

Day 12

Transmission: 32:12

Music - Daniel Schotsborg - Holo Moods - Full Moon Ceremony

The reconnection of your pineal gland and your heart chakra is rewired to facilitate a much deeper communication link within your physical vehicle. You may experience a feeling as if the back of your heart and your crown chakra are completely open.

Your system is loaded with Light codes and information to assist you with moving into a much deeper understanding of the nature of this reality and the construction of this hologram we reside within.

Allow your higher self to show you, in whichever way is most natural to you, what is necessary to move you into a state of alignment, peace and joy.

Much is communicated during this transmission, via sound and Light: the true building blocks of this experience. Allow your body and consciousness to receive all that is available with ease and grace.
