

Privacy Practices

Adler University is committed to preserving your right to privacy. We consider all information we collect about you privileged and confidential. These privacy practices will be posted online. Adler University reserves the right to change these practices at any time by posting revisions.

Supporter information

Adler University collects personal information about you whenever you voluntarily submit it to us through our website, an email or telephone call, at a meeting or event, or in the process of making a donation.

Adler University stores this type of information in a password-protected database which is kept confidential, and guidelines are in place which limit access only to those who have a reasonable need to use your information.

Adler University will not share, trade or sell your information with/to third or unauthorized parties, nor will we send mailings on behalf of other organizations.

Types of information we might collect

1. Contact information: We may ask for contact information such as your name, address, telephone number, email address, and contact preferences. This information may be used for reasons such as to:
 - a. Respond to any of your inquiries or questions
 - b. Contact you in the future to share School news, send you communications, invite you to upcoming events, and/or ask for your continuing support
 - c. Acknowledge your donation(s) via mail, a listing in our annual report, or other methods. If you wish to contribute anonymously, please let us know.
2. Demographic information: We may ask for limited demographic information such as your gender, race or ethnicity, or marital status. This information is used to help us better understand the individuals we connect with and to help us better communicate with you. We limit how this information is used and disclosed.
3. Financial information: If you make a donation to Adler University, then we may ask for financial information such as a credit card number or financial account numbers. This information allows us to process your donation and keep internal records, and is not utilized for any other purpose. We consider this information confidential.

Protection of information

Adler University protects confidential and other sensitive information from theft, unauthorized use, damage or destruction. We have put into place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect.

Review/opt out

If you would like to review or correct the personal information that we have collected, please contact us using one of the methods listed below in the Contact Us section.

If you would like to make your donations to Adler University anonymously, please let us know at the time of your donation and/or by using one of the methods listed below in the Contact Us section.

If you would prefer not to receive mailings from Adler University, please let us know via either one of the methods listed below in the Contact Us section or by utilizing the unsubscribe link which can be found at the bottom of Adler University's e-newsletters and electronic mailings. Upon receipt of your request and within a reasonable amount of time, Adler University will remove your information from future marketing communications.

Cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyze web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyze data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

Links to other websites

Our website may contain links to enable you to visit other websites of interest easily. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by this privacy statement. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy statement applicable to the website in question.
