Jeremiah 23:1-6. Psalm 23:1-3, 3-4, 5, 6. Ephesians 2:13-18. Mark 6:30-34.

Hard Work Requires Rest. After all the traveling light last week to do ministry, Jesus tries to take the apostles away for some rest. But the people see them go, discover where they are headed, and get there first. Oh, my! So, Jesus ministers to them by teaching many things. After we work hard at mercy works, sometimes we can rest. Sometimes not.

- ◆ How can I find some rest from work in the quiet place of prayer?
- ◆ How can my restful prayer strengthen me to do more?
- ◆ What will I do next?

Divine Mercy Minutes

from the Diary of St. Faustina

"I know that I am under Your special gaze, O Lord, I do not examine with fear Your plans regarding me; my task is to accept everything from Your hand. I do not fear anything, although the storm is raging, and frightful bolts strike all around me, and I then feel quite alone. Yet, my heard senses You, and my trust grows, and I see all Your omnipotence which upholds me." (Diary, 761)

From our Pastor's Desk

Father Alfred Tumwesigye

Brothers and sisters in faith, grace and peace to you. In the year 2000, in the month of April, I traveled about 7 hours by bus from Mbarara (Uganda) to Kigali (Rwanda) to visit a seminarian friend Mupenzi Alfred, who had grown up in a refugee camp in Uganda, and now after the Rwandan War (1990 to 1994), his family had returned to Rwanda. Rwanda, officially the Republic of Rwanda, is a landlocked country in the Great Rift Valley, where the African Great Lakes region and East Africa converge. Located a few degrees south of the Equator, Rwanda is bordered by Uganda, Tanzania, Burundi, and the Democratic Republic of the Congo. Rwanda, known for its breathtaking scenery, often referred to as the land of a thousand hills, has the best scenic sites as you travel by road that coils through the foot of a thousand hills.

My visit to this beautiful country, was just six years after Rwandan Genocide in 1994. There was so much reconstruction going on and the people who had suffered great devastation were still pulling each other up and trying to make sense of what the country had gone through. In the villages I visited, you could see dilapidated buildings, and the remnants of the war, who were like sheep without a shepherd. The survivors I talked to narrated how they scrambled in all directions to save their lives during the war. They were lucky they made it, as many perished during the Ninety days of Genocide. Many families were dispersed like sheep without a shepherd. Now the returnees and remnants had a task to rebuild the country. During the two weeks of my visit, my heart was filled with pity as I listened. In a mysterious way, I was reliving the compassion of Christ for the miserable crowd that pursued him.

If you have watched the gripping movie, "Hotel Rwanda", based on the Rwandan genocide, which occurred during the spring of 1994, you have a slight understanding of what I am saying. The film documents Rusesabagina's efforts to save the lives of his family and more than 1,000 other refugees by providing them with shelter in the besieged Hôtel des Mille Collines. In this movie, the chaotic scenes and the footage of the atrocious genocide brought about by the Hutus against the Tutsis evoke the biblical scenarios of "the sheep without a shepherd". If you watch the movie, you cannot help but be moved to pity. The message that is portrayed in the movie, is about the benevolent and kind-hearted Paul Rusesabagina, the hero of the "Hotel Rwanda", who played the part of a true "shepherd" sent by God on behalf of the troubled and miserable people of Rwanda.

In every generation and every country, we have had the shepherds who mislead and scatter the flock of the Lord. They kill the sheep, mislead the remnants, scatter, and drive the sheep away. That is why we still have people who are not cared for in some families, institutions, and more especially those in refugee centers are traumatized and scared even to return to their homelands. The Lord wants to care, to gather, bring back, increase, and multiply the remnants of his flock. He says: "I will gather the remnant of my flock and appoint shepherd for them." (Jeremiah 23:1-6)

This Word of God offers us a good background for the Gospel episode regarding Jesus' care and concern for "the sheep without a shepherd". In our society today, there are chaotic situations, like those during the time of Jeremiah that we read about in the first reading today, or what the Lord Jesus is confronting in the Gospel this weekend. Jesus is faced with a crowd of people who hunger for the bread of the Word. His reaction upon seeing the multitude pursuing the Good Shepherd is that: "His heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them with many things" (Mark 6:34).

My dear sisters and brothers, as Christians, we have a tremendous responsibility to promote unity within us and to bring healing to our wounded society and our deeply afflicted world. God calls us to incarnate in our lives the pastoral mission of Jesus. Our loving God the Father entrusts us with the ministry to shepherd his flock and to "restore all things in Christ", by the power of the Holy Spirit. Let us pray for the grace to learn and do like our Good Shepherd did. Let us pray that we may be the true shepherds according to Jesus' own heart. Let us pray that the end to the false shepherds (those rulers) who are responsible for the scattering of the people in exile would be conversion, so that they can quickly turn to provide hope for those exiled children of God on this beautiful planet. May we all be like the benevolent and kind-hearted Paul Rusesabagina, the hero of the "Hotel Rwanda" even if it means putting our own lives at stake, as we nourish the brethren of God's entire flock with "the bread of truth".

Together with Christ's Mission,

Fr. Alfred Tumwesigye

Prayers for our Clergy

The following are priests of our Diocese who are celebrating birthdays in July- July 15- Fr. Robert Spriggs & Fr. Benjamin Unachukwu, OMF July 22- Fr. Seth Brown & Msgr. Michael Kuse July 24- Fr. Robert Barko, OFM July 31- Fr. Donald Blaaser, OFM

One of the things that I'm enjoying getting "used to" as a newly-ordained deacon is being able to bless persons or objects in the name of the Church. Bishops, priests, and deacons are able to offer such blessings of varying types and degrees. "The more a blessing concerns ecclesial and sacramental life, the more is its administration reserved to the ordained ministry." (Catechism, par. 1669) A couple of weeks ago when Father Alfred asked my third-oldest son Joseph what he enjoyed the most about now having his dad also be a deacon, Joseph's response was: "Now he can make holy water for us at home!" Joseph has been waiting years for that to be the case. Thanks be to God!

Blessings are called "sacramentals" because they prepare us to receive the grace of the sacraments and help us to grow to be more like Christ. They consist of prayer, Scripture, and sometimes a special ritual sign (Catechism, par. 1668-1670).

There are many blessings that the church offers for various moments and things in life. Those at Sunday Vespers a few weeks ago were able to see me bless some of my new liturgical vestments. Father Iggy blessed our vehicles at the church the Sunday of the Memorial Day weekend, and I blessed our family van AND the family (Blessing of Travelers) before we left on our family vacation road trip last week.

There are beautiful blessings for families and members of families, of an engaged couple, for expectant parents, for parents and/or a mother before childbirth, for parents after a miscarriage, for parents of an adopted child, on the occasion of a birthday, and of elderly people confined to their homes. There are also blessings for the sick, those suffering addiction, victims of crime or oppression. There are blessings for students and teachers, and for pilgrims or travelers.

There is a blessing for a new building site (we had our pastor at the time bless our lot before we started building our new home, and we also followed the tradition of burying blessed St. Benedict medals in the corners of the lot and embedding them in the corners of the foundation). There are also blessings for a home, for an office, shop, or factory, for a gym or field for athletics.

My boys love that there is a blessing for boats and fishing gear, for tools or other equipment for work, for animals, for fields and flocks, for seeds at planting time, for thanksgiving, for athletic events, for a library. There's even a blessing for bacon! There are also blessings for all kinds of objects and moments within the liturgical life of the church, and for objects used in private prayer and devotion.

The wellspring of grace offered with God's blessing through the ministry of the church is deep, and priests and deacons appreciate the opportunity to be gracious in extending it. If you have the need for a blessing, please call Father Alfred or me. It is a great honor and privilege to be able to share blessings with you in special moments and for special things in life.

Other blessings can be prayed by anyone who has been baptized, "in virtue of the universal priesthood, a dignity they possess because of their baptism and confirmation" (Book of Blessings, no. 18). You can find a good assortment of these contained in the book Catholic Household Blessings and Prayers. The blessings given by laypersons are exercised because of their special office, such as parents on behalf of their children.

"Like the Lord into whom they have been baptized, parents should bless and pray for their children. Each one of us should remember the sick and those who suffer. Each time we gather around the family table, we should bless God and the food he has given us. On special occasions, we will observe the traditions of the season, sanctifying by prayer and blessing all the seasons of grace that God has given to us." (USCCB)

Yours in Christ the Servant, Deacon Michael

NEW PARISH COMMUNITY 10% TITHE - Starting July 1, the Diocese is replacing the Annual Catholic Services Appeal goal (ACSA) with the Parish Community Tithe or PCT. The PCT reduces the previous ACSA calculation of 11.5% to the Biblical standard of 10% and provides greater transparency among parishes in the Diocese. There will be no goal. On a monthly basis, 10% of parish revenue will be sent directly to the Diocese.

The Church did not create the concept of tithing. Tithing is God's own idea and God's concept of giving. The first reference comes from the book of Genesis, where Abram returned victorious from battle. After receiving a blessing from Melchizedek, "Abram gave him a tenth of everything" (Genesis 14:20). While we should give freely without expecting anything in return, Scripture does contain God's written guarantee of rewards for those who tithe, as we read in the Book of Malachi: "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Put me to the test, says the Lord of hosts, and see if I do not open the floodgates of heaven for you, and pour down upon you blessing without measure!" (Malachi 3:10).

We ask you to prayerfully consider increasing your weekly contributions by the amount you would have donated to our Annual Catholic Services Appeal, and maybe even a little more, since we will be tithed 10% on any additional contribution.

If you have not been giving, please consider using your monthly envelopes, or sign up for online giving through Give Central. Consider tithing but give what you can. If you are not receiving monthly envelopes, and would like to start, or if you would like more information on how to sign up for on-line giving thru Give Central, please contact the Parish office.

Thank you for your generous stewardship! May God continue to bless you and St. Elizabeth Parish.
