

Learn to Homebrew Day Video, American Homebrewers Association, 2015

[intro music]

>> Kyle Hollingsworth, Homebrewer/Musician/Cool Guy: Hey there, this is Kyle Hollingsworth of the String Cheese Incident.

[stands up and walks forward playing Ukulele]

>> Kyle: You know, I'm also an avid homebrewer. So I wanted to tell you about a great event that's happening this November called "Learn to Homebrew Day."

[Exchanges Ukulele with brewing paddle]

>> Kyle: You know, when I'm not on the road hanging out with Hotdog Guy, I like to brew beer in my backyard. Make tasty brews for friends.

[hands back brewing paddle]

[gives high-five]

[grabs container of hops]

>> Kyle: The AHA partners with lots of locations all around the country to host this event. Thank you Rasta Man.

[laughter]

[grabs pint of beer]

>> Kyle: So whether you've been brewing for two weeks or two years, join us this November for "Learn to Homebrew Day" and remember, just relax and have a homebrew.

[Kyle keyboard solo]
