15 Tauroa Valley, Havelock North

Some homes are shaped by their outlook. This one was designed around it.

Designed by architect Simon Clarkson, the home sits low across the site, with broad panes of glass bringing afternoon light into the living spaces and framing views across lawn, established planting and the landscape beyond.

The outlook stretches across Havelock North towards the ranges and Ruapehu, with Napier Hill and glimpses of the sea in the distance.

Set within Tauroa Valley, the home has a strong sense of privacy while remaining only minutes from the Village and Te Mata Peak.
