OBITUARY

Mrs. Lillian Bell Caldwell, affectionately known as “Lillie,” passed away peacefully on Thursday, March 19, 2020 at National Healthcare of Laurens, South Carolina.

She was born to the late Angelina Clate Miller and P.C. Leake on October 5, 1927 in Newberry, South Carolina.

Lillie Bell attended public schools in Newberry County. Soon after, she relocated to New York City, New York for a new and exciting life in the Big Apple. She was employed in one of the five boroughs, Manhattan, for many years.

It was in Brooklyn, New York that she met and married her forever love, Ernest Caldwell. They both were employed and resided in New York City until retiring and returning to Clinton, SC.

Lillie Caldwell will forever be remembered for being the best dressed in the room, feisty, for her glamorously huge hats, and an equally huge personality. Affectionately nicknamed, “Sassy”; she lived up to her name until the end.

In addition to her parents Lillie is now reunited with the love of her life Ernest, her only child Wyman, Jr. and her brother, P.C. Leake, Jr.

She leaves to cherish her memory, one loving daughter-in-law, Mary (Wyman) Wyatt; one sister, Essie Miller of Asheville, NC; five granddaughters, Donna Wyatt, Theresa (Arthur) Ellington of Maryland (Affectionately called TeeTee by Grandma Lillie), Patricia Wyatt, Angela Wyatt and Teala Riggins; six great-grandchildren, Deja Wyatt, Diego Washington, Mya Trent, Destin Rice, Kamani and Khloe Riggins; one great-great grandson, Amari Lindsay; and a host of cousins, nieces, nephews and friends.

She will be loved and missed by all.
