The Ambo...

The word ambo derives from the Greek verb anabainein (“to go up”) and was the name given to the elevated platform from which the scriptures were proclaimed in the large churches of the early Middle Ages. In smaller churches of the time, the priest and lector stood at the altar rail; only the bishop stood at the chair (the cathedra) for proclaiming and preaching. A later development saw elaborate, elevated pulpits attached to church pillars for better visibility and audibility. The liturgical reforms of the Second Vatican Council (1962 – 1965) called for the location of the ambo to be a natural focal point for the assembly during the liturgy of the word.

The ambo is a place for the act of proclamation. By its form and appearance it honors Christ present in the word, and hence evokes reverence and attentiveness when the word is sung or spoken from it. Here is the place for the proclamation of the scripture readings, the leading of the singing of psalms, for preaching God’s word and perhaps for leading prayers of intercession. All other announcements and speeches are to be made elsewhere.

The ambo should be beautifully designed and carefully proportioned to suit its function – not as a shrine for the lectionary, but as a cradle for the word that embodies the story of our salvation, the mystery of the word made flesh among us.

The ambo at Saint Peter Church was added with the 2003 renovations. It clearly matches the altar and is crafted from the same material, Indiana limestone and black onyx marble. This shows the close connection liturgically between the liturgy of the word and the liturgy of the Eucharist.

The Chair...

The ancient Latin word cathedra, used to designate the chair of a high-ranking civic official, was adopted by the early Christian church to refer to the cathedra or chair of the bishop. It was from the cathedra that the bishop presided at the liturgy and preached on the scriptures. The cathedra is the bishop’s chair and the place he presides over official diocesan functions. The Cathedral takes its name from that chair and thus is the building that housed the bishop’s chair.

Other chairs (sedilia) for attending priests and deacons were placed to the side. Later developments of church architecture saw the cathedra of the bishop elevated on a podium, and more throne-like in design. As parishes developed in the fourth century, a less ornate chair was used in the local church by the priest. The presider’s or presidential chair soon became superfluous as the priest stood at the altar for most of the liturgical action.

The liturgical reform of the Second Vatican Council sought to recover the function of the chair of the presider. The materials and design of the chair should identify it as part of the particular place of worship. Its style should speak of the ministry of presiding, not of remoteness or prestige. Since we now have a fuller understanding of Christ’s presence in the assembly of all the faithful, the presider’s chair cannot signify privilege, but rather a sense of leadership in prayer, as well as the dignity and service that are inherent in Christian ministry.

From this chair, the presider calls the people of God to prayer, joins them in attentiveness to the word, keeps with them moments of silence, leads them in petitions of forgiveness, invites them to profess their faith, lifts up their intercessions for every need and send them forth with God’s blessing. And although rarely done by anyone other than a bishop, the rubrics allow preaching from the chair, too.

The present presider’s chair at St. Peter Church was added during the 2003 renovations to coordinate with the updated décor and style of those renovations. Our chair is crafted to match the light oak wood of our church and the upholstery is in keeping with the color and style of the existing chairs in the sanctuary. It is located on the right side of our sanctuary as one looks directly at the altar from the nave of the church.

October is doing its magic on us this year with its brilliant colors on our trees and warm sunny days and cool nights and bright blue skies. If there is one month one would miss if you lived outside of Missouri it would be October. Enjoy it, folks, and I’ll see you in church or on livestream.

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY 2020 THE SOCIETY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE FAITH OCTOBER 18, 2020

This weekend is World Mission Sunday. We are called through our Baptism to be part of the Church's missionary efforts, through prayer, self-sacrifice, and support of the Mission Church through material aid.

PRAY for the Church's worldwide missionary work.

OFFER financial HELP and CHARITY through the collection by using the Society for the Propagation of the Faith envelope found in your weekly contribution packet. This collection helps vulnerable communities throughout Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands.

LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

In the time of Jesus, a Roman coin bore the image of Caesar and it was precisely this coin that was returned to the emperor in the form of tax. What bears God's image? Scripture tells us that human beings are made in the likeness and image of God. In truth, however, all of creation, even the entire universe, is fashioned in the image of God! Everything radiates Divine Presence and the spark and essence of God's very life exists in all things. God breathes the life of Himself into all things. If we have to give back to civil authorities what speaks to them, then what do we give back to God? While the answer is simple, the implications are profound. We are asked to give back to God our very selves! Ultimately, all creation is in the process of returning to God and is on a journey of finding its final truth and essence in Him. As we continue that journey, all we have, all we are, all we see, and all we are responsible for must be offered back to Him. God is the beginning and the end of all things. Do our lives reflect this Divine allegiance?

WORSHIP & MEDITATION

FIRST READING:

I am the LORD, there is no other,
there is no God besides me.
It is I who arm you, though you know me not.
(Is 45:1, 5)

PSALM:

Give the Lord glory and honor. (Ps 96)

SECOND READING:

For our gospel did not come to you in word alone, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with much conviction. (1 Thes 1:1-5b)

GOSPEL:

At that Jesus said to them,
"Then repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God." (Mt 22:21b)

GOSPEL MEDITATION

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Nobody enjoys paying taxes. Despite our displeasure in being forced to do so, we also realize that the monies generated from taxes allows governments to provide essential services for its people. Corruption really gets our goat, however. When we witness malfeasance, overspending, irresponsibility, and dishonesty in governmental spending, the grave injustices make an already unpleasant and arduous task even more difficult. The inappropriate distribution and use of hard-earned monies can leave a person quite angry and disconnected. It's bad enough the government wants something from me, now God does, too?

God is not concerned necessarily with our money, although its proper use does factor into our faith life. As the payment of secular taxes speaks of our allegiance to the government, our return to God speaks of our allegiance to God. All of creation, even the entire universe, is fashioned in the image and likeness of God. What speaks to God and has meaning and relevance to him? All of creation and indeed our very selves! God delights in us and when we present ourselves back to him, he delights even more! As the payment of secular taxes is designed to secure the equitable distribution of goods and services to all people, so is our return of ourselves to God in gratitude meant to advance God's kingdom here on earth.

When our exclusive and sincere allegiance is given to God, God can use us to set things right and straight again. The wounds of sin distort our relationship and disorder our world. By giving ourselves and all of creation back to God in gratitude, we acknowledge the proper Creator and Author of life for who He is and devote our labors exclusively to God's kingdom and the justice, peace, or order God envisions. In giving back to God all that belongs to God, we set the axis of our lives correctly and put our priorities in proper order. All of our relationships, especially with God, our brothers and sisters, and all of creation are perceived more clearly as they really are. Using, accumulating, wasting, exploiting, hoarding, and self-preservation are no longer necessary.
