

A Letter from Heaven

*When tomorrow starts without me,
And I'm not here so see.
If the sun should rise and find your eyes, filled with tears for me
I wish so much you wouldn't cry,
The way you did today,
While thinking of the many things,
We didn't get to say
I know how much you love me,
As much as I love you,
And each time you think of me,
I know you'll miss me too.
When tomorrow starts without me,
Don't think we're far apart
For every time you think of me
I'm right there in your heart.*

OBITUARY

Sharon Vaughan was born on May 15, 1988. Her parents are Queen Esther Vaughan and Warren Vaughan(deceased).

Sharon was an enthusiastic student and wanted to pursue a career in the medical field. Upon completion of high school, she attended Everest University to earn an Associate Degree as a Medical Assistant.

Sharon was a member of Greater Macedonia Baptist Church, under the leadership of her beloved uncle, Dr. Landon L. Williams Sr. where she sung in the Children’s Choir and danced in the Dance Ministry.

Born with a free and determined spirit, Sharon lived her fragile life on her own terms. She leaves to mourn her passing her mother, Queen Esther Vaughan; two children, Tre’Vaughan Williams and Terri’anna Williams (TNT, as she affectionately called them); friend, Terry Williams; sisters and brothers, Jasmine Vaughan, Anthony Vaughan, Jamel Vaughan, Medina (Omar) Vaughan-Tolliver, Alexandria (Robert) Berry, Marilyn (John) Brown and Patricia Edwards; nieces and nephews, Shakuwra Muhammad, Queen Edwards, Asjerea (Christoper) Abraham, Yardan (Ayo) Muhammad, Amiyn (Brittany) Edwards, Trinity Cobham, Hayley Edwards, Kai Edwards, Jamal Vaughan Jr., Malashia Dye, and Anthony Palmer, uncle and aunt, Dr. Landon L. Williams Sr., and Frances (Bruce) Williams; cousins, Rosiland Smith, Dr. Gary (Maxine)Williams Sr., Reverend Kenny (Charlene) Williams Sr., Lanita (Lonnie) Wells, Reginald (Lorraine) Williams Sr., Yolanda Williams, Landon Williams, Jr. Michelle Williams; Nashan Williams, Landon Priscilla Williams, and Zachary Williams, and a host of other family members near and far, not to mention her many, many, friends.
