Prayer for Migrants and Refugees

Lord Jesus, when you multiplied the loaves and fishes, you provided more than food for the body, you offered us the gift of yourself, the gift which satisfies every hunger and quenches every thirst! Your disciples were filled with fear and doubt, but you poured out your love and compassion on the migrant crowd, welcoming them as brothers and sisters.

Lord Jesus, today you call us to welcome the members of God's family who come to our land to escape oppression, poverty, persecution, violence, and war. Like your disciples, we too are filled with fear and doubt and even suspicion. We build barriers in our hearts and in our minds.

Lord Jesus, help us by your grace,

- To banish fear from our hearts, that we may embrace each of your children as our own brother and sister;
- To welcome migrants and refugees with joy and generosity, while responding to their many needs;
- To realize that you call all people to your holy mountain to learn the ways of peace and justice;
- To share of our abundance as you spread a banquet before us;
- To give witness to your love for all people, as we celebrate the many gifts they bring.

We praise you and give you thanks for the family you have called together from so many people. We see in this human family a reflection of the divine unity of the one Most Holy Trinity in whom we make our prayer: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Amen.

The Ringing of the Bells....

Just a few days ago we received an e-mail from a woman who just moved into the neighborhood and was upset that our bells begin ringing on Sunday morning at 7:25 and would we turn them off. The family finds them annoying and could they ring later on in the morning?

We communicated with her and reminded her that these bells have been ringing at St. Peter Church since 1867 and we are not about to stop them now. You will get used to them over time. It is like living next to the railroad tracks - you eventually don't even pay attention to the trains anymore. Usually you don't ask the railroad to stop the trains. Thus we also asked her, did she not notice the bell tower and the bells when she moved into the neighborhood. St. Peter is, in fact, a church...with visible bells. The bells of Saint Peter will continue to ring!

Nothing says Catholic like church bells...we invented them for worship! In fact, in the Catholic tradition church bells are considered almost human for they are referred to as the Vox Dei or the Voice of God calling you to Mass and prayer. Catholic church bells are actually baptized before being installed into a tower or steeple and given a name. The bells of Saint Peter have names like St. Peter, the Blessed Mother, and St. Joseph and were cast at the Stuckstede Foundry at 8th and Allen Streets in Souldard. The middle bell is the oldest (1867) and named for Saint Peter and the other two were cast in 1922 with a donation from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bloemker.

The ringing of the bells has been associated with Catholic worship for centuries. It is said that people never forget the unique sound of their own parish bells no matter how long they are away. Bells in church buildings were often referred to as "Gabriel Bells" in honor of the angel Gabriel, the messenger of good news.

The dedication of church bells, referred to as the "baptism of a bell," is an elaborate ceremony, using holy water, blessed Chrism, and prayers of invocation. Blessed bells were regarded as a sacramental. The first known use of bells in churches was by a bishop named Paulinus in the year 400. By the Middle Ages, the ringing of bells had become an elaborate ritual rich with symbolism: the "Sacrament bell" was rung to get people's attention before the sermon (it's not known if this was as a warning or as a welcome or to keep them awake!), the "Ave Bells" were rung during devotions to Mary at certain times of the day and the "passing bells" solemnly tolled at funerals.

One of the other reasons for ringing bells during the liturgy was to announce the elevation of the host and of the chalice. An architectural feature of churches for many years was the separation of the sanctuary from the main assembly area by large, ornate partitions known as rood screens. (It was thought that only the clergy and choir could actually watch the sacred elevation and actions of the priest. Even the choir wasn't always allowed to observe the elevation, and a curtain was drawn around the altar and priest at this time.) Some may actually remember the remnant of the rood screen, the altar rail. On the other side of the rood screen, the congregation involved itself in private devotions and prayers such as the rosary, since they were not active participants in the action of the liturgy or the Mass. The bells were rung by servers to announce that something important was happening behind the rood screen, so that the people could participate by ear, if not by eye. Often chalices were adorned with small bells so that the movement up and down would attract people's attention. The use of bells during the consecration, while a tradition during the Mass, is no longer needed as we clearly see the priest and the altar and the elevation of the host and chalice. The rood screen is no longer a fixture in our churches. The assembly is encouraged to join in the dialogue and acclamations of the Eucharistic Prayer. Often our silence after each elevation is an act of adoration itself and a prayer of gratitude for what has just happened on the altar in imitation of Jesus at the Last Supper.

The ringing of outside bells is a marvelous and traditional way to call people to worship, to enhance liturgical processions or to announce the times of the morning and evening prayer. Our bells also ring for the traditional prayer of the Angelus at 12:00 noon and 6:00 in the evening and a reminder of the Annunciation Story of the Angel Gabriel appearing to the Blessed Mother announcing her to be the Mother of God and the beginning of our salvation in Jesus.

We also ring our bells at 9:00 in the evening remembering a Catholic Church tradition even older than the Angelus bell. It is the last bell of the day and it is called the "De profundis" bell. It is so named from the psalm prayed during a funeral Mass that began with the Latin phrase, De profundis ad te clamamus, Domine, which translates as, "Out of the depths I cry to you, O Lord."

When one hears that bell, which is rung nine times to strike the hour of the day, it is rung like a funeral toll. It is meant to remind you of people you know who have died and to pray for them. Since it is also the last bell of the day, its distinctive ring is also meant to remind you to review your day, an Ignatian Examen, of how well you lived your day in Christ or did not.

St. Peter bells are one of the few Catholic churches in our area that actually rings the De profundis bell. Pay attention to it during your summer walks or listen for it if you live close by. It is meant to be a great meditation of remembering...your loved ones who have died and your day about to end.

Even when silent, bells evoke a certain attention to the place they adorn as they wait to summon the community to prayer. We are so fortunate to have real bells and bells of such quality and age as part of our St. Peter church sacramentals.

Summer, as usual, is moving right along. We are on the threshold of August already. How come the months of December, January and February don't go as fast as June, July and August? Have a great week, folks!

ARCHDIOCESE OF ST. LOUIS

Office of Child and Youth Protection

The Archdiocese of St. Louis has developed a new system for safe environment compliance called Prevent and Protect STL. Everyone (clergy, employees and volunteers) ministering to minors and vulnerable adults in the Archdiocese are required to register in the new system before December 31, 2020. This includes those new to service as well as those who are currently compliant and in service. For those who have already attended a Protecting God's Children workshop, your previous training date will transfer to this new system. In addition to attending a live Protecting God's Children workshop, all clergy, volunteers and employees will register for an updated background screening, view two new on-line training modules on abuse reporting and the Code of Ethical Conduct, and agree to the updated Code of Ethical Conduct.

Please go to www.preventandprotectstl.org: select the 'register' link and enter 'stlprotect' for the passcode. Then create your username and password for this new system. WORSHIP & MEDITATION

GOD DELIGHTS IN YOU

GOSPEL MEDITATION

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

A single mother who has a child with special needs works two jobs and sacrifices much of her own pleasures in order to be available for her son. Being the best mother possible is important to her and brings her joy. We are willing to make great and often heroic sacrifices for those people and things that matter most to us. Unless there is something of obvious importance to us in our immediate path, we can easily approach life in a more haphazard and chaotic way. We jump from one thing to another, responding to whatever it is that is competing for our attention at that moment. When everything is important, nothing is important.

If we do not wear the right pair of glasses, we can get all too easily caught up in the superficial stuff and neglect paying attention to the things that really matter. The kingdom of God is like the pearl of great price that is worth selling everything for so that it can be obtained. Based on where I invest my time and energy each day, I really wonder whether I am serving God's kingdom or my own. Have you ever considered tracking how you spend your time? You may be surprised! We allow our agendas to set the clock of our lives. We forget that joy and a true sense of purpose are not going to be found in following that timepiece. Joy is the expression of the happiness that is discovered when living in the kingdom of God. When our agenda matches God, not only do we leap for joy but God leaps with delight as well. Our well-being is what matters most to God.

Can you imagine God delighting in you? It is easy to deaden our senses to the whole reality of God and the joy that living the Gospel can bring. The demands of secular life and the agendas competing for our attention can quickly do that. We can get tired and spiritually apathetic. But if we can see our way through all of the conflicting voices and hear the voice of God, we can rediscover our zeal and passion and redirect our efforts. When we begin to see as God sees, we can rise each day and notice what really needs our attention and embrace it with exuberance. Be careful, though. It may not be what we originally had on our list. Responding to it, however, will be worth putting everything else aside.

Do you ever ask yourself...

What am I looking for in life?
 What is the meaning of my life?
 How can I be a better person?
 What can I do about the loneliness I feel?
 How can I come to know God's love?
 How can I know the right path God has in store for me?

If you are asking these questions, or questions like them, then the Catholic life awaits you. For centuries, people have turned to the Church to find the answers to the hardest and deepest questions of everyday life.

Are you interested in finding out more about the Catholic Faith?

If so, sessions are held every Sunday beginning on September 13 at 9:30 AM.
