

Christina Martinka ALB, MBE, NRP, CCP-C, FP-C

Christina Martinka is a Board-Certified Critical Care Flight and Ground Paramedic, Biologist, and Bioethicist.

She serves as Chief Executive Officer at Air Medical Experts, LLC, and is a Managing Partner at Cambridge Ethics Consultants in Boston.

With over a decade of rotor-wing flight experience, Christina has executed hundreds of critical care transport missions for adult, pediatric, and neonatal patients. She has been decorated for valor and clinical excellence and has received recognition and awards for her contributions to community service and international humanitarian relief.

Christina is a Subject Matter Expert in Prehospital Difficult Airway management and a court-admissible Expert Witness. She also serves as an Instructor and Medical Advisor for the Department of Defense – Naval Special Warfare Group and the Army 160th Special Operations Aviation Regiment. As an accomplished author and international lecturer, she speaks extensively on EMS and Critical Care topics.

In addition, Christina is a Faculty Instructor at Harvard Medical School, where she works with graduate students and collaborates on Health, Law, and Policy under the tutelage of Dr. Kesselheim, Dr. Abel, and her mentor Dr. Berry.

She earned both her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Harvard University. Her EMS career began in Arizona, where she worked as both a high-volume 911 system paramedic and a rural paramedic, notably serving as the sole on-duty ALS provider for a 432-square-mile AOR.

Christina will be presenting on Expert Testimony
