

Day 4

Transmission: 33:11

Music – Daniel Schotsborg - Neurosonic Calibrator Level 2

With the assistance of the Architects of the Divine Vehicle, new mathematical formulations and codes are re-introduced to your templates of Light. These equations are the instructions for your pineal to upshift its functionality and interpret the Light frequencies more effectively.

These formulas are part of the original design of the human blueprint. Once your system has integrated the formulas, the process continues, translating into the binary code sequences which can be “read” by the RNA/DNA of your cells.

Much is being stimulated within your pituitary and hypothalamus glands. This is to upshift the interface of these glands with your nervous and endocrine systems. This is a very physical process and your body may/will react in unique ways. The stimulation is to help balance these systems and upgrade them into new levels of operation. This may result in temporary mood swings or body temperature fluctuations. Please make sure you are doing the “Daily Infusions of Light”, specifically designed to help balance and upgrade all of your organs and glands into their multi-dimensional functionality. (Link previously provided.)

Expand your perception of how beautifully your body is integrating all of these changes! Allow your reality to express this process with joy and grace; your body reacting with pure bliss. The hormone centers can excrete blissful frequencies. I’ve been told in the original blueprint that childbirth was intended to be orgasmic. The body is meant to be a place to reside that is blissful and full of Light. I vote for embracing that!

Remember to take exceptional care of your body during this process.

Raquel

www.raquelspencer.com