Did you know?

Why does the priest wear a stole during Confessions or a blessing?

If you remember from a few weeks ago, we talked about the different vestments that priests wear. The stole (pictured here) is one of the most distinctly priestly vestments. When a priest wears his stole, he is indicating that he is acting in a priestly role, whether that be for confessions, a blessing, or Mass. He specifically wears the stole during Confessions as an outward sign to show his priestly role as the mediator between God and the penitent (and not just some random person listening in on your sins!). Extra fun fact: the stole worn for confessions is always purple, since purple is the color of penance. For blessings, priests are encouraged to wear a stole for a more formal blessing (renewal of marriage or baptismal vows, blessing with holy water, etc.); however, they are not required to wear a stole for blessings over objects or individual people.

In our weekly "Did you know?" section, we'll try to explain "mysteries of the Mass" and other parts of the Catholic faith. If you have a question you'd like to submit, please email emily.dibiase@sjtemahopac.org.

Gospel Today

Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time | Luke 18:9-14

Jesus reminds us we must be like the tax collector in the parable - humbly admitting our sins and asking for forgiveness. Again we hear Jesus say, "For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled and the one who humbles himself will be exalted."
