My Country Book
for the 2016 Summer Olympic Games
It’s time for the 2016...

Summer Olympic Games in Rio!

We have a fun project for your kids to work on during the Olympic Games that will give them an outlet for their creative energy after they have expended their physical energy trying some of their twirling and leaping stunts or quick dashes across your living room floor.

My Country Book will help your children record their favorite Olympic moments while reinforcing their geography knowledge and providing an interesting keepsake notebook to enjoy when it is finished.

Set-up Instructions:

Provide each of your children with a 3 ring binder - ideally one with the plastic overlay for inserting a cover sheet. First, print enough cover sheets (the page just preceding this one) so that each of your students gets one to insert into the front of their binders. Have them write their names on it and then decorate as they would like. You may want to print some photos from the official Olympic website or Wikipedia that they can paste around the border of the page. Or perhaps they will want to draw some athletes or sports equipment. Insert the cover sheet into the plastic overlay on the front of his/her binder.

Next, print as many copies of the “Country” page as you choose - that is the page immediately following this one. I would suggest that you print a few now and more later so that you don't print more than you will use. These are the pages that your child will use to record the great Olympic moments. He will use one page per country. But don’t print 196 pages just now as not all countries send athletes to the Olympic Games, nor will your student want to fill out that many. 10 is a good start.

On each country page, you will notice two blank squares for pasting in a flag and country. These are located on pages 4-122. Ideally, you will want to print one full set for each child participating in the project.

Finally, print out the Olympic Games world map - one for each child - and place in the front of their binders. This is for reference purposes and will be referred to often throughout the games.

Project Instructions:

As students begin each new country page, take a moment to look up some information on that nation in Expedition Earth or your encyclopedia. If you do not yet own a copy of Expedition Earth: My Passport to the World, now is a great time to buy one as the book is on sale at a 20% discount between now and the closing ceremonies of the Rio Summer Olympics. Here is the link to the sale - https://fs168.infusionsoft.com/app/orderForms/Expedition-Earth-Sale. Please note that we have a very limited supply of these books in hardcover format.

Have them find the country on the world map at the front of their binder. Now they can dig into their flashcards to locate the appropriate map and country flashcard to paste onto the country page. Have them record the country name and the continent where it is located. Finally the olympic achievements can be recorded on the bottom half of the sheet. Voila! Your kids are learning and having fun too!

Enjoy! Let the games begin!
Flash Cards

The flash cards on the following pages will help you study the country’s flags, capitals, languages, and more—and hopefully have fun at the same time! You’ll find two sets of flash cards:

• Set 1
  - Country flag on the front
  - Country name, capital city, and languages on the back

• Set 2
  - Outline map of the country and its capital on the front
  - Country’s fact box with population and other information on the back

There are a couple ways you can use these flash cards.

Print the front and back on one sheet of paper and then cut on the black lines. (Use your printer’s manual or help files to find out how to print on both sides of your paper.) This will give you a set of ordinary flashcards that you can use for drill or review.

Print only on one side of each page and then cut on the black lines. This will give you a set of “playing cards” that you can use for games. Here are a couple ideas, or you can come up with your own game! You may need your copy of Expedition Earth to check your answers during gameplay.

Memory Matching

You can play this game alone or with your friends and family.

Use your entire set of flashcards (either set 1 or set 2) or separate out the countries from just one continent. Shuffle the cards and then lay them out face down in a grid pattern. (For example, you may have 3 cards in each row and 4 cards in each column.)

Turn over two cards. If you’ve revealed a flag and its matching country information (or the country map and its matching fact box), you get to keep the cards and take another turn. If the two cards do not match, however, turn them back over and let another player take a turn.

Try to remember where the matching cards appear so that you can pick them up on your next turn. When all the cards have been matched, the player with the most cards wins.

Scatter Match

You can play this game alone. If you play with others, one person needs to be the dedicated fact checker. He can check each player’s matches in Expedition Earth but shouldn’t try to make any matches himself.

Use your entire set of flashcards (either set 1 or set 2) or separate out the countries from just one continent. Shuffle the cards and then lay them out face up on the floor or table.

Try to match the flag (or country map) with the correct info card.
