Part II – Relaxing in Clairemont

Want to grab some refreshments or a bite to eat in Clairemont and bring your furry friend with you? There are lots of options from which to choose in and around the Clairemont area. Here are some places to explore.

Coronado Brewing Company

Here in San Diego, craft beer is very popular. Luckily for us, a huge majority of breweries are dog-friendly. One that is always a great time is Coronado Brewery Tasting Room on Knoxville in Bay Park. There are always dogs hanging out with their owners and the brewery provides plenty of water bowls for their furry guests. The brewery is also kid-friendly and has a variety of food trucks every night of the week. So, next time you are looking for a casual establishment for some human-dog bonding time, head over to Bay Park and try the ever-friendly Coronado Brewery Tasting Room.

The pet-friendly patio at IsaBella

In the mood for pizza? Try IsaBella Artisan Pizzeria & Craft Beer Garden in Bay Ho. The bistro has a pet-friendly patio with lots of water bowls. They also have dog treats at the ready. Located just off Morena Boulevard, this is a fun outing for you and your dog.

Want to travel a little more toward the beach? Try The Patio on Lamont. With a covered patio, it is a rustic-chic urban oasis. This place is so dog-friendly that the drinks are named after dogs AND you can get half off those beverages if you've brought along your furry friend. You can't beat that! And, the food is delicious to boot!

Wherever you choose to hang out with your dog, remember that even dog-friendly places may have some guests who don't care to socialize with your dog. So, keep your dog on a leash and under control. Similarly, take care when introducing your dog to other dog friends. When dogs are leashed, they sometimes feel over-protective, which can lead to slightly aggressive tendencies. Finally, if your dog will be out and about, make sure you have all vaccinations current and top-notch parasite control so that your furry friends are fully protected.
