Property Management

To whom it may concern,

Thank you for the opportunity to provide you with a rental appraisal for the property.

This does not purport to be a valuation, but merely a guide of the current market trends, and this should be treated as such. This appraisal has been based on marketing photographs, current statistics, rented properties in the area and is also based on our current portfolio. In addition, the property is required to be fully compliant with all current legislation.

Yours sincerely

Suzanne Peters
