or characteristics of Lots in the Scheme increase the burden the Lot places on the Body Corporate expenditure for the maintenance, cleaning and repair of the Common Property:

Title Reference [50977166]

- a) Support and Shelter Costs: The purpose of the structure of the building is to provide support and structure to the building. Support and shelter costs include maintaining the superstructure of the buildings; external building maintenance, cleaning and painting; balustrade maintenance and replacement; and building protection costs. These costs have been apportioned by the size of each Lot (area).
- b) Accommodation Costs: Not all lots are expected to have the same number of occupants. Larger lots that can cater for a greater number of occupants have the potential to place a greater burden on the maintenance of some Common Property and certain costs have been apportioned based on the potential population of each Lot.

PRINCIPLES FOR DECIDING THE INTEREST LOT ENTITLEMENT

As required by Chapter 2 of the Body Corporate and Community Management Act 1997 (Qld), the Interest Schedule Lot Entitlements (ISLE) for the Scheme have been calculated using the Market Value Principle. That is, the ISLE reflects the respective market values of each lot in the Scheme at a point of time relative to all other lots within the Scheme.

This clause explains how the CSLEs for Lots created by subdivision, amalgamation and development generally in the future will be calculated:

CSLE = Base + Factor for Accommodation + Factor for Support & Shelter
Where:

Base = 51

Factor for Accommodation = 7 multiplied by the number of approved bedrooms

Factor for Support & Shelter = 0.2 multiplied by the total area of the Lot

The CSLE is rounded up to the nearest whole number.

$$\text{ISLE} = \text{Market Value} \times 0.00025$$

Where:

Market Value = the market value of the Lot as determined by the Original Owner.

The ISLE is rounded up to the nearest whole number.

4.3 Changes to ISLEs

The Original Owner can at any time amend clause 4 herein. Any changes made will, so far as possible, reflect the same principles, but shall be at the direction and the absolute discretion of the Original Owner.

4.4 Calculation of the aggregate of ISLEs

The aggregate of the ISLEs is calculated as the sum of all interest schedule lot entitlements for all Lots in the CTS. The aggregate will change from time to time as new Lots are created, or the CTS is altered in other ways.
