

Granny

Her hands were golden, almost made of steel, As her heart was chosen, a beat we all could feel. When dark clouds rolled in they could shelter a village from rain. Those hands held me and I would never be the same, they gave life to nature as I witnessed this for sure. A spirit indescribable, transparent and ever pure. If her hands could heal the world she would have place them over the Globe. As they rocked and cradled most of us and this we all know. Her face would smile from here to Heaven at the mention of the name Jesus and speak of a place called Glory that wold one day soon need her.

Your Grandson, Brandon king

Mama

You were there for me to love and care for me when skies were grey. Whenever I was down. You were always there to comfort me. And no one else could ever be what you've been to me you will always be apart of my life. For all times mama you're definitely the Queen of my Heart. Take your rest! Sleep on my Love.

Love, Charlotte
