

When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

When tomorrow starts without me
And I'm not here to see
If the sun should rise and find your eyes
Filled with tears for me,
I wish so much you wouldn't cry
The way you did today
While thinking of the many things
We didn't get to say.
I know how much you love me,
As much as I love you,
And each time you think of me,
I know you'll miss me, too.
But when tomorrow starts without me,
Please try to understand
That Jesus came and called my name
And took me by the hand.
He said my place was ready
In Heaven far above
And that I'd have to leave behind
All those I dearly love.
So when tomorrow starts without me,
Don't think we're far apart.
Every time you think of me,
I'm right here in your heart.

Acknowledgement

Life brings tears, smiles, and memories. The tears dry, the smiles fade but the memories live on forever. We appreciate the support we have received from everyone in the passing of our loved one. There will never be enough time to thank each and every one of you for all kind words, fervent prayers, immeasurable faith, hugs, cards, delicious food, and beautiful flowers. It is all these things and trust in the Lord, that will help us get through the days to come. Thank you and God bless you.

Reflections of the Life of

Ms. Mary Louise Mix

“Mae Mae”

“The Queen Link of Our Chain”

Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom sent His holy angels to bring his child home to him from labor to rest on Thursday, January 19, 2023. Mary, affectionately known as “Mae Mae,” was a loving mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend. She was the daughter of the late Margaret L. Mix and the late Willie L. Shields. She was born on December 8, 1958, in Kershaw, South Carolina.

Mary accepted Christ at an early age and joined First Kershaw Baptist Church.

Mary received her education at South Carolina School for the Deaf and Blind.

Mary embraced life to its fullest measure despite some challenges that made her unselfishly strive to care for her family. Listening to “ole school” music and watching Days of Our Lives in her pastime gave her great pleasure. The Isley Brothers and Luther Vandross were two of her favorite rhythm and blues artist. She enjoyed eating mouth-watering watermelon and delicious fried fish. Mary’s contagious smile and loving spirit will never be duplicated. Her memories will dwell in the hearts of everyone she touched forever.

Mary was predeceased by her son, Detrez Javaughn Mix.

Left to cherish her wonderful memories are: her loving and devoted daughters, Jeannette L Mix of Liberty, South Carolina, and Quamesha L. Mix of Suitland, Maryland; one sister, Kimberly A. Mix of Suitland, Maryland; one brother, Leroy M. Mix of Heath Springs, South Carolina; three grandchildren, Markitta Mix, Israel Okebugwu, and Isaiah Okebugwu; three aunts, Betty Chatman of Suitland, Maryland, Brenda Gaither of Heath Springs, South Carolina, and Irma Fae Seegars of Kershaw, South Carolina; one uncle, Johnny Mix (Combletia) of Wingate, North Carolina; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Not How Did She Die, but How Did She Live?

Not how did she die, but how did she live?

Not what did she gain, but what did she give?

These are the units to measure the worth

Of a woman as a woman, regardless of birth.

Not what was her church nor what was her creed,

But had she befriended those really in need?

Was she ever ready with a word of good cheer,

To bring back a smile, to banish a tear?

Not what did the sketch in the newspaper say,

But how many were affected when she passed away?
