

The JEFFERSON CHORAL SOCIETY will present an oratorio, Jesus, Son of Our Father, by Virginia composer Aaron Garber in collaboration with librettist Richard Bansemer at the Academy Center of the Arts on Sunday, April 30 at the Academy Center of the Arts at 4pm.

The production features baritone soloist Phillip Bouknight in the role of Jesus and tenor Jeff Prillaman (and two Holy Cross members). The oratorio is based on the Gospel of St. John and tells the story of the events leading up to the crucifixion and ends with the plaintively gut-wrenching injunction of Jesus to follow HIM.

Accompaniment will be provided by a 33-piece orchestra. This will be the Lynchburg premier performance.

Tickets start at $20. To purchase tickets contact 434-846-8499 or visit academycenter.org
