Human Biology Capstone

The Capstone is a Human Biology major requirement that can be fulfilled in multiple ways. It is typically completed during senior year, and provides students the chance to reflect on their HumBio, Stanford, and extracurricular experiences as undergraduates. Please indicate your preliminary plans for fulfilling the Capstone (and visit the link below to learn more):

Preliminary Approval Signature: _____

This preliminary approval signature from a HumBio student advisor (SA) indicates that you have made great progress in planning your Course of Study. You are ready to continue moving forward in the declaration process after you complete 4 / 6 HumBio Core classes with a C- or above. Your next steps will be to write your proposal essay, find a faculty advisor, and continue working closely with our team of SAs.
