

Day 5

Transmission: 31:32

Music: Daniel Schotsborg. - Elements Air

We continue to expand the matrix to connect into the creation grids of Light. The Divine Mother frequencies - along with many councils of Light - are present, lending support and guidance for you during this process.

Within the holographic structures of this system, there are thousands (probably millions) of grid structures which hold the knowledge of ...well, everything! We begin the process of preparing your energetic matrix to connect into these grids to retrieve the wisdom and knowledge stored or held within. To provide an example, one of the most well-known of these grid structures is the writer's grid. This grid system holds all writings - past, present and future.

We are preparing your nervous system and neural pathways to connect into and interpret this knowledge. Allow yourself to stay in the innocence and excitement of the endless possibilities for you in this reality. Much like deciding which classes you wish to take, or being a kid in a candy store, your heart's desire and your soul's purpose guide you to the appropriate knowledge and wisdom. We are just building the groundwork to enable this connection at an entirely new level.

Feel the excitement, surrender to the sensations in your body, and dream of the endless possibilities to explore. Allow the music to assist you as you follow your imagination back into your original heart's desire in this lifetime.

Breathe and know that You Are Light!
